Russ said building 1st aircraft carrier

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Admiral Elmo R. Zumwalt Jr., chief of Naval operations, has told Congress he believes the Soviet Union is building its first aircraft carrier—a move that would enable the Russians to project military might far from their shores for the first time in history.

Zumwalt, in testimony to a House Foreign Affairs subcommittee, said the Soviets "are in the process of constructing the largest ship ever built in the (Nikolayev) docks, a ship which looks and feels like an aircraft carrier."

The United States Navy considers its 16 aircraft carriers to be its capital or principal warships. The carrier, expensive to build and operate, is a rarity in the world's navies and the United States owns two thirds of the world's total. Only six other countries have any—Britain and France each have two and Australia, India, Argentina and Brazil have one each.

Despite attempts by both the Czarist and Communist regimes to make the Russian Navy an imposing force, it remained until the last decade little more than a glorified coastguard.

In the past few years, however, the Soviet Navy has emerged as a major force. But it has lacked aircraft carriers

British may kill livestock

LONDON (UPI)—Agricultural spokesmen said Saturday that farmers throughout Britain would be forced to carry out a mass slaughter of livestock and poultry unless the nationwide dock strike ends within five days.

Thousands of tons of feed for livestock and chickens were blocked in Britain's ports, paralyzed by a dock strike now in its 15th day.

Unless relief comes within five days, spokesmen said, at least 10 million chickens will have to be gassed and buried. A similar fate awaits large numbers of pigs, they said.

Food shortages also threatened the human population on Britain's offshore islands. An emergency airlift averted hardship on Shetland and Orkney, but other remote islands said their food supplies would be exhausted within four days.

As the danger signals sprouted huge shipments of produce rotted in the harbors and a Jamaican freighter set to sea to dump $375,000 worth of putrid bananas.

Despite the crisis, prices on British mainland food shelves remained fairly stable although foreign fruits, vegetables, meat and other perishables were rapidly disappearing.

Jerome, Gooding papers reported sold to Utahns

JEROME—Two Northside community newspapers reportedly have been sold to a large Utah-based firm.

Sources close to the transaction said Saturday that the Jerome North Side News and the Gooding County Leader were sold this week to Glasmann Enterprises of Salt Lake City.

The amount of sale was reported in the neighborhood of $200,000.

Mrs. Alfred Hagen, Gooding, co-owner of the Leader, would neither deny nor confirm the reports when contacted Saturday.

She referred questions to Gordon Glasmann, Twin Falls, affiliated with the Utah firm.

But Glasmann said in Twin Falls Saturday "I have no idea what you are talking about. As far as I know we have not purchased any newspapers."

The two newspapers are owned by MPM Publications, involving co-owners Alan Mencher and Blake Patterson, both Jerome, and Mr. and Mrs. Al Hagen, Gooding.

Both papers are published weekly. The Northside News has a weekly paid circulation of 2,650 copies, and the Leader, 2,600 copies.

The Utah firm was the former owner of KMYT-TV in Twin Falls and reportedly holds extensive television and newspaper properties.

Envoys agree Nixon muffed peace offer

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The top American negotiators at the Paris peace talks under President Lyndon B. Johnson Saturday defended Democratic vice presidential nominee Sargent Shriver's contention that President Nixon "blew" a chance for successful negotiations early in his administration.

Former Ambassador Averill Harriman and his deputy in Paris, Cyrus Vance, said in a statement that late in 1968 North Vietnam "had signaled its willingness to reduce the level of violence by withdrawing almost 90 per cent of its troops—22 of 25 regiments—from the northern two provinces of South Vietnam which had been the area of fierce fighting. Half of them returned over 200 miles into North Vietnam."

The two former negotiators said, "We support completely Sargent Shriver's view that President Nixon lost an opportunity for a negotiated settlement in Vietnam when he took office."

Shriver said on Thursday, "When Averill Harriman and Cy Vance were there in the summer of 1968, they felt peace was within their grasp then. Certainly Nixon had peace in his lap."

The statement Saturday by Harriman and Vance, said, "The United States was then (in early 1969) in a far better bargaining position since it had over 500,000 men in South Vietnam," the statement said.

"Their statement was in response to charges by Secretary of State Rogers made at a news conference Friday that Shriver's statement was 'political fantasy' and 'bunk.'"

Rogers said Friday he had conferred with Harriman's successor in Paris, Henry Cabot Lodge, and other U.S. negotiators, as well as checking Shriver's own correspondence from the French capital, and found no evidence that Shriver believed at the time that Nixon had an "historic opportunity" to end the war.

In a further statement on Saturday, the State Department said it "has taken note of the statements by Mr. Harriman and Mr. Vance and finds no record of any such so-called signal."

Mr. Harriman reportedly says it came in October or November of 1968. This raises the question as to why no action was taken on the so-called signal for the next three months before the present administration took office. It also raises the question as to what the so-called signal

Elderly woman raped, stabbed in Rupert home

By PEGGY CHU
Times-News writer

RUPERT — A Burley teenager was arrested Friday for an alleged knife attack and forcible rape of a Rupert widow in her 60's.

The suspect, Joseph Arturo Ybarra, 18, will make his first court appearance in the case Monday before Minidoka Magistrate Leroy Blacker.

The attack allegedly occurred between 3 and 5 a.m. Wednesday inside the victim's home.

According to prosecutor Don Chisholm, the woman awoke to find a man standing beside her bed with a knife. Chisholm said the man had broken into the house.

A neighbor responded to the elderly woman's cries for help, called the Rupert police. By the time police arrived, the suspect had fled the scene.

Ybarra was arrested in Burley by Rupert policeman Paul Fries, following a two-day investigation, Chisholm said.

The victim was taken to Minidoka Memorial hospital for treatment of knife wounds, where she is listed in good condition late Saturday.

Chisholm said news of the attack was withheld until the suspect was arrested late Friday.

Chisholm refused to say how the suspect was connected with the attack. He said such information could prejudice the suspect's defense.

The victim's name and age was withheld, Chisholm said she was in her 60s.

Ybarra was being held in the Rupert City Jail, Rupert Police said.

Extremist hired FBI 'assassin'

NEW YORK (UPI)—Secret Service agents and city police conducted a two-pronged investigation Saturday into the life of an "extreme rightist" charged with paying an undercover agent $1,000 to kill President Nixon.

Andrew B. Topping was arrested Friday and held on $500,000 bail on charges he plotted an assassination plot against Nixon.

A spokesman for the New York City police department said police were having difficulty probing the circumstances around the reported July 6 suicide of Topping's wife Abigail, 24.

"His Topping's believing that his family was in danger from mysterious forces is making things kind of difficult," said a department spokesman.

He said that the Secret Service was investigating the attempt on Nixon's life, while the police department was checking Topping's background and investigating Mrs. Topping's suicide. She shot herself in the head two days returning from the hospital after the birth of her son.

A spokesman for the Secret Service in Washington said, "I can't reveal any of the details of the case, but you can imagine we'll be looking into his background."

Topping was arrested after the death of his wife for not having permits for four handguns and a rifle. He was released in his own recognizance. A charge of possessing a loaded revolver is still pending.

Topping, 27, of New York was described as an "extreme rightist and pro-war" by police investigating Mrs. Topping's death. He was arrested Friday in Central Park after he allegedly paid $1,000 to the undercover agent to kill Nixon.

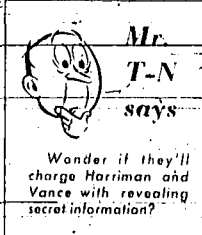

Federal officials said an acquaintance of Topping's tipped off government agents that Topping was looking for someone to kill the President. A meeting was arranged in the park for Topping to meet a Secret Service agent posing as an assassin. Topping was arrested immediately after he gave the agent $1,000 as a downpayment to kill Nixon next week.

Idaho 'grunt' may be last wounded in Viet War

DA NANG, VIETNAM (UPI)—"I could have done without it."

McVicker stepped on a boobytrap in the jungle southwest of here Wednesday night, just two days before his unit the 3rd Battalion, 21st Infantry—was deactivated. It was the only U.S. ground battalion still in the field.

Bandages encase both McVicker's legs where jagged shrapnel caused multiple wounds. And pads are held across both eyes by a rubber band that stretches around his head. A piece of metal hit above his left eye, and he must undergo an operation to have it removed.

There is a question about his sight. He will be flown next week from the U.S. 95th Evacuation Hospital here to Okinawa for further treatment.

Saturday, some buddies from his "Delta" Company platoon visited him. They joked, pushed each other around in wheel chairs, and bought cold drinks for McVicker and the other guys in his ward.

Someone asked how he felt about being the last "grunt"—slang for infantryman—to be wounded in Vietnam.

"I could have done without it," he said. "But I will be all right. I have always been proud to be a grunt. We had a mission to do and we did it. I don't particularly care to be the last 'grunt' wounded, but someone had to be."

His platoon was preparing a night defensive position when he tripped the hidden boobytrap, McVicker said.

"Remember the dirt and the metal coming up all around me. It must have blown me five feet in the air," he said. "I was conscious all the time and afraid I would land on another mine when I came down."

McVicker remembered being stunned and the outfit's medic, Spec. 4 Brian Charron of Des Moines, Iowa, working on him.

"I told myself, 'Jim, keep your head. You'll be all right. The medic did a great job. He's a great guy and the best medic in the company."

Even though it was after dark, a rescue helicopter quickly flew to the platoon's position to take McVicker back to the hospital.

"When I heard the medevac bird in the air, I knew that I was going to be O.K., that I wasn't going anywhere but home," he said. "It will take time and a lot of will power, but I've got plenty of both. My wounds will heal."

McVicker had worked in northern California's Lassen State Park before going into the Army for a tour in Germany and then serving 11 months in Vietnam. He had planned to become a policeman with the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department when he was discharged.

Politicians trade wage-price charges

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Republicans and Democrats traded charges Saturday on the success of the year-old wage and price controls. President Nixon called it an "impressive" performance while Sen. George S. McGovern's campaign staff said the administration had fumbled its own economic game plan.

Tuesday marks the anniversary of the nation's first experiment with wage-price controls in peacetime and the two major candidates for the White House issued analyses to mark the occasion.

Declo 4-H's meet

DECLO The Happy Spoonfuls 4-H Club held its meeting Thursday at home of the leader Mrs. Iris Warren and discussed coming events for the fair.

The business meeting was conducted by Jerri Keicher, vice president. The dates for practicing demonstrations, judging and modeling were discussed for the coming Cassia County Fair.

Mrs. Connie Eatough gave a talk on "What I Expect of a Babysitter." Mrs. Warren gave a demonstration on how to make a pie crust. Cindy Warren gave a demonstration on pressing. Refreshments were served.

No one argued that the economy is in much better shape than on Aug. 15, 1971, when Nixon clamped on his comprehensive domestic and international economic reforms. The debate instead was over how much of the success was due to the controls and whether they have been fair to business and worker alike.

In an introduction to the mid-year report of his council of economic advisers (CEA), Nixon said the record of the controls had been "impressive" and added: "The American people can congratulate themselves on their performance in the past year and are increasingly enjoying the tangible benefits of what they and their government have done together."

In a published rebuttal, McGovern's staff conceded the administration could take credit for a "mini-recovery" as long as it takes the blame for the major recession which it had previously engineered.

It compared the present state of the economy with a man who finds a lost wallet with the money gone but the identification still intact. "At least he got his driver's license back. But he would rather not have lost it in the first place."

The Democratic presidential contender's statement said the administration had pursued a deliberate policy of unemployment in an effort to lick inflation. It said the Price Commission had been overgenerous in granting price increases to big business and that the consumers would soon feel the effects of rising wholesale food prices. CEA Chairman Herbert Stein admitted that retail food prices are likely to climb higher for the rest of the summer but that the overall trend of prices would be sharply down by the end of the year.

However, in a briefing for financial reporters Thursday, for publication Saturday night, Stein said this should not detract from the successful aspects of the controls. Inflation and unemployment are down from a year ago and more Americans are working than ever before, he said.

Moreover, "there has been no massive confrontation with labor; there has been no wave of great strikes, no widespread violation of the rules. There has been general acceptance of the system."

In answer to a question, Stein said it was "extremely unlikely" that the controls would be abolished before Nov. 7 (election day). He added later "there is no decision about either the time or the manner in which the controls will end."

Handicap didn't hurt camp

TWIN FALLS — Summer camp may be more than just an excuse to get the children out of the house for a week.

For four Magic Valley youngsters, camp was a chance to build morale, meet new people, and find physical therapy in camp activities. Karen Clark, Twin Falls; Doug Jacobsen, Shoshone; Pelene Pooler, Bellevue; and Leanne Whitesides, Burley, returned Friday night from 10 days at Camp Easter Seal on Lake Coeur d'Alene. The camp is for children suffering from muscular dystrophy, polio, cerebral palsy, deafness and blindness.

J. D. Bowlin, 16, and Dawn Skinner, 17, Twin Falls, accompanied the four youngsters. About 80 children, mainly from Idaho and Washington attended the camp.

Activities included arts and crafts, canoeing, paddle boating, lunches on pontoon boats, sports tournaments, and for some children a special overnight canoe trip.

Miss Skinner said that each child participates to the best of his ability. "It's just great," she said. "It really helps the kids. When they get home they're already planning for next year."

This year the program included a dance. "That was fantastic. It went right off," the young attendant commented.

Russians battle peat fire

MOSCOW (UPI)—An army of 16,500 Russian soldiers, firemen and civilians battled stubborn peat fires raging within 30 miles of Moscow Saturday. A milky blanket of smoke reduced visibility in the Soviet capital to 500 yards.

Firefighters used everything from helicopters to street-sprayers to combat the fires, started by spontaneous combustion about three weeks ago, which have scorched thousands of acres in a crescent 30 to 60 miles east of Moscow.

There were no reports of human injury or the extent of property damage, but the newspaper Moscow Pravda called the fires a "calamity."

Tens of thousands of women, children and old men in the fire zone were being moved from their homes to community centers, hospitals and tent cities.

Thick, white smoke enveloped Moscow for the sixth straight day. Visibility was reduced to about 500 yards during the morning, but increased slightly later.

City officials said the smoke presents no hazard to health, but extreme precautions were in effect.

Trucks were barred from entering the city and cars which emitted excessive exhaust fumes were ordered off the streets.

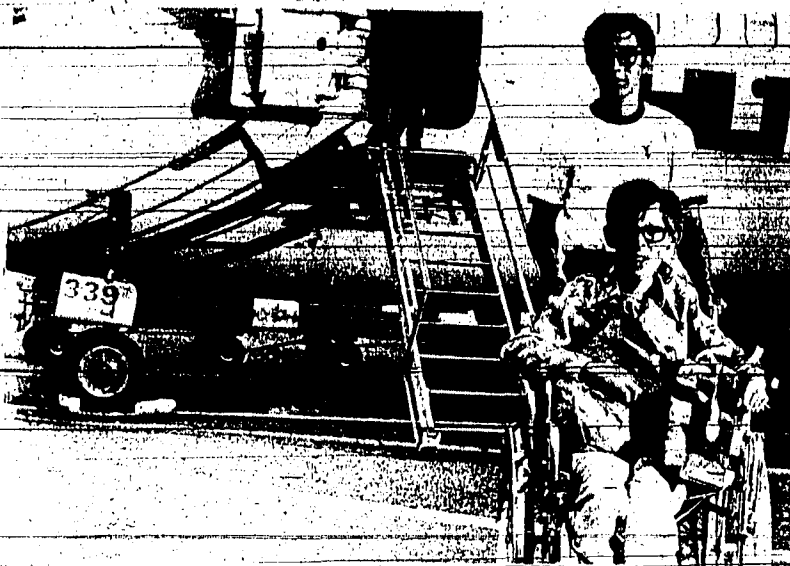

GOP bid to delay suit fails

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Republicans have lost a court battle to postpone until after the November election the Democrats' politically sensitive lawsuit against President Nixon's campaign committee.

The ruling by U.S. District Court Judge Charles R. Richey Friday clears the way for further investigation of the break-in and alleged bugging attempt of the Democratic National Headquarters.

Five men were arrested by police inside the headquarters June 17. The suspects, later discovered to have links to the Nixon campaign committee, were carrying electronic surveillance devices, police said. A special grand jury has been investigating the incident for weeks and is expected to hand down some indictments.

Richey's ruling means that attorney Edward Bennett Williams, who represents the Democrats in the $1-million suit, can now take depositions in search of new clues.

Back home

DOUGLAS JACOBSEN, 14, son of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Jacobsen, Shoshone, and his attendant, J. D. Bowlin, 16, returned Friday night from 10 days at Camp Easter Seal on Lake Coeur d'Alene.

Sun spews X-rays at Earth

BOULDER, Colo. (UPI)—The Earth was bombarded by radio-interfering x-rays Friday when hot gases burst from the sun's edge at the end of a 10-day period of unusual solar activity.

Friday's solar flare was predicted to be the last in the current series, according to Ralph Segman of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) in Boulder.

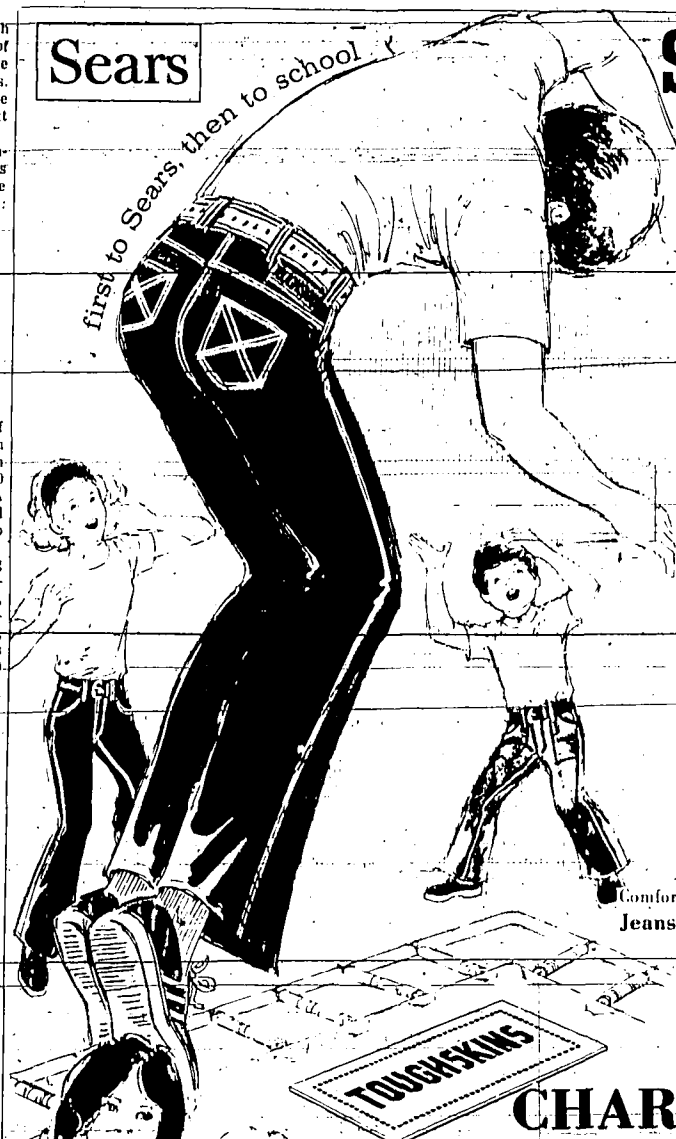

Scientists have been puzzled over the series of solar flares, some of the largest ever recorded, because the sun is supposed to be in a near-dormant segment of its 11-year solar cycle.

The latest flare was of moderate size, Segman said, and if "any geomagnetic storms occur (on Earth), their intensity will be low."

The x-rays hindered short-wave radio communications for about 45 minutes Friday, he said.

Fair Circuit

One of the best utilized political circuits in Idaho is the chain of county fairs.

From now on until the last fair of the season comes around, the major candidates from both parties — and a lot of minor candidates too — will be making the rounds. They will stand at or near the main gate in order to pass out campaign literature, they will circulate among the crowd up and down the midway and they will make every attempt to enter the rodeo or exhibition grounds in the parade. The more adventuresome will make it on horseback.

At this point we are not sure whether James McClure, William E. Davis, Orval Hansen and Willis Ludlow will be riding or walking but they will be there.

Speaking of fair circuits, there is the interesting story coming out of the Twin Falls County Fair a few years back. George Hansen, then running against Senator Church, was scheduled to ride a horse in the opening rodeo parade. In came the horse and Mr. Hansen was apparently on it. The horseman waved to the crowd and everyone clapped and whistled. The Times-News photographer took a picture of the event and it was in the paper the following day. The caption identified the rider as Mr. Hansen.

There was only one mistake. The rider was actually George's brother — and they did look a lot alike.

This cannot happen in the current campaign because Ludlow, Orval Hansen, McClure or Davis have no reasonable facsimiles.

Endless Trials

Something is drastically wrong when 42,000 persons can bring a nation of 35 million to its knees, as the dock workers in Britain have done.

For the fourth time in two years the government has had to proclaim a national emergency as a result of strikes in vital industries. Once before it was the dock workers, another time the electric workers and the fourth occasion was a coal miner walkout. As an island nation, Britain is more dependent for its survival on shipping than are most. The latest waterfront shutdown has caused mammoth losses in spoiled food and caused serious disruptions and shortages.

It resulted from the militant demands of one union, which include the right to force wage demands and featherbedding practices. Among the latter is the demand that cargo in containers be unloaded and reloaded.

For this, the food and fuel supplies of a nation are threatened.

Environment

The fight for a clean environment thus far is summarized as little more than a standoff in the third annual report of the Council on Environmental Quality. The council found air quality nationwide had improved between 1969 and 1970, but it found the nation's water supplies to be dirtier.

Enormity of the water problem only became apparent this year, said Russel E. Train, council chairman, who noted pollutants from agriculture and construction project runoffs were greater than expected.

"Land runoff," commented the three-member council, "from farms and even urban land, as opposed to discharges from cities and factories, has a much greater impact than we realized. In all types of river basins, the concentration of nutrients is increasing."

In the drive for cleaner air, the council found two significant improvements: Emissions of carbon monoxide declined 4.5 per cent and the volume of particulates dropped 7.4 per cent. Smokestack controls were credited with much of the improvement.

MR. SPECTATOR

Price Is Right?

You hear a lot about the rise in the price of meat. Well, Mr. Spectator just sort of figured that a good place to find out just what it was all about was from someone connected with the Idaho Cattlemen's Association.

Right off Morris Carlson, the former cattlemen-former county commissioner, came to mind. Could he get to the bottom of the thing? He could — and did. Result? We have a few figures you just might possibly be interested in.

For instance, in 1951 an hour's labor would buy 1.7 pounds of beef. In 1971 one hour's labor bought 3.3 pounds of beef.

In 1951 the average wage earner spent 23 per cent of his take-home pay for food. In 1971 he spent 16.3 per cent. This is the lowest percentage of disposable income spent for food any place in the world at any time in history. In Europe today it is 25 to 35 per cent and in Russia it's 50 per cent. In Latin America it goes as high as 80 per cent.

During 1951 to 1971 the price of all food rose 44 per cent and the price of beef 20 per cent. During that same period cost of medical care rose 128 per cent, the average national wage went up 136 per cent and transportation went up 64 per cent.

When a shopper spends $1 on ground beef, she spends 47 cents on labor to get the meat from the farm to the supermarket. At least 30 people are involved in the meat's trip to the table and each person rightly expects compensation in return for his contribution to the finished product.

At a meeting, a survey of women attending to protect "deceptive packaging" revealed the following: 15 per cent tinted their hair, 38 per cent wore wigs, 80 per cent wore rouge, 98 per cent wore lipstick, 25 per cent wore eyeshadow, 22 per cent wore false eyelashes, 93 per cent wore nail polish and 100 per cent voted in favor of resolution condemning any kind of false packaging.

Report: After The Melodrama

WASHINGTON — The politically lethal relationship between Sen. George McGovern and his campaign staff was pointed up in a candid remark to McGovern by Sen. Edmund S. Muskie at Muskie's home in suburban Bethesda, Md. McGovern had just offered Muskie the Vice Presidential nomination. In the frank conversation that followed, Muskie noted a certain hostility toward him by McGovern's staff that would have to be resolved before he could go on the ticket.

The exchange at Muskie's home, furthermore, fits neatly into the two-week melodrama from which McGovern has just emerged. It suggests that McGovern, far more a loner than generally realized, has still not seized control of the unguided missile that is his campaign staff. Even if the fumbling search for a Vice President is completely forgotten, that fact may well plague McGovern's uphill struggle against Richard M. Nixon.

By July 31, when he forced Sen. Thomas Eagleton off the ticket, McGovern was disenchanted with his high-powered, independent-minded staff. He avoided them studiously, turning instead to the wise old pals of the Senate. Their advice: unite the party, preferably with Sen. Hubert Humphrey or, as second choice, Muskie.

On the Senate floor McGovern approached Muskie for the first time since shaking hands on the national convention rostrum July 13. McGovern's message: I'm swamped with things to do right now, but I'm not going to make a decision on Vice President without consulting you.

McGovern said not another word to Muskie. As we have reported, McGovern was then wooing Humphrey, and that critical period passed without communication between McGovern and Muskie.

McGovern's staffers, cut off from their candidate, could not believe he was really serious about Humphrey. But they regarded Muskie with deadly seriousness and deep animosity. To McGovernites, Muskie's refusal to endorse McGovern after his June 6 California primary victory had guaranteed more than two months of unrelieved tribulation.

Reflecting staff attitudes, McGovern fund-raiser Miles Rubin told leftist campaign contributors Aug. 1: Don't worry, it won't be Muskie. Other top-level staffers — Frank Mankiewicz, chief fund-raiser Henry Kimmelman, Frederick G. Dutton — were beating the drums for R. Sargent Shriver instead of Muskie.

When McGovern finally made his offer to Muskie, McGovern was understandably less than enthusiastic. Besides worrying about McGovern staffers, Muskie sought clearance for a wholly independent campaign for Vice President — and, to his surprise, got it.

While Muskie was making up his mind, there came a strange telephone call from Mankiewicz. Mankiewicz had been ambivalent. Muskie staffers viewed him as particularly hostile for peddling anti-Muskie tidbits to the press all year. But during the Eagleton crisis, Mankiewicz privately commented that Muskie was the obvious catalyst to unify the party — spotlessly clean, very nearly neutral.

Yet, Mankiewicz's call seemed calculated to offend Ed Muskie. Mankiewicz served up two cold red hearings — charges that Muskie had helped pollute a Maine stream with a sugar-beet mill and that duck-hunter Muskie once violated state game laws. Both are widely known and widely disregarded by the Washington press. Yet Mankiewicz asked Muskie if he had anything to add to the known facts. Did McGovern know of this call? "Probably," Mankiewicz told us later.

Friends are certain the negative decision by Muskie and his wife was influenced by such visible McGovern staff hostility. In fact, Shriver may bring more to the ticket than Humphrey or Muskie. But the way the deed was done suggests McGovern still has not become master of his own campaign.

GEORGE C. THOSTESON, M.D.

On Feeling

Dear Dr. Thosteson: When a person goes to the doctor for a physical examination, and the doctor does all this feeling, pushing and kneading around on the abdomen, just what can he feel, determine or diagnose?

A. B. Maybe he won't discover anything except that you are healthy.

However, looking at and palpating the belly can give a good many useful clues. First, is it flat, round, distended, or bulging at the sides?

Gently touching the surface can reveal spasm or rigidity which occurs as a defensive guard if there is infection within.

Poking in the upper right side may reveal an enlarged liver or tenderness from a cranky gall bladder. In the upper left the spleen is not ordinarily felt — but if it is, it indicates enlargement which could result from liver or blood disorders.

Masses representing tumors may be felt in any quadrant of the abdomen, but usually are in the lower or mid sections.

Appendicitis produces tenderness in the lower right corner. The doctor may press firmly, then raise his hand quickly, as this procedure can elicit "rebound" tenderness found with an infected organ, such as appendix or Fallopian tube.

All sorts of abdominal disorders — ulcers, infected tubes, fibroids, ovarian tumors and a lot of others — will usually reveal themselves with some sort of a clue, after which, of course, more specific tests may then be employed to make certain.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I hope you can help my grandson with a bed-wetting problem. He is 9 and very sensitive about it. We have had him to the doctor who prescribed some pills which he explained were more to make him think he was being helped.

My grandson is so upset and so in fear that some of his friends will hear of it. I get him up in the night and this helps, but he doesn't even remember. I'll do anything to help him, but please do not use my name as some neighbor might suspect — Mrs. A. B.

Okay, I won't even use your real initials, much less your name.

I'm glad you've had a doctor examine the little fellow to protect against the chance that some physical problem is causing the bed-wetting. Occasionally that's the case, although usually it is a matter of psychology and habit and self-confidence.

Reason he doesn't remember when you get him up at night is that he is so sound asleep.

The Gay Crowd

WASHINGTON — Most leaders of the "street delegates" — Yippies, Zippies, welfare groups, the gay crowd — promise Miami Beach authorities no violence at the Republican convention scene a few weeks hence. They think trouble would work in favor of President Nixon.

But so, probably, would plain nuttiness, and this the street types plan plenty of. Recent inquiries suggest that, among some blue collar workers and others Sen. George McGovern badly needs in his vote column, he gets blamed for everything goofy that happens.

If these findings are indicative, then the outside groups may be working from a massive misconception. They feel they caused the "downfall of the Democrats" with their stirrings at Chicago in 1968, and can do the same for Nixon this time.

Miami Beach Mayor Chuck Hall and his police authorities insist, however, the Chicago-style rough stuff is not planned. Hall told me in a telephone interview antiwar Vietnam veterans and others advise him almost daily of their intent to police their own ranks and keep things cool. They say they will deal summarily with any elements bent on violence.

A Miami Beach police official read me a Yippie pledge, evidently given voluntarily, vowing opposition to mass violence as a "tactic" on the ground — it would "only reactivate the law and order issue" and by that fact help Nixon.

The Yippie statement went on to say that Miami Beach would be a bad place to make trouble. For one thing, "old people would be hurt."

It is further noted that the Zippies — a Yippie faction — "can't bear the heat and cost of mass arrest situation." What that means is that some already are in difficulty with the law. With such assurances in hand, Miami Beach officials are cautiously optimistic about the GOP convention. A check at Republican national committee headquarters revealed the same.

"We are not unduly concerned," says one committee officer. "If the forecast has any soft spots, they center on one black nationalist faction and the Students for a Democratic Society. The official word for them is "dangerous," but authorities nevertheless say they can contain any sort of unexpected unpleasantness.

Yet, as suggested, goofiness alone may hurt McGovern. Voters who don't like long-haired, pot-smoking, free-sexing youths often seem these days to assign them all to the Democratic nominee.

That being so, the Yippie-Zipple schedule for the GOP convention, as submitted to police, can hardly cheer Democrats.

On Aug. 20, the eve of the convention, the program calls for "Dishonor America Day," with flags to be burned, a "welfare Cadillac" (whatever that is) to be burned, eggs to be tossed at a giant photograph of Martha Raye, actress famed for entertaining troops.

Sen. George McGovern's campaign theme will urge "change." President Nixon will urge "togetherness."

May the better product win. Sen. McGovern's sense of history tells him that now is a time of accelerated evolution.

That voters are fed up with the system — and he intends to lead them — November revolution.

President Nixon sees our nation fragmented by social friction and will seek to draw the fragments together.

Thus the President promises Catholics school aid and takes Philadelphia's Cardinal Krol for a moonlight cruise on the Potomac — while leading evangelists in prayer and taking Billy Graham for a moonlight cruise on the Potomac.

President Nixon assures Jews that Israel will never fall to the Arabs while he is President. He defers to the South in opposing school busing, appoints conservatives to the Supreme Court, women to federal agencies — and puts in an government positions of prominence Americans with Spanish surnames.

Historically, at least since F.D.R. — it's been Democrats who have supported themselves with building blocks of ethnic voters. Now Republican Nixon warns up the melting pot while new era Democrats consider it hypocritical politicking, resent it.

Sen. McGovern appears to be enlisting for himself what Mr. Agnew labeled "the silent majority."

On the contrary, I recall no administration ever voted out of office during a period of prosperity.

To the zippies and the zippies and to some involuntarily unemployed or underemployed this may not appear to be a period of prosperity. But to a record-smashing total of 80.6 million Americans now working it is.

There is a discontent among Americans but analyst Richard Scammon says much of the discontent is among middle-class Americans fed up with such burdens as busing and crime as President Nixon is.

It's more likely that the threatened Northern worker and resentful Southern Democrats will identify with Mr. Nixon. Those are all he needs.

But the campaign will be worthwhile for us all. I am not one who thinks judgmental — yes, at 18, but some of the things today's young people are upright about we all should be; external involvements and home front hypocrisy.

They're not going to wait for some still small voice to nudge our conscience; this, year they're going to do it with a loudspeaker mounted on a

ABRAHAM LINCOLN
(First Administration: March 4, 1861-March 3, 1865; Second Administration: March 4, 1865-April 15, 1865)

Abraham Lincoln, breaking new political ground as the first Republican President, parlayed a deep-seated, inferiority complex, a fearful ambivalence about God, a manic-depressive neurosis and uncanny political intuition into a rampant nationalism that enabled him to become the most powerful of American Presidents and America the most powerful of nations.

Born in Kentucky to parents he described as "undistinguished" and with less than a year of formal schooling to his credit, tall and lanky, Honest Abe had ambled awkwardly along the twisting road to the White House as an underprivileged child, an itinerant farmer, a poorly paid clerk, a terrified suitor, a devoted husband and father, a moderately successful lawyer, a mediocre congressman, a transfused anti-slavery zealot and a minority President so indecisive at first that he was derided by leading politicians and newspapers.

The Lincoln Administration is "cowardly, mean and vicious," the New York Herald wrote, "and it is all the fault of the incompetent, ignorant and desperate 'Honest Abe.'" Emboldened by such comments from the press, Secretary of State William Seward handed to the President a curious document that, in effect, told Lincoln that he, Seward, was better qualified to be President than Lincoln was.

Whatever was done, Seward concluded, "the President must do it himself, and be all the while active in it, or devote it to some member of the Cabinet."

There are times in the lives of great men and women when the surge of vital energy ceases in a "peak experience" that gives intense purpose and direction to existence. Abraham Lincoln's elan vital crested now. His reply to Seward was restrained, relevant, and the heart of it was this: "I remark that if this must be done, I must do it."

And he did it. Although melancholy, repeatedly descended upon him like a shroud, Lincoln fought patiently and resolutely for his and the nation's unity. He fought with humor and with humor, with prayer and with blood, with an ageless wisdom and a new-found presidential power.

He told his endless jokes because "laughing kept him from crying." The White House became Army headquarters as the harassed President planned strategy and mapped campaigns. And he changed commanding generals like some men change their socks, replacing McClellan with Pope, Pope with McClellan, McClellan with Burnside, Burnside with Hooker, Hooker with Meade and Meade with Grant.

Throughout it all Lincoln had two overriding aims: to defeat Gen. Robert E. Lee's Army of Northern Virginia, and to issue the Emancipation Proclamation. But Union victories were so elusive that Lincoln finally concluded that it was because Lee was praying to the same God he was, and that God's purpose was different from either of theirs.

Nevertheless, the Battle of Antietam on Sept. 17, 1862, came close enough to a Union victory to justify Lincoln's purpose. He at once issued a preliminary edict and Jan. 1, 1863, he issued the formal proclamation.

As he so often did, President Lincoln spoke with unsurpassing eloquence in asking Congress to make the proclamation an amendment to the Constitution. "In giving freedom to the slave, we assure freedom to the free," he said. "We shall nobly save, or meanly lose, the last best hope of earth."

In his acceptance speech when nominated by the Illinois Republicans in 1860 to run for the U. S. Senate against Democrat Stephen Douglas, Lincoln had caught the popular fancy with his famous "A house divided against itself cannot stand" speech. Now the phrase-maker was the chief decisionmaker in a "house" divided as never before or since.

The harried President kept his perspective, and probably his sanity, by drawing on his lifelong sense of humor as both an emotional safety valve and a presidential tool. For instance, he had a pigeonhole in his desk stuffed with what he called his "leg cases." These were soldiers sentenced to death for "cowardice in the face of the enemy." Lincoln pardoned most of them with this tongue-in-cheek rationalization: "If God gives a man a cowardly pair of legs, how can he help them running away with him?"

Three times Abraham Lincoln's brief and troubled political career hovered on the brink of oblivion, and three times the complex interaction of personal ambition and political circumstance created a backlash that swept him "on to fortune."

The first of these crises occurred in May, 1860, when gubernatorial candidates Andrew Curtin of Pennsylvania and Henry Lane of Indiana decided to throw their powerful support to the little-known Lincoln instead of the eminent Republican leader Sen. William H. Seward of New York. Because Seward had become associated in the public mind with the idea that the threatened civil war was an "irrepressible conflict," Curtin and Lane felt they could not win their races with Seward heading the ticket.

In the general election the Democrats split into a Northern group headed by Stephen Douglas and a Southern faction led by the brilliant Kentuckian John Breckinridge. Sectional polarization was further complicated when a third party of political malcontents, led by John Bell of Tennessee, entered the contest.

I'm not going to be an 'will call' for the prisoners.

Gov. Marvin Mandel of Maryland, announcing after mediating two prison disturbances that he will no longer play that role.

The seething currents churned up by this sociopolitical maelstrom carried Lincoln to the White House with 39 per cent of the popular vote, the second lowest margin ever recorded by a winning presidential candidate.

A minority President of a riven nation in which seven white stars had disappeared from the blue field of the flag and four more were rapidly fading, Lincoln quickly discovered, as had President Buchanan before him, that he had no Army worthy of the name. Canally acting before Congress convened, Lincoln issued a call for 75,000 militia on April 15, three days after Confederate forces fired on Fort Sumter.

From then until Gen. Grant and Lee agreed to a war-ending truce at Appomattox, Va., exactly four years later, Abraham Lincoln had one all-consuming goal: to preserve the Union at all costs. To this end he arbitrarily, often unconstitutionally, exercised more raw power than any other American President. Without either presidential precedent or legislative authority, he called up 40 regiments of U. S. troops, spent unauthorized funds, closed the Post Office to "treasonable correspondence," suspended the privilege of habeas corpus and, by proclamation, freed the slaves in states over which he presumably had no de jure authority since the states had formally severed their membership in the Union.

Lincoln's rationale regarding his de facto authority over the seceded states bears a close similarity to that used by other Presidents — Guatemala in 1954, Cuba in 1962, the Dominican Republic in 1965 — and it is almost identical to the reason given by Soviet Communist Party General Secretary Leonid Brezhnev in justifying Russia's invasion of Czechoslovakia in 1968.

"No state upon its own mere notion can lawfully get out of the Union," Lincoln had said in his first inaugural address. And five score and seven years later, article one of the "Brezhnev doctrine of limited sovereignty" stated: "A nation member of a regional or ideological community can never withdraw itself from that community's jurisdiction."

The summer of 1864 was Abraham Lincoln's "summer of discontent." A war-sickened people had been jolted recently again and again by the murdering matches at the Wilderness, Spotsylvania Court House and Cold Harbor. Confederate forces fought to within "cannon shot" of Washington before being driven back. Inflation, profiteering and desertion were rife, and the President was forced to call up more recruits.

In his famous debates with Stephen Douglas in 1858, Lincoln had said, "A house divided against itself cannot stand." Now another election year was before him, opposition to his Administration was growing in breadth and bitterness, and the house was divided as never before or since.

Although he had been unanimously renominated by the Republicans on the first ballot, so certain of defeat was Lincoln that he wrote and sealed a resolution to "co-operate with the President-elect as to save the Union between the election and the inauguration."

Then Union armies won stunning victories in Georgia and Virginia, and the electorate

Editor, Times-News:
I read the article in the Times News of August 2nd about "Welfare women at Burley adopt survival statement." I am writing direct to those individuals in hope that I can get some meaningful answers direct from the source.

First of all, you talk about surviving. What do you mean by survive? Is it a matter of actually preserving your physical lives from death by starvation, or do you really mean to preserve your standard of living? I cannot imagine anyone in our agricultural area of Idaho starving to death. In my town I see many overweight, slovenly dressed, dirty, unkempt persons standing in line for food stamps who complain that they don't get enough money to live as well as everyone else.

Next, we have the statement that many in the community think of welfare recipients as 2nd-class citizens. Why should you be offended because of the truth? How can a person who does no work, produces no services or goods, pay no taxes, does nothing to improve or build up the community, consumes food, uses utilities, takes up living space, in a squalid manner, breeds more children who are only added to the welfare rolls, and lives off the work of others be anything but a 2nd-class citizen?

It isn't right that anyone be physically or verbally abused. On the other hand, it is not right that others be forced by law to pay taxes to support idle, worthless persons who do nothing.

If some people are hostile and unable to conceal it, perhaps it is because they resent being robbed by the government to support professional welfare which they see as a national disgrace and a destroyer of human dignity.

Personally, I resent the fact that welfare is not a temporary help in aiding people through a crisis, but a permanent way of life supported by government agencies whose sole purpose is to enlarge it and make it appear respectable. I realize there are always those who are deserving of welfare; those who are incompetent, handicapped or victims of accidents and disasters. A great many others should have temporary help only. Women, especially, who think they and their children should be supported because they can't stand to live with their husbands or because their husbands are too lazy to work are the biggest offenders.

In my small community, I can name several women (divorces) who are on welfare and food stamps. Their children are unkempt, mannerless and allowed to run loose without supervision. They do not work, but they buy the best and most expensive foods, have their hair done regularly, support a tobacco habit, and frequent the local bars most every night.

They are all last class citizens and I highly resent having to support them. There are several other divorcees who could "qualify" for welfare, but they prefer to work and make do. Their children are clean and well cared for and it's amazing what good manners they have. These women are respectable and are first class citizens who are welcome anywhere.

In closing, could I get an answer to the following questions:

1. Why must I be required to provide you with food, shelter and clothes?
2. Why must I pay full price on all goods and services and provide subsidies for you?
3. Why must I pay taxes, tuition and medical bills to support and use hospitals and schools while you use them free?
4. Why is it okay for me to work and pay taxes, but it is degrading for you to be expected to work for your hand-out? Government agencies say this.
5. Why is it that you have rights and I only have responsibilities?

I would truly like to know the answers, because I really don't understand. Your organization should be a regular God-send to all of us who are so ignorant and uninformed.

Particular Incident

Editor, Times-News:
During the past week I have been following the news rather carefully. One particular incident that I noted was that Senator John Peavey has been accused of playing politics with the Department of Agriculture budget. As a farmer I was interested in getting some of the facts for myself and letting the people know what I found out. The last Legislature did increase the appropriation for fiscal year 1973 from $389,644 over the amount appropriated, including supplemental appropriations, for the Department of Agriculture in Idaho in fiscal 1972.

This is an increase of 10.12 per cent above the amount appropriated for fiscal 1972. However, the $389,644 was to cover the cost of the Weed Control Program, an expanded program for regulating sprayers and dusters, enforcement of the Retail Potato Grade Labeling Law and an expanded Meat Inspection Program here in Idaho.

According to figures that I received from the Department of Agriculture in Boise, the Legislature approved program expenditures totaling $4,335,260. AND GET THIS, available funds for fiscal year 1973 total only $4,283,175. So you see in order to compensate for this the Department of Agriculture was forced to reduce General Fund expenditures $12,085 below the level authorized by the Legislature to be in compliance with Idaho law which prohibits the State from going into debt.

From the research I am able to compile it does appear that the Department of Agriculture in Idaho was not adequately funded by the last Legislature. It also seems to me that the Legislature authorized expenditures of $12,085 more than they appropriated. Is this good management?

From the information that I have received to this point it does appear that politics was played with the Department of Agriculture budget as was charged last week by Democratic State Senatorial candidate W.F. "Bill" Whitton.

We all owe Mr. Whitton a vote of thanks for keeping us informed because after all agriculture is the basis for our economy in this area.

Disturbing

Editor, Times-News:
Your editorial cartoon of the 4th of August was very disturbing to me.

There are many small corporate family farms in Idaho that are not "fat" off the land because of the corporate farm subsidies. Quite to the contrary, we would be better off if the government would stay completely out of our business. Incorporating a farm is a very expeditious method of handling problems of estate planning and taxation. You have done an injustice to many of Magic Valley's hard-working farmers and ranchers.

Naturally I am pleased with the results of the recent primary as it concerns my race for Sheriff of Twin Falls County. I thank all those who voted. Regardless of who they supported it was important that so many voted. Members of my

Note Of Praise

Editor, Times-News:
I must commend Kelly Kilian, radio announcer for a local program, for his level headedness and his evasive actions taken recently during his public service program in question.

This type of abuse by the public has happened on numerous occasions. I would not blame the radio station for removing the program from the air. Since radio stations are under strict control by the FCC they cannot afford to allow public stupidity of that nature to go on without loss of patrons and the station license to operate on.

Truly it is a shame that "kids" have nothing better to do than to show to everyone just how childish they can be, and at the same time remove the use of a public service program. The program is extended by the radio station as a service to all those who are adult enough to understand and use it wisely.

This is supposed to be a free country with right given by the Constitution to express one's own views — better known as freedom of speech. The guilty parties know who they are. While they are having their own type of "fun" they are imposing on the freedom and rights of countless others among the listeners of the radio station.

Since other portions of their programming are by pre-recording, I would offer the suggestion to pre-record the program so that it remains on the air and not remove this very worthwhile service to others.

A Question

Editor, Times-News:
What does a person do when there is water standing in his basement? Water from a clear water seepage drain the Canal Co. laid several years ago.

The water has been in this basement six weeks. The Canal Co. refuses any responsibility. The City Water Department also refuses any responsibility. The city manager says excavate to find the cause but the waterline is not located on the property that is being flooded. What the city water department says has always been known to be correct — as the city sees it.

How long can a house stand (a home) with water in the basement? It is unsanitary, it is fast becoming unfit to live in, but it is my home. Where can you go? What can you do? Who can you see to get help with this?

RIFLE, Colo. (UPI)—Nature proved to be stronger than New York artist Christo Javacheff's dream Friday as gusty winds destroyed his huge pumpkin-colored curtain draped across Rifle Gap in western Colorado.

As the 250,000 square-foot ripped curtain flapped in the 30 to 40 MPH winds, its torn edges slapped the sides of the quarter-mile wide valley hurling boulders onto the highway below.

Drivers were herded through the curtain at intervals by the Colorado State Patrol when the winds hit a lull.

Javacheff and his co-workers decided to dismantle the entire curtain as soon as the winds would permit it.

The destruction of the curtain shattered Javacheff's effort to drape the gap. He tried last year, but the winds did him in. The project thus far has cost him $700,000.

The curtain was a majestic site when it was dropped Thursday. Even disgruntled Rifle area residents thought it was rather unique—the Eighth Wonder of the World they called it. Cars drove through a 20-foot cutout in the center of the curtain.

The curtain was Javacheff's most expensive and ambitious undertaking. He's been draping and wrapping things since 1959—from a portion of the Australian coastline to five nude women in a banquet hall.

Lioness claws child

LAGUNA NIGUEL, Calif. (UPI)—Two-year-old Michelle Whitlock wanted to get a closer look at the "big kitty" Friday so she rolled down the window of her parents' car touring Lion Country Safari and stuck her head out.

An eight-month-old lioness reached inside and took a swipe at the girl, inflicting "extensive multiple lacerations."

The girl's father, Paul, jumped out of the car to chase the lioness off but other lions began converging on the vehicle and armed rangers surrounded the car with their leops.

A park spokesman said the attack was the first such incident in the five-year history of the preserve, made famous last year by the antics of Frasier, the aging lion who fathered dozens of cubs.

GEORGE ROMNEY wants to quit

Romney to quit cabinet

WASHINGTON (UPI)—George Romney, secretary of Housing and Urban Development, says he wants to quit President Nixon's cabinet to devote himself "in a private capacity to public problems."

There was speculation that Romney, a Mormon, might be under consideration for a post in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints.

Romney would not spell out details of his planned departure or give any hint of what the nongovernment job would be.

Romney, 65, former chief executive of American Motors Corp., served three terms as governor of Michigan and ran against Nixon for the Republican presidential nomination in 1968. He became HUD secretary Jan. 22, 1969.

Born in a Mormon colony in Chihuahua, Mexico, Romney came with his parents, American citizens, to the United States while still a child.

HOG WILD OVER COW MANURE: Home gardeners are buying up cow manure as if it were going out of style.

In many cities they are paying more for cow manure than they are for cow's milk. For example, the going price in the Harleburg (Pa.) area for dried cow manure in five pound bags is 19.8 cents a pound, or 3.8 cents more per pound than fresh, wholesome milk in area supermarkets.

What's so special about dried cow manure? Fresh cow manure has about $2.50 worth of nitrogen, phosphorus and potash nutrients. An equal value should be placed on its other attributes of micro-nutrients, energy for organisms, value as mulch, soil organic matter, source of carbon dioxide, vitamins, hormones, etc.

Many people put manure on their lawns (that is the plants) others use it in the flower bed, porch and window boxes, and it works fine.

If you live near a farmer and can get manure by the ton, it would be a reasonable price if he charged you $20 a ton for aged stuff, reasonably dry — delivered to your home in ton or smaller size sales.

When you check garden centers you'll find that manure costs over $60 a ton, and in small package rates it goes for over $200 per ton. When you consider the price of peat moss, peat, leaf humus, bark and compost manure at $20 per ton it is still a good buy with a lot more goodies for plants to boot.

Many dairy farmers who learn that cow manure sells for more than cow milk will be wondering if they haven't been selling the wrong product. Meanwhile, don't hesitate to use any organic material for your home garden.

Compost is your cheapest source of humus so build up your own compost pile. If you have access to sheep, cow or horse manure use the stuff, even if you have to pay for it.

KILLING HOUSE FLIES: We'll always have house flies with us. Probably the best control method lies in spraying with pyrethrins (comes in aerosol cans). High powered pesticides work for a while, but flies multiply so fast they soon develop an immunity.

Many homeowners still use "fly stickers" with great success. Be thankful that flies are no worse than they are. If progeny from a single pair of flies mated in April, lived, there would be a total of 191,010,000,000,000,000 flies by August if you figure one-eighth of a cubic inch per fly, this number would cover the earth 47 feet deep.

DRIED FLOWERS: Now's a good time to be picking flowers, seeds, seed pods and other plant parts for use in dried arrangements. Sometime ago the Missouri Botanical Garden drew up a list of items featuring "winter's pleasant ornaments" and here are a few of many listed: (H) stands for hanging them and U stands for drying upright).

Baby's breath (Gypsophila), pink or white (H); bachelor buttons or cornflower (H); Gelseum or cockscomb (H) globe amaranth (H); grasses (ornamental) H; honesty or money plant (H); larkspur (white, pink, blue, lavender) (H) or (U); salvia or mealy sage, (H) for straight stem, (U) for curved stems.

Strawflower, pink, rose salmon, white. Pick flowers before they open (H). Sunflower, golden yellow, six inches across (H).

Artemisia (silvery king) feathery, gray spikes (H) or (U). Chinese lantern (H). Goldenrod, pick in bud stage. Opens into bloom when drying. If picked when the bloom is too far gone it is apt to shatter (U).

Milkweed. Dry the spikes with the pods on, remove all leaves, open pods and remove the silky seeds. The open pods will dry a pale yellow inside, if exposed. Queen Anne's lace or wild carrot. Cut in bloom, and also some of the green flower buds (U).

There are scores of others for you to experiment with. Take a trip to the woods or fields and meadows, and gather whatever is available.

INSIDE OF A COMPOST PILE: If you knew what went on inside of a compost pile you'd be amazed! A marble-sized piece of compost may at times contain as many as a trillion micro-organisms. Composting begins with the millions of these organisms on the materials used in building the pile.

Their life processes produce heat as a by-product, enough heat in the center of the pile to burn your hand, according to reports from the Connecticut Extension Station. These heat-loving microbes are replaced by bacteria and fungi that like cooler temperatures, and at this stage the compost is ready for use.

Start a compost today if you don't have one, and put those billions of tiny micro-organisms to work for you.

ICE FOR INSECT BITES: A reader tells us there's nothing better than ice for insect stings and mosquito bites. We hope others will send us more tips so homeowners can benefit from them.

QUESTION BOX
QUESTION OF THE WEEK: S.E. of Burley. In June of 1963, I planted a flowering plum (Prunus pissardii) on my front lawn. It produced purple leaves and showy flowers.

However, in 15 feet in all directions from the base of the tree are small trees sprouting. We keep them mowed and they still pop up in all directions. What are those young trees from, and will they take over the purple-leaved tree?

The cherry plum, Prunus pissardii, also called P. pissardii, is a budded tree. The understock is really vigorous and sends up those sprouts from the roots and point where the bud was made. These green-leaved shoots must be cut off from the trunks and removed from the root system as soon as they appear.

If you don't, you'll have a flock of wild, green-leaved sprouts taking over the entire ornamental tree. This happens with many budded plants, including the flowering crabapples, dwarf and standard fruits, and dozens of others.

The flowering cherry plum or P. pissardii which you have is one of the best small trees you can plant. It has showy flowers, some single, some double. Single-flowered cherry plum produces small, purplish-red plums, not enough of them for an ornamental effect, but those which do develop are edible. All purple-leaved trees develop their best leaf color in full sun.

G.H. of Twin Falls: "Something is eating the leaves of my eggplants, peppers, celery, petunias, and they even crawl into our porch boxes to get the flowers there. I can never find the pest yet I know they are there. What can be done?"

Take a flashlight and go out at night. You'll find the culprit is either snails, or a grayish-green caterpillar similar to cutworms. These cutworms have a terrific appetite and can ruin petunias, tomatoes, peppers, marigolds and other crops.

Control: Handpick them and destroy. You can also spray ornamental crops with Sevin or malathion. These two pesticides are good for any leaf chewing insect, and they are relatively safe. Sevin is bad for bees.

Year book plan starts

TWIN FALLS. — The Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce is beginning its high school annual book plan for 1972-73. The plan protects the merchant member of the chamber from solicitation by all valley high schools for advertising in year books. This is with the exception of Twin Falls High School and the College of Southern Idaho.

It provided for the schools a cooperation of Twin Falls merchants in supporting the year books. It also eliminates time-consuming solicitation of each firm by each school. The cost of participation is based on the number of employees at each firm. All checks from the member merchants must be sent to the chamber by Aug. 30.

Nixon orders red tape cut to help Agnes flood victims

THURMONT, Md. (UPI) — President Nixon, responding to complaints of federal foot-dragging, assigned Deputy Budget Director Frank Carlucci Saturday to take on the spot charge of government aid for victims of Tropical Storm Agnes in eastern Pennsylvania.

Nixon summoned Carlucci to his Camp David mountain retreat to direct him to "cut through red tape and get the job done," White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler told newsmen.

Carlucci was to go personally to Wilkes-Barre, his home town, to coordinate all federal relief assistance.

The situation came to a head when Housing Secretary George Romney got into an open shouting match with Pennsylvania Gov. Milton Shapp and 25 Wilkes-Barre residents over the effectiveness of the government efforts. Romney said Friday Nixon should return to the area to see the situation himself.

Ziegler said Nixon's action was "in line with Secretary Romney's recommendations for further coordination of activities." Carlucci will set up an office in a trailer and will be in touch with state officials, Ziegler added.

"The President is convinced following the report of Romney that all federal efforts should be pulled together," Ziegler said. He said the administration had substantially liberalized loans to aid the flood refugees and added that Carlucci "will have responsibility to pull all efforts together."

"Our objective is to do everything we can to get the job done," the press secretary said.

Nixon sent Romney to Pennsylvania after congressmen were swamped with complaints from flood area residents blaming red tape for the fact that 30,000 people are still homeless six weeks after the storm hit the eastern seaboard.

Nixon is spending the weekend at Camp David going over an analysis of the $30.6 billion

Labor and Health, Education and Welfare appropriation bill, passed over his objections this week.

There is a strong possibility that Nixon may veto the measure because it is $1.6 billion over the budget figure he recommended.

In urging Congress several days ago to enact a $250 billion federal spending ceiling, Nixon said he would veto any appropriation bills which swelled his budget beyond that amount.

Chessman eyes big 'offers'

REYKJAVIK (UPI)—Bobby Fischer's New York lawyer flew into Iceland Saturday to discuss a couple of "enormous financial offers" he said he had received for the U. S. chess

"When you are hot, you're hot—and a couple of enormous offers have come in which we'll have to decide on immediately," said attorney Paul Marshall as he arrived to confer with Fischer. The U.S. challenger was relaxing on his sabbath after running up a three-point lead over Russian Boris Spassky in their world championship chess match.

Marshall would not disclose the exact nature of the offers but said, "One of them is from the movie world, another from a major television industry. The money is so big that it dwarfs what Bobby will take from winning the world title."

The total prize money in the current world championship match is $250,000 with the winner getting five-eighths.

With his win in the 13th game Friday, the 29-year-old Fischer took an 8-5 lead, needing only 4.5 more points to lift the title from Spassky.

The 14th game is scheduled for 5 p.m. (1 p.m. EDT) Sunday with Fischer playing white and making the opening move.

Fischer remained sequestered throughout the day in his fourth-floor presidential suite observing his sabbath as a member of the Church of God. But before retiring shortly after midnight, Fischer chatted and mixed with friends in the nearby suite rented by Jack Collinge, one of his earliest chess teachers.

Algeria detains panthers

ALGIERS (UPI)—Police today held Black Panther Party members under apparent house arrest in the Panther villa international headquarters, witnesses said.

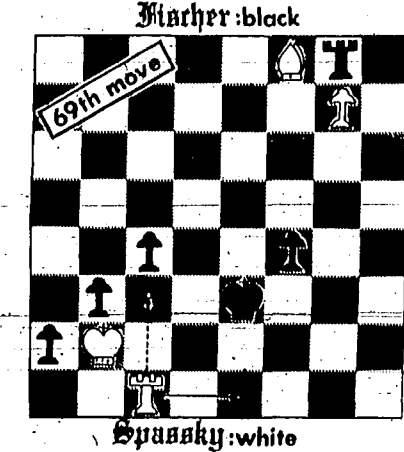

They said Panther members were kept prisoner inside the suburban villa at El Biar while police officers stood guard inside and outside.

A group of black Americans who commandeered a Delta Airlines DC-8 jet here along with a record $1 million ransom were reportedly were among those in the headquarters.

Algerian government sources refused to comment on the police action, saying only that the Panthers were being "investigated."

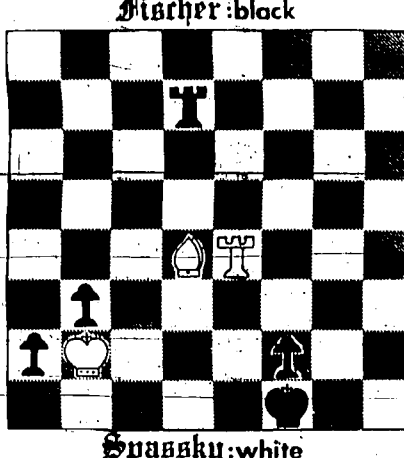

Observers said the police action at the villa included a search for guns.

(In New York, a Panther spokesman said the New York group talked with party members in Algeria by telephone and were told the police had been withdrawn and the members freed.)

Bugging case delay predicted

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Former Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien predicted Saturday the administration would use every possible "delaying tactic" to prevent the men accused of breaking into Democratic headquarters from coming to trial.

He said no grand jury indictment had resulted from the arrest of five men June 17 "in the middle of the night, carrying burglary tools and electronic eavesdropping equipment." Financial links later were indicated between those men and the Committee to Re-elect the President.

O'Brien is now campaign chairman for Sen. George S. McGovern, the presidential nominee.

"I am convinced the indictment will be delayed as long as possible—with Attorney General (Richard G.) Kleindienst calling the shots—and that every delaying tactic in the book will be employed to keep the case from coming to trial before election day," O'Brien said.

He renewed his demand for appointment of a special prosecutor, needed because of "continued evidence of foot-dragging in the prosecution of this case."

A special prosecutor also is needed, he said, "to insure that justice is done and that the American people are fully apprised of all the facts in this unprecedented case of political espionage."

O'Brien said replies to his demand showed the Nixon campaign committee had everything under control despite disclosures of financial transactions that link the Republicans ever more closely with the Watergate bugging case.

Hits error

THOMAS EAGLETON, former vice presidential candidate, charged "The McGovern forces made a serious mistake" in opposing Missouri Gov. Warren Hearnes for the executive committee of the Democratic National Committee. The remark was the first criticism of McGovern's organization since Eagleton's replacement on the ticket. (UPI)

McGovern claims Nixon uses 'fright mongers'

WOODSTOCK, N.Y. (UPI) — Sen. George McGovern accused President Nixon Saturday of assigning his top foreign policy and military advisers "fright monger" roles in the political campaign this fall to scare the voters into voting Republican.

McGovern interrupted a weekend of rest and relaxation at a country estate near here to issue a statement calling on Nixon to "make your own defense of your continued costly involvement in the Vietnam War."

The Democratic presidential candidate charged that Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird "have obviously been given the assignment of chief fright mongers this autumn. And that is always the main workload in a Nixon campaign."

In recent days Rogers has rebutted Democratic vice presidential candidate Sargent Shriver's charge that Nixon muffed peace opportunities in 1969 and has accused former Attorney General Ramsey Clark of making "contemptible" statements on Radio Hanoi during a visit to North Vietnam.

"Roger's reference yesterday to Radio Hanoi is beneath the dignity of his office and smacks of the devious innuendos of the old, old Nixon. Americans can disagree on the wisdom of

Airmen plan Boise protest

BOISE (UPI) — Airmen stationed at Mountain Home Air Force Base planned a demonstration against Hughes Aircraft in Boise Sunday concerning the company's role in Vietnam.

Sgt. Paul Williams said picketing of the airlines has been planned to "protest the key role played by the Hughes empire in escalating the air war in Southeast Asia."

Williams said an official Hughes Aircraft Company brochure says, "Hughes has been known primarily as a developer and supplier of military systems and equipment to all branches of the military establishment."

CAB OK's plane fare increases

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Civil Aeronautics Board approved today a 2.7 per cent across-the-board fare increase for the nation's airlines.

Proxmire asks probe

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said today there should be an independent, two-man investigation of the burglary of national Democratic headquarters that led to the arrest of men connected to the Republican party.

Proxmire suggested the appointment as investigators of former Republican Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware and former Supreme Court Justice Arthur Goldberg, a Democrat.

"These men are scrupulously honest, have a rugged independence of mind and wear no man's collar," Proxmire said.

Five men, including a former CIA official who worked as chief of security for President Nixon's re-election committee, were arrested in the offices of the Democratic National Committee at 2:30 a.m. June 17. Police said they carried electronic surveillance devices.

Proxmire complained the incident currently was being investigated by men in the Justice Department and FBI who were appointed by Nixon. The Washington Star and Daily News reported Thursday that at least $114,000 in contributions to the Nixon committee was deposited in the bank account of another of the suspects, Bernard Barker of Miami.

Clark MacGregor, Nixon's campaign director, said Thursday it was his understanding that Barker was given a $25,000 check by GOP finance chief Maurice Stans to cash and that the money was returned to Stans and spent in the campaign.

Merger cleared

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A federal judge has cleared the way for a merger between the United Steelworkers of America (USWA) and District 50, International Union of Allied and Technical Workers of the United States and Canada.

The marriage of the two unions would create the largest international union in the AFL-CIO federation, a spokesman for the technical workers said. But opponents of the merger were expected to appeal it further in the courts.

U.S. District Judge Bunning on Tuesday approved the results of a union referendum vote on the merger. That action dissolved an earlier court order that had delayed the merger.

The technical workers' search for a companion goes back to their disaffection with their old "parent" United Mine Workers union (UMW). The technical workers were expelled from the UMW after some disputes over policy and leadership, according to Peter Vaccarella, executive assistant to the president of the technical workers.

For one thing, we supported the production of uranium to be used for nuclear energy, and the miners felt this should not be done," Vaccarella said. Uranium would compete with coal, the miners' main support. Also, Vaccarella said, "there had been growing discontent with (Mine Workers President) Tony Boyle."

Hidden covers

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (UPI)—The executive mansion was built in Jefferson City in 1871 at the request of then Gov. B. Gratz Brown, but it wasn't until almost 100 years later that the mansion's windows were discovered to have shutters.

Inside wooden shutters which fold back into the window were found by Mrs. Warren E. Hearnes, the current first lady, during renovation of the structure. They had been nailed into the window sills and previously were unused.

Church raps Nixon

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, accused the administration Friday of waffling on the U. S.-Soviet agreement to limit offensive nuclear weapons.

"I suggest that this administration, wittingly or unwittingly, is beginning the slow process of scuttling its own nuclear agreements with Moscow," Church said during debate on a resolution to approve the agreement.

Church said that by backing an amendment pledging the United States to seek "equality" in arms with the Soviet Union, President Nixon had in effect agreed that he should "do better next time" and endorsed the argument by some critics that the new agreements left the United States in an inferior position.

"I had thought this administration was ready to begin the long, hard process of extrication that we might free ourselves, at last, from our entrapment in the arms race," Church said. "Now I'm not so sure."

High interest

LONDON (UPI)—Local government in Britain spends about 7 billion pounds ($18.25 billion) a year. About 20 per cent of current expenditure goes as interest on loans. Education gets the largest portion of the remainder, followed by police, roads and sewage.

Peace Corps workers 'weapon'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Senator Shriver's "secret weapon" in his campaign for the Democratic ticket will be the 20,000 to 30,000 Peace Corps volunteers who served under him in the early 1960s.

"We won't have to organize them," said Frank Mankiewicz, the McGovern campaign's political director and a former Peace Corpsman himself. "They're ready to go right now."

"The volunteers who served under Sarge are in their early 30s now," Mankiewicz said in an interview. "They're assistant city editors, young ministers, assistants to vice presidents for sales, junior partners in law firms. They're going to be our secret weapon," Mankiewicz said that the first few days after Sen. George S. McGovern selected Shriver as his running mate, he got more than 150 calls from ex-volunteers. More calls were stacked up on his desk.

Shriver, 56, who managed the Kennedy family's Merchandise Mart in Chicago, entered the national scene in 1961 when his brother-in-law, President John F. Kennedy, asked him to organize and direct the Peace Corps.

Mankiewicz, 48, a lawyer, was the Peace Corps' director for Peru from 1961 to 1964 and for South America from 1964 until 1968 when he joined the staff of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N. Y.

Patrol 'no picnic'

By KEN WAGNER
DA NANG, Vietnam (UPI)— Helicopters twice brought sandwiches, ice cream and cold soda, but the last patrol of the last American ground combat unit in Vietnam was no picnic. Two men of Delta Company, 3rd Battalion, 21st Infantry, were wounded by boobytraps. We spotted one guerrilla and detected others. We also had to contend with a spreading grass fire.

About three out of four men in the battalion are going home soon, and some of them helped about going on this last patrol.

"Why did they send us on a four-day mission?" Spec. 4 Gary Hoffman, 20, of Spokane, Wash., asked. "After all these years, four days won't make much difference."

Some were sorry it was coming to an end. "Myself, I'd rather stay out in the bush," said Spec. 4 Michael Fields of Pine Top, Ky. "I like it here."

It was a patrol like any other. Artillery "prepped" the landing zone about seven miles west of Da Nang, with 15 minutes of intense shelling to chase off any guerrillas. But the shelling set fire to some of the rolling elephant grass.

We landed in six waves of four choppers each then split up into platoons. Our platoon moved a few hundred yards to a low hill and set up positions for the night. That meant digging foxholes, blowing up rubber mattresses, rigging mosquito nets and sending out men to guard the flanks.

We got word by radio that the 2nd platoon a mile away had spotted an armed man who jumped up and started running. The platoon raked the area with gunfire but found nothing.

At sundown we heard an explosion—somebody in the 1st Platoon had tripped a booby-trap. A medevac chopper picked him up within 10 minutes. He was not seriously hurt.

Our artillery observer, 2nd Lt. Dick Kent, 25, of Montgomery, Ala., ran ammunition back to the artillery battery. After sundown, the battery fired up the areas around our night defensive positions to discourage any attempt to sneak up on us.

For the next two days we cut our way through occasional clumps of bamboo, bathed in streams, got cold soda, roast beef, peanut butter and jelly sandwiches, vanilla ice cream with butterscotch sauce and mail and newspapers by helicopter.

The battalion commander, 1st Col. Rocco Negris of Fairfax, Va., said, "No taking chances, no heroics. This is our last patrol."

On the last night, another man stepped on a booby-trap about a mile from our position. Again, a helicopter picked him up within 10 minutes and rushed him back to the hospital.

The wounded man, Spec. 4 James M. McVicar, 20, was reported in good condition in the 95th Evacuation Hospital. He could be the last American infantryman wounded in Vietnam combat. McVicar's parents are Mrs. Caroline Belle of Cascade, Idaho, and James McVicar, Greenville, Calif.

In the morning the company commander, Capt. Charles Vialo, 30, of Sebastopol, Calif., Kent and I heated our last cup of coffee—instant powdered coffee mixed with water in a metal canteen cup and boiled over the blue flame of a chemical heat tablet in a punched-out C-ration can.

We reached our pickup zone at mid-morning, the sun already hot. The choppers dropped off South Vietnamese infantrymen, who were taking over this area of operations.

Trains to roll

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)— The first streamlined train to the San Francisco Bay Area's $1.35 billion rapid transit system begin rolling on a partial stretch of track Sept. 11.

Formal dedications for the entire 75-mile Bay Area Rapid Transit (BART) system will take place in October—the exact date depending on when President Nixon can be present.

BART directors said the first trains in the full computerized service would be between Fremont and Oakland, a 28-mile stretch.

Last voyage cuts jobs

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)— The launch of Apollo 17 on America's last moon voyage in December will mark the end of jobs for 550 workers at the Kennedy Space Center.

The current work force at the Kennedy Space Center is 15,600. A space agency spokesman said Thursday that by the end of next June, the number of government and contractor workers will be down to 14,000.

By the middle of 1974, it may range anywhere from 10,000 to 12,000 or more depending on plans for future spaceflights.

Frank Schell

For the readers of this column who have sent letters the past two months—we will answer all correspondence as quickly as possible. Please be patient a little longer, and I am sure we will get caught up on the correspondence which piled up while we were gone through June and July.

Question from L. A., Twin Falls: I have a very small silver coin dated 1870. There is a woman's head on one side and around this head are the words, "Victori Dei Gratia" and "Canada." The back has a wreath and it says "5 cents, but the coin is very small—less than dime size. What can you tell me about it?"

Answer: The small five-cent silver of Canada was coined from 1858 until 1921, under the reigns of Victoria, Edward VII and George V. In 1921 a nickel made from the metal "nickel" was introduced. The small silver coins are all of small mintage and in the finer grades are worth a premium.

In "good" condition—that is worn, but identifiable, most of them average from about $2 up to $3.50. They increase in value rapidly through the succeeding grades, and unrecirculated coins of this denomination often approach $50 in value, although the issues of Edward and George are not this high.

You give no grade on the coin so it is impossible to tell anymore about it.

Question from B. B., Twin Falls: I recently acquired a large copper medal I would like to know about. On one side is a woman, walking, with what looks like a lot of different kinds of fruit in her arms.

In the lower left is a building, and the lower right has "1894-1934" on it. There is a pick and shovel here, also. Around the figure are these words, "Port Boise Centennial Celebration" and below "Boise."

On the back the dates "1834-1934" and a picture of some old buildings. Under this picture the words "Old Port Boise." Then these words are on it: Commemorating the One Hundredth Anniversary of the Founding of Old Port Boise, Idaho, Sept. 13, 14 15. In little tiny letters underneath are the words "Whitehead-Hoag." What can you tell me about this medal? What is its value?

Answer: The medal is self-explanatory. A centennial celebration was held in 1934 in Boise, and the medal was struck to commemorate the event—it was issued only in bronze and at present can be bought at around $3, to $5 per copy, depending upon the condition.

It has never gained much in value. The "Whitehead-Hoag" indicates the makers of the medal.

Question from A.R., Buhl: I have what looks like a penny, but it is flattened out and about two inches long. On one side you can see Lincoln's head.

The other side had a building with a tall steeple and these words: New York World's Fair, 1939, The World of Tomorrow. I am sure this is a penny, but do not know where it came from. Can you give me any information about it? Also, what is its value?

Answer: For a good many years, people have been rolling out, or flattening, pennies printing advertising on one side of them. Yours, of course, is such a penny—called "Elongated Cents," by collectors. This particular advertisement was for the "Trylon and Perisphere" exhibition at the 1939 World's Fair.

It was issued in 13 different styles in 1939. These coins are rolled through a machine which looks like an old-fashioned clothes wringer, the upper roll of which has the printing on it to cut into the coin. Most of the 1939 versions are worth about $1.50 each, at present.

Most of the elongated coins appear in the copper cent series, but a few are on dimes, and very few on coins of larger denomination.

Questions on coins and currency should be sent to The Money Box, c/o The Times-News, Twin Falls, Idaho 83301.

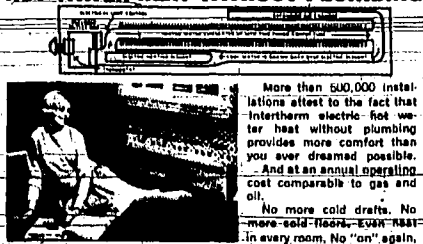

Grant awarded

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Rep. Orval Hansen, R-Idaho, Friday announced the awarding of a $50,000 grant to the Idaho Law Enforcement Planning Commission.

The Republican congressman said the grant was made by the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration. The funds will be used for improvements to "all elements of the criminal justice system."

3-state map available from mine bureau

MOSCOW — A full color, geological highway map of Idaho, Montana, and Wyoming is now available from the Idaho Bureau of Mines and Geology. It is available to tourists, rock hobbyists and the general public information about the regional variations seen in surface features.

The fifth in a series of 11 regional maps being prepared by the American Association of Petroleum Geologists, the maps contain geological information using an up-to-date state and federal highway map as the base, according to Dr. John G. Bond, University of Idaho professor of geology and a contributor to the map.

The maps show by different colors the age and distribution of the surface rocks within each state. They also explain by color key some of the origin and history of all landforms including river valleys, hills, plateaus, canyons, plains and mountains.

Each state in the country will eventually be represented on a geological map with the U. S. Geological Survey and the various state geological agencies contributing information. A regional map of Idaho, Washington and Oregon will be ready for distribution within the next year, Bond said.

He also noted that all maps are being made on a common scale with common colors so that they will be compatible and suitable for forming a national geological picture.

Other members of the Idaho Bureau of Mines and Geology who contributed to the Idaho, Wyoming and Montana map include Donald T. Bishop, assistant professor of geology; William R. Green, assistant professor of mining engineering; Rolland R. Reid, professor of geology and dean of the University of Idaho College of Mines; and Carleton N. Savage, associate professor of geology.

Dr. Jackson to practice in Jerome

JEROME — Dr. Jerry W. Jackson, son of Dr. and Mrs. T. M. Jackson of Kimberly, will start practicing veterinary medicine in the Jerome area, beginning Friday.

He graduated from Kimberly High School in 1961, and received his Doctor of Veterinary Medicine degree at Washington State University in 1967. After operating his own veterinary clinic in Jackson, Calif., for four years, he moved to Weiser, where he has practiced for the past year.

Dr. Jackson, enjoying both model and pleasure flying, and is a member of the Valley Flying Club. He is not only the son of a veterinarian, Dr. T. M. Jackson, but has two uncles who are veterinarians.

Dr. Steve Dixon, Jerome, a former classmate, will join Dr. Jackson in partnership in the near future. The two men are starting construction of an Animal Medical Center south of Jerome, with complete in-patient facilities for both large and small animals.

Rogers Franklin

Brace yourselves, folks: the days of youth worship are passing. This may be the dawn of a new era: an older cult.

I'm not kidding. Have you had a glimpse at the fashions posh department stores are showing? I have — and it was quite a nostalgic jolt. Women who want to look like their apple-cheeked granddaughters won't have to don mini-skirts or hot pants in the fall.

If you really want to dress like the youngsters, ladies, just go up to the attic to drag out those clothes you put aside 40 years ago. They're back.

Still skeptical? Take a walk down a fashionable main street in any big city in cooler weather (admittedly, the gals have turned to scantier outfits for the summer heat — you may think you stepped onto a 1930 movie set. Why?

Young women in long dresses with cinched waists and puffed shoulders, heavy shoes with thick heels. Many are wearing dark red lipstick, their hair pulled back in a chignon. Sound familiar?

With the kids trying to look older, what'll we do? Do we dye our hair, look for the "young" look in clothes? Whatever we do, youth will be watching. May be we've already sparked a fashion trend for the 1970s. Gray is in.

Think of it: young men and women will start adding gray streaks to their hair. Then department stores will push gray-haired wigs: completely gray for those who want the real thing, dark-haired with gray roots for the middle-aged look, a few scattered gray hairs for the premature grayers. And it won't cost us a cent.

I've been reading a lot about a spry lady in Philadelphia, Margaret Kuhn, who's trying to convince oldersters that "gray is beautiful." She heads an activist group called the Gray Panthers who fight for senior causes.

They've got a pretty good track record — they don't take no for an answer. Besides lobbying for increased Social Security benefits, tenants rights in old age homes, they've also demanded (and won) eased loan terms and special services for seniors at a large Philadelphia bank.

Even more important than social action, says the group's sharp-tongued leader, is to give dignity to old age. "I'm old and I'm proud of it," she says. When she addresses groups, she looks around hopefully for gray heads in the audience.

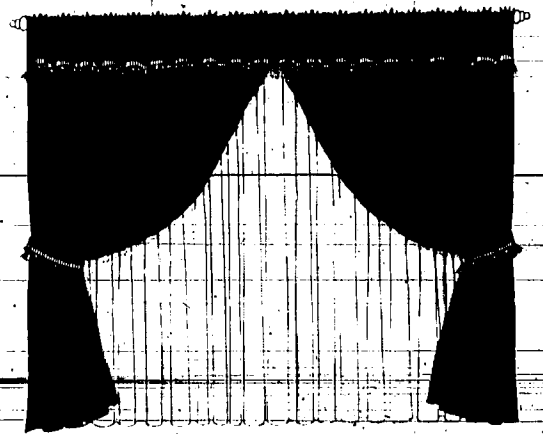

"A lot of people dye their hair, but we fool nobody by trying to look young. We're here today to celebrate our age, and it is beautiful to see so many gray heads," she told an audience of seniors recently.

We should admit we're old, she says, and view it as an accomplishment. That's the first step — they can go on to right the wrongs of society.

Say goodbye to the Pepsi generation. The Geritol brigade is on its way!

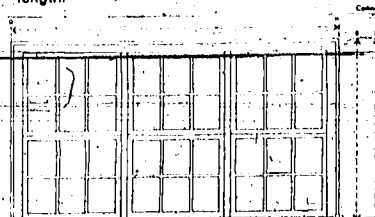

Rainbow trout generally have less than 12 rays in the anal fin, while their look-alike cousins, the coho salmon, generally have 13 or more.

Driverless car runs rampant

TWIN FALLS — A car parked at a service station rolled across Main Street and smashed into a front window pane at Pedersen's in Twin Falls Friday.

Nobody was injured in the accident, which occurred late in the morning.

But the car snapped off a tree planted in a well in the sidewalk and continued backward a few more feet until it struck the window in the business building.

Robert G. McMurtrie, 40, Salt Lake City, Utah, said he left his car parked at a gas station on the corner of Third Street South and Main Street. It apparently rolled backwards, driverless, crossed Main Street without striking any other vehicles or pedestrians, and continued up the sidewalk into the window. None of the people present in Pedersen's or the service station said they saw the accident occur.

There was no immediate estimate of the damage to the window of the brick building.

Lincoln County uses set-aside grasslands

SHOSHONE — Circumstances have caused below normal grass production on the private range in Lincoln County.

Twister kills

THE HAGUE (UPI) — A five-year-old boy and an 18-year-old girl were killed and more than 100 persons injured Friday when a killer whirlwind ploughed through a camp site on the small island of Ameland, police said.

Police said 50 persons were hospitalized, 20 of them in serious condition. The casualties were flown to mainland hospitals in 20 military helicopters and two planes, police said.

Fifteen hundred acres of grazing land in set-aside programs will be used to relieve the problem.

The Lincoln County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service announced that the 1,500 acres can be used by livestock producers.

The below normal production on the range and infestation of grasshoppers, alfalfa weevil and pea aphid has greatly reduced the overall forage on private lands.

Producers who wish to use any acreage they might have on their farm are advised that they must obtain permission from the county ASCS office and pay a nominal fee for the use of the acreage prior to any use being made. Any acreage that is grazed or harvested without this permission would be subject to the normal penalties.

Rates that would be applicable for the use of the acreage are $2 per acre where the cover is cut and baled for hay; $1.25 per acre for grazing where no hay is removed, and $1 per acre for grazing after hay is removed.

Anyone interested in using the acreage before the normal release date of Sept. 1, is urged to contact the county ASCS office. No contact is necessary if the acreage will not be harvested and no grazing done until after Sept. 1.

Guards ordered to kill

BERLIN (UPI) — An East German border guard who fled to the West said today guards still have orders to shoot to kill to prevent the flight of refugees.

"The orders for the border service read: 'Border-violators are to be arrested or destroyed,'" Detlev Wilde, 20, told a news conference.

Wilde fled to West Germany four months ago unseen by other guards.

"The orders to shoot have not changed," he said. "They still are: warning shout, warning shot and then an aimed shot."

Russian shadow of US fleet all but finished

LONDON (UPI)—Russia has all but discontinued shadowing the U.S. 6th Fleet in the Mediterranean as a result of its forced withdrawal from Egypt, defense sources said today. They said it had strengthened its own fleet in the area to compensate for the loss of air power.

Soviet planes shadowed American and North Atlantic Treaty Organizations (NATO) fleets in the Mediterranean over the past years on an increasing scale, with planes operating from bases in Egypt. Most of the planes reportedly have been withdrawn after the quarrel between Cairo and Moscow, including the bulk—if not all—of Russia's MIG23 jets, which outpace the U.S. Phantom jets, according to the defense sources.

The sources said that apparently to compensate for the lost air power the Soviet have

Some feeling comes to legs of George Wallace

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI)—Gov. George C. Wallace has some feeling in the paralyzed lower portion of his body but his rehabilitation specialist says it's too soon to determine its significance.

Dr. George Traugh, the rehabilitation specialist, also said Thursday Wallace's release from Spauld Rehabilitation Center, scheduled for late next week, "probably" would be delayed by a new abdominal abscess.

Traugh said he confirmed the return of "some sensation" to Wallace's buttocks and thighs while he was with the governor during the weekend.

"It's too early to tell what this means as far as walking again," Traugh said. "All I can say is that for some time now we've been saying that we were just going to have to wait and see if the governor had any return of feeling."

"And now we're seeing some early return of feeling."

About the new abscess, he said, "We want to treat this conservatively, without surgery, if we can. The governor does not have any fever now, and we are going to keep watch on that situation."

Wallace has undergone surgery twice for infection in the abdomen as a result of being shot May 15. One operation was performed in Maryland and one here after his admission July 14.

Traugh and Dr. George Hallenbeck, the surgeon, said the infected area that was operated on here has healed and that the new area was found in recent X-rays.

News Of Servicemen

BUHL — AIC Richard G.G. Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harrie S. Young, Buhl, has completed training at the Defense Language Institute's West Coast Branch, Monterey, Calif.

Young was graduated from Niagara Falls, N.Y., high school and received a B.A. degree from Boise State College in 1971.

Rushed naval reinforcements into the Mediterranean in the form of several missile destroyers.

There was also speculation in qualified defense quarters that Russia may use its helicopter-carrying missile cruisers for limited reconnaissance operations as well as a further reinforcement of its naval power in the area.

Russia over the past 2-3 years built up major air and naval bases in Egypt for its own purposes, chiefly for reconnaissance flights over the 6th and NATO fleets in the Mediterranean. Its air base, Cairo West, was one of the largest and most important ones. Another was at Aswan, in addition to naval plus air facilities in or near Alexandria, Meria Matruh and Port Said.

The naval facilities apparently have remained intact so far, but the Soviet air bases were believed to have been considerably reduced following the The scope of the Soviet withdrawal from its bases is still uncertain, but information available to date suggested that most of the "big stuff" has by now been moved, including the bulk of the MIG23s, the TU16s with air-to-ground missiles, and the IL38s for submarine detection, the sources said.

Speculation that some of these have been moved to Syria has not been confirmed to date.

Now for the bad news

BURBANK (UPI) — Larry A. Smith got the good news first: he was promoted Wednesday morning from General Manager of Lockheed's Cheyenne helicopter program to vice president in charge of Cheyenne production.

That afternoon came the announcement from the Pentagon scrapping the $118 million project. Smith's first job as vice president is to terminate the Cheyenne program he was promoted to direct.

Broadcasters dissect Demo convention

SUN VALLEY, Idaho (UPI) — National broadcast newsmen dissected the Democratic National Convention and the McGovern campaign Friday during the Rocky Mountain Broadcasters Association convention.

Sam Donaldson of ABC News said an arrogant attitude by McGovern people at the convention offended party veterans. But former NBC newsmen Chet Huntley said it worked both ways.

"Some of the party old-liners were arrogant and more or less ignored the changes fostered by the youngsters," Huntley said. "In fact, some of those regulars were as sound as steel and the youngsters were running the party."

Huntley, Donaldson, Daily Townsend of CBS and Frank Bourgholtzer of NBC took part in a panel discussion during the RMBA convention.

Townsend said he believes Sargent Shriver may be what McGovern needs to bring the party together.

"Shriver is a hard-headed, practical politician who has strong ties with most Democrats," he said.

Townsend added that based on his observations as a newsmen he doesn't think things are as bad as people may believe by reading the news.

TF GOP committee meet set Thursday

TWIN FALLS — A Republican Central Committee meeting will be held Thursday at 8 p.m. in the judicial building to elect officers and reorganize the committee.

A chairman, vice chairman, secretary, state committeeman, state committeewoman, state committee youth person and directors at large will be elected for Twin Falls County, according to Douglas Kramer, Twin Falls County chairman.

Immediately following the county central committee meeting, the meeting will adjourn into the legislative districts. Ted Ahlin, chairman of Legislative District 24, and Dave Mead, chairman of Legislative District 25 will conduct the meetings.

A chairman, vice chairman and secretary will be elected in the legislative districts.

Senior citizens at Gooding set event

GOODING — The Gooding Senior Citizen Center will sponsor a rotluck supper and social at 6 p.m. Monday at the War Memorial Hall.

Music will be performed by Bert and Barbra Beam, and fiddlers from Shoshone. The new Senior Citizen Center hours will be Monday through Friday 12-5 p.m. Movies are shown every Wednesday afternoon and feature travelogues and health and science films.

An arts and crafts program is scheduled to begin this month, according to Mrs. Marlene Lees, director.

Aug. 24 a field trip is planned to Hagerman Valley. The tour will include a visit to Snake River Pottery, a picnic at Niagara Springs and fishing.

Senior citizens interested in attending the tour should meet at the Senior Citizen Center at 10:30 and bring a sack lunch. Transportation for senior citizen excursions will be provided by the National Guard.

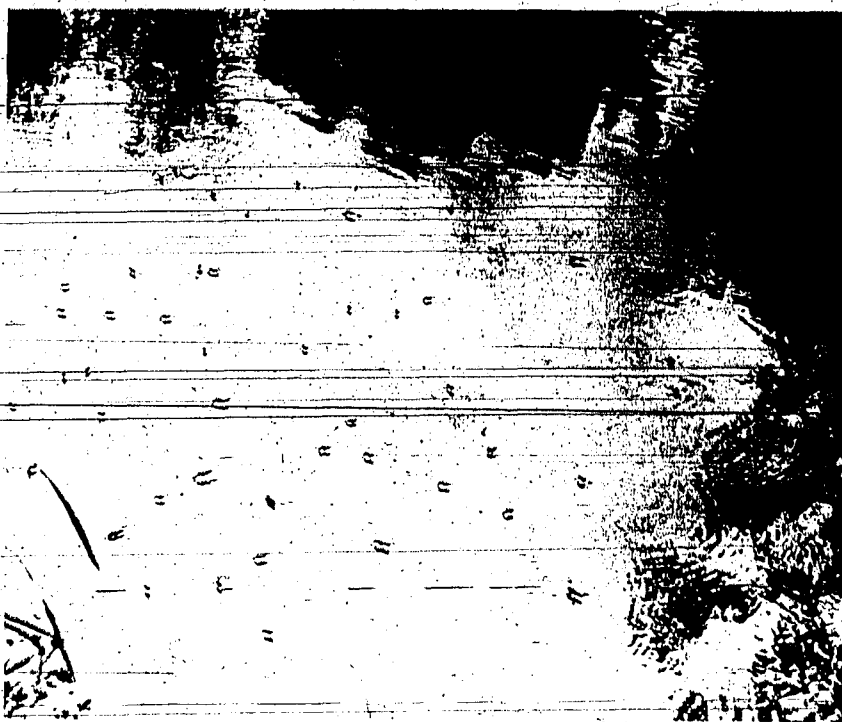

Prison vice cited

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — The Desert News Saturday published a story alleging there is prostitution, counterfeiting and drug traffic at the Utah State Prison.

The story was based on confidential information a reporter said he received from a "reliable, highly-placed person" in government who investigated prison conditions first-hand.

The banner-lined story said the material handed the reporter "tells how drugs are moved through the corridors of the prison, even in maximum security, by inmate dealers who connive with some willing guards to buy dope on the outside for men and women inside."

Officer transfers

RON WYATT

KETCHUM — Ron Wyatt, Twin Falls, has joined the Ketchum Police Department.

Wyatt has served for the last three years as a narcotics officer for the Twin Falls County Sheriff's Department. He replaces Ketchum officer Doug Williams, who is currently stationed with the Idaho State Patrol in Mountain Home.

A native of Filer, Wyatt previously served with the Filer Police for one year. He has received advanced officers' and felony training as well as has attended the two-week Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs class and the Mobat training school.

Officer Wyatt is also a Certified police officer and holds a basic certificate. He is married and has two children.

Wendell theft brings charge

GOODING — A Boise man charged with grand theft auto will make his first court appearance in the case Monday before Magistrate Charles Shaw.

David Macy Koroski, 26, was arrested Friday night by the Ada County sheriff's department at the request of the Gooding County Sheriff's Department. Bill Bunn, Gooding deputy sheriff, transferred Koroski to Gooding where he is in custody.

Koroski allegedly stole a car belonging to Robert Burks, Wendell, early Friday morning. He was cited for speeding near Mountain Home and later abandoned the car before it was reported stolen.

Ada County officers located the man from the address on the speeding citation.

Koroski claimed that he took the car belonging to Burks because the truck he was driving broke down and he was trying to get home, Bunn said.

Probes welfare

TWIN FALLS — The Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services now has a full-time investigator to look into alleged cases of fraud.

Mrs. Peggy Laley, who previously has been an employee of the department, has been reassigned to work full time on investigation.

Mrs. Laley said she feels it is important for the public to realize that fund recipients who are allegedly receiving money fraudulently are being investigated.

She said two cases recently culminated by arrests were the result of complaints made by citizens.

She said anyone who has a complaint to make can do so anonymously or leave their name. Each complaint will be investigated, she said. Anyone with a complaint to make can do so by calling her at 733-2323.

Winds whip rampaging Gem fires

By PEGGY CHU
Times-News Writer

TWIN FALLS — Fire fighters called in from around the nation, hampered by erratic winds, were reported battling four fires burning out of control Sunday in southern Idaho and northern Nevada.

B-26 air tankers from Twin Falls and Boise dropped fire retardants on a two-acre lightning-caused fire near Warm Springs Creek south of Robinson Bar Ranch.

According to Sawtooth National Forest officials, the fire danger was high in the Stanley area.

Another lightning fire has destroyed more than 350 acres on drainage of the Middle Fork of the Salmon River. More than 100 firefighters, some from Georgia and Wisconsin, battled the Goat Creek fire Saturday, which was still out of control.

A 2,200-acre fire raged Saturday near the Nevada-Idaho border. The fire, which was caused by lightning Aug. 9, had been almost extinguished until strong winds whipped up the blaze again. South Dakota fire fighters were called to the scene.

A fire north of Sublett Reservoir near Lake Fork Canyon has burned 82 acres. 26 men, two Bureau of Land Management tankers, two air tankers from Salt Lake City, a spotter plane and a bulldozer were on the scene Saturday.

Sawtooth Forest officials said, "United Press International reported that 600 acres near Dennett Creek, 10 miles north of Weiser, had been burned."

Vern Fridley, fire control officer at the Intermountain

Region Forest Service said "The winds blew one fire that we had controlled across our fire lines and turned it toward previously untouched forest areas."

"He said the fire had been completely circled when winds picked up."

"We lost another fire in the Boise National Forest when the wind blew burning trees across our lines near Garden Valley," Fridley said. That had been controlled after loss of 100 acres. He said crews on a nearby 60-acre blaze at Great Mountain "were losing that one just before dawn" Saturday.

UPI reported 250 fire fighters had begun arriving Friday night from several western states, Georgia and Wisconsin to combat a manpower and equipment shortage.

According to Jack Wilson, BLM director at the Boise Intermountain Fire Control Center, 247 fires had been reported in Idaho. He said helicopters and smoke jumpers were in short supply, "but if the rest of our crew equipment holds up, we can probably make it without them."

Some of the men who have been on fire lines for days were being brought into the Boise center to rest, while new crews were replacing them.

Helicopters toled large buckets of water in an effort to put out a 10,000-acre fire near the Idaho-Oregon border in Oregon. Converted WWII B-26 and B-17 bombers were making continual flights in and out of the area, dumping more than 70,000 gallons of fire-retarding chemicals.

Hearings set in fraud cases

TWIN FALLS — Preliminary hearings have been scheduled in Twin Falls for two women accused of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Peggy Laley, investigator for the Department of Social and Rehabilitation Services, said both women, accused of fraudulently obtaining money from the department, were arrested on warrants after complaints by citizens.

Latest to be arrested was Shirley Hartley, 37, who is accused of obtaining $812 from the department when she was not entitled to it. Mrs. Laley said the woman had qualified for funds through aid to dependent children because the father was absent from the home. Subsequent investigation found that the father was, in fact, in the home, the department's complaint alleges.

Preliminary hearing for Mrs. Hartley has been set for Aug. 24 at 1:30 p.m. in Twin Falls Magistrate Court. She is free on $500 bond.

Preliminary hearing for Virginia Griggs has been set for Aug. 30 at 9:30 a.m. in Magistrate Court.

Mrs. Laley said Mrs. Griggs had been approved for aid on an adult status and investigation revealed Mrs. Griggs was working under another name and not reporting her wages. Involved is $961. Mrs. Griggs has been released on $1,000 bond.

'Fund-a-bus' event set at SV

SUN VALLEY — Plans are rolling for the Aug. 25 "Fund-a-Bus" event to benefit the Ketchum-Sun Valley Transit System.

A variety of carnival games and booths have been scheduled, including a male and female kissing booth as well as a pie throwing booth.

Event guests who try their luck at dart throwing, the rifle range and other games can be expected to be rewarded with gifts donated by local merchants.

A main feature of the evening will be a "Miss Fund-a-Bus" contest, drawing waitress contestants from Ketchum and Sun Valley restaurants.

An auction, presided over by Ned Bell, will highlight the evening. Successful bidders will be treated to a wheelbarrow ride down Main Street, Ketchum, with the manpower supplied by Mayor Kenneth Richey; a glider ride with Louis Stur, or a Lodge Terrace dinner served by Ed Pilkerton.

Other merchandise to be put up on the block includes a season pass to the Sun Valley ski lifts and the Opera House, installation of a new garbage disposal, ski equipment, bicycles, furniture and a season pass on the transit system.

Price for the event is $10 per person and includes dinner. The event is scheduled for 7 p.m. in the 11melight Room of the Sun Valley Inn.

TF man hurt

TWIN FALLS — A Twin Falls man was injured early Saturday morning in a one-car rollover one and one-fourth miles west of Smith's Market on 3000 North.

Stuart Monroe Bearup, 29, an instructor at CSI, was traveling east when his car went out of control and rolled over into a cornfield at 3:45 a.m. He was taken to Magic Valley Memorial where he is listed in good condition.

Elko teen injured

ROGERSON — An Elko, Nev., teen-ager was injured in a two-car accident five miles south of Rogerson at 5:40 a.m. Saturday.

A car driven by Julia Ann Etchineck, 18, was traveling south on US83 when it was struck by a northbound pickup driven by Howard Wayne Tennant, 62, Rogerson.

According to sheriff's officer Bud Dewese, Tennant failed to yield right of way when making a left hand turn. Tennant was issued a citation for failure to yield.

Walter Etchineck, 20, and Robyn Etchineck, 18, passengers in the vehicle, were not injured. Julia Ann Etchineck was taken to Magic Valley Memorial where she is listed in good condition. Tennant was also uninjured in the accident.

TF raps Moscow, Poky in state Legion meet

LEWISTON — Twin Falls dropped Moscow 22-2 and Pocatello 4-1 Saturday to move to within one victory of a berth of the regional American Legion baseball tournament.

Playing in the state meet, Twin Falls was knocked from the championship bracket 4-3 in 12 innings by the Boise Gems Friday night, but came back with 20 hits, augmented by 11 errors, to send Moscow to the sidelines and then cranked all its scoring into one inning to eliminate Pocatello.

Twin Falls meets the loser of the Lewiston-Boise game, played Saturday night, at 1:30 p.m. Sunday and if successful there will clinch the second berth in the regionals next week. Being the host team, Lewiston already has a spot in the meet. To take the state title, something it hasn't accomplished since 1958, only Lewiston has since 1958 — Twin Falls would have to win three more games. If it wins

Sunday afternoon it will play at 8 p.m. Sunday and if successful there, would throw the meet into an extra game at 8 p.m. Monday.

There really wasn't much to the Moscow game, as Twin Falls, headed by the hitting of Mark Hanchey, Mike Fries, Kevin Nelson and Darrell Groves, romped into a big early lead. Hanchey and Fries each pounded out four hits while Nelson and Groves had three each — those four accounting for half of the Twin Falls total.

Groves worked the first four innings with shutout pitching and then gave way to John Wonderlich who went the rest of the way.

In the second game, the teams battled scorelessly through the first six innings with Kevin Nelson working the first five innings and giving way to Mike Anderson who went on to claim the win. Bob Sherwood was tagged for the loss, going the distance.

The seventh inning killed Pocatello's hopes. With one away Groves bunted for a single and Mike Tremayne pushed him to third with another safety. He scored on Dennis Warburton's hit. Dick Walker's two-bagger sent Tremayne home with the clinching tally but Anderson then provided a cushion for himself by delivering a two-run single.

Going into Sunday's play Coach Bob Banfield's eligible pitcher list ran Nelson seven; Anderson three; Warburton five; Groves eight and Wonderlich seven.

SLIDING Steve McClain is called out at the plate as the tag is put on him trying to score from second base on Van Wells' single. McClain and his Depot Grill teammates defeated Bull Moose Construction of Ketchum 17-6 in district slowpitch play Friday night.

From all angles

By Larry Hovey

Superintendents of Idaho high schools think they have drawn the line on high school all-star games, particularly a basketball program such as was presented by the Magic Valley seniors last March on behalf of Easter Sals.

The superintendents met last week at Sun Valley and made a decision which we can imagine, although not having been there, was rendered with smug smiles and audible guffaws. We feel that because when the decision was reported to the state coaches association meeting Wednesday at Sun Valley, the final sentence was punctuated by a "cat that swallowed the canary" smile and an emphatic look in our direction.

But the superintendents are firing blanks. It is completely out of their hands and right now directly in control of the only people who should have that control — the high school athletes themselves. Only they can say whether they'll play or not.

The superintendents tried to get a little cute. They didn't risk the public image by declaring all-star games outlawed. What they said was, they'd prefer not to have them but in event one was held, all proceeds accrued would be funneled into the state interscholastic activities association. (Smile, chuckle.)

On the face of it, there's nothing anyone in high school service can do about it, anymore, since last year's all-star committee got the correct interpretation from the NCAA on its ruling effecting potential incoming freshmen.

The only thing the high schools can do is strip a boy of his last eligibility, either golf, baseball, tennis or track, or any other spring sport. In most cases, all-star basketball players are the biggest and tallest ones and generally aren't too well adapted to spring sports — at least they don't participate in many.

Of last year's 20 all-stars, seven of them did nothing in the spring. Of those who did — and we were able to talk to — only three said they would have foregone the basketball game to play track or baseball. One other said that while he didn't really know what he would have done about such a decision prior to the game, after playing in it he knew he would give up track. ("The game's a lot of fun. There's no pressure. It's all just fun. Track's a lot of work," he smiled.)

But that would be all a school could do. The law prohibits them from expelling the athletes from school. They can't deter any college interested in setting an athletic grant-in-aid on the individual because a college coach could care less. In fact, at least 11 colleges were represented by potential recruiters at the first game this year — more than we've seen in one high school gym ever.

The money, of course, is a key thing. Not to us. We'd work for a committee if the game were to be played for free so the boys can get some extra publicity for their excellence in basketball. But money can't be a key thing to the state either since it has something like $75,000 sitting in a savings account in a Boise bank drawing interest and there appears no way to channel it for the benefit of the people who put it there — these self-same athletes. We'd rather see the money in something like the Easter Sals campaign than leaving four per cent until who knows when.

Williams gets new two-year contract, pay hike from A's OAKLAND (UPI)—Dick Williams Saturday night signed a new two-year contract with a "substantial increase" in salary.

Williams, 43, said he may move his home from Riviera Beach, Fla., to California.

Speculation earlier in the season that Williams' contract would not be renewed at the end of this season was denied by Finley at the time.

The A's loss to Chicago Saturday tied the two in the leadership tussle of the American League West, with the White Sox slightly ahead in percentage points.

"The news that I'm going to be around for a while may rev the players up a bit," Williams said.

"Our pitching has been excellent, but we've not been able to get the base hits. I feel that we will win our division this year and are capable of winning our league and representing the American League in the World Series."

Boise wins

LEWISTON — The Boise Gems upset Lewiston 5-4 in the championship semi-finals of the state Legion tournament Saturday night and threw an entirely new light on the two-to-regional situation.

Lewiston now faces Twin Falls at 1:30 p.m. Sunday with Twin Falls needing to become state champions to advance to regionals. Lewiston, as host team, is seeded into regional and would displace any team finishing above it except the championship team.

It also means Boise has not clinched a trip to regionals as yet, since Twin Falls could come around and relegate the Gems to second. If Lewiston beats Twin Falls Sunday afternoon, the two Idaho entries to regional will be decided.

Friday night's 12-inning 4-3 loss to Boise was a heart-breaker since it came just after Twin Falls had missed on a golden chance to score and was lost when Boise wasn't really threatening.

Twin Falls fell into the loser's bracket in the 12th when Frisen opened with a walk against lower Mike Anderson. But Anderson then got the next two out easily, with Frisen still at first. However, Bob Frisch unloaded a long double that got between the outfielders and rolled to the wall while Frisen sailed all the way around from first.

In the same inning, Mark Hanchey had led off for Twin Falls with a double and moved to third on Mike Fries long fly to right field. Kevin Nelson then lived on an error, but Hanchey was unable to score on the miscue. Nelson wound up at second base but Twin Falls died as the next men struck out against eventual winner Dave Maffey.

Boise led most of the way, picking up one in the third and two in the sixth against Twin Falls starter Denis Warburton. Meanwhile, Boise starter, Mickelson, held Twin Falls scoreless until the sixth when Nelson singled, Groves doubled and Warburton scored on with another hit.

Boise then went with Maffey, who was expected to start, and Twin Falls jumped on him for two runs and the tie in the eighth. Mike Tremayne lived on an error and Groves was hit by a pitch. Both runners moved up on Warburton's long fly to the outfield and Dick Walker played both with a single.

Warburton worked seven innings for Twin Falls with Anderson taking over for the last five.

Two-year-old shoots father

POINT PLEASANT, W.Va. (UPI)—Howard Lee Vankirk, 23, was fatally wounded Saturday by a two-year-old son whom he was teaching to fire a .22-caliber target pistol.

Four TF teams unbeaten in district slowpitch

Four Twin Falls teams advanced into the quarterfinals of the district slowpitch softball tournament after 13½ hours of action Saturday.

Paris-Culligan defeated Turf Club 11-5, Maxie's Pizza downed Depot Grill 10-4, Royal Lounge dropped Stan's Chevron 13-3 and The Alley thumped Cain's Furniture 25-3. Action resumes on the two Harmon Park diamonds at 9 a.m. Sunday and again will continue through 10:15 p.m. The finals are set for

Morton throws 3 TD passes as Cowboys drop Rams 27-14

touchdown passes Saturday night to lead the Dallas Cowboys to their 13th straight victory — a 27-13 preseason decision over the Los Angeles Rams.

A home town crowd of 68,051 looked on in dismay as Cowboy defenders contributed heavily to the victory, intercepting five Ram passes and returning them for a total of 92 yards.

Staubach, the National Football League Player of the Year last season, had to leave the game in the second quarter when he suffered a separation in his right shoulder. He was hurt when Ram linebacker Marlin McKeever smashed him out of bounds on one of his famous scrambles.

The 23-year-old righthander was given a pair of runs in the first inning to work with and then held off the Angels, losing a bid for his first major league shutout with one out in the bottom of the ninth when John Stephenson slammed his second homer of the year.

The loss went to Andy Messersmith, who gave up eight hits and all the Twins runs in seven innings. He lasted longer than his manager, Del Rice, who was ejected in the third inning by home plate umpire Larry Napp for arguing that a ground ball was foul.

Minnesota started quickly against Messersmith when Jim Nettles opened the game with a single and was tripled home by Rod Carew. Steve Braun's long fly to right cased in Carew.

Nettles started another rally in the third when he singled with one down and stole second. Harmon Killebrew's single off third baseman Ken McMullen's glove made it 3-0.

A walk followed by one-out singles off the bats of Rich Reese and Danny Thompson netted the Twins their final tally in the sixth inning.

Messersmith, a 20-game winner last year, has not won since May 6. His record has dropped to 2-7.

Nicklaus grabs lead

HARRISON, N. Y. (UPI) — Superstar Jack Nicklaus, trailing by three shots at one stage, fought his way back Saturday with a two-under par 70 and gained a two-shot lead over little-known Dwight Nevil after three rounds of the $250,000 Westchester Golf Classic with a 14 under par total of 202.

Nicklaus, one shot behind the 27-year-old former Dallas fireman as the third-round opened, faltered momentarily but finally gained the lead with a five-footer for a birdie four on the 500-yard 12th hole. He parred the rest in swirling winds to close out his 35-35-70. In all, the U.S. Open and Masters champion had three birdies and one bogey.

Nevil, who has been on the pro tour only two years, started fast and led Nicklaus by three shots after a birdie three at the seventh hole but began to crack under the pressure with bogies at the 11th and 15th and wound up with 36-38-73 for a 12-under par 204.

The duel between Nicklaus and Nevil dominated the third round although Gay Brewer who has regained the 20 pounds he lost earlier this year with a bleeding stomach ulcer, also regained his hot shooting touch

Washington ruins Ralston's debut

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Second stringer Bob Brunet piled 136 yards rushing and Sonny Jurgensen, fighting to get his job back, threw for two touchdowns Friday night as the Washington Redskins ruined the pro coaching debut of Denver coach John Ralston with a 41-9 rout of the Broncos.

Both Jurgensen and his quarterback rival, Bill Kilmer, were helped by Washington's "over-the-hill-gang" defense, which syndicated Denver's offense almost completely and allowed the Broncos out of their own territory only once.

Jurgensen, taking over a 17-9 lead compiled under Kilmer, needed only four plays after the second half kickoff to connect with veteran Tommy Mason on a 65-yard touchdown pass.

He then capped a 70-yard thrust which featured Brunet's 42-yard run with a 16-yard pitch to Jerry Smith in the end zone in the same quarter.

Third-string quarterback Sam Wyche entered the game with less than two minutes to play and hit Bill Mareshak for a 52-yard bomb on the first play after the Redskins received a Denver punt.

Curt Knight contributed field goals of 30 and 17 yards to the Redskins cause.

Kilmer also benefited from Brunet's strong running in taking Washington to the 17-9 first half lead.

Kilmer marched the Skins for a TD in the first period when Denver was able to register only one yard rushing and none at all passing. Tommy Mason plunged over from five yards out in the drive that featured Brunet's bursts for big yardage.

Just before intermission, Mike Bass intercepted a Don Horn pass and Kilmer pitched to Roy Jefferson for a six-yard score.

Expos win on successive HR

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Back-to-back home runs by Bob Bailey and Hal Breeden with two outs in the eighth inning Saturday carried the Montreal Expos to a 3-2 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Reliever Dave Marshall picked up his 11th victory against only three defeats while the consecutive homers tagged Ken Reynolds with his ninth straight loss without a win.

The Expos scored a run in the first when Ron Hunt walked and scored on Bailey's double to left.

British drop three Olympians

LONDON (UPI) — Britain dropped three members of its Olympic swimming team tonight for "disciplinary reasons." Police said they had been questioned in connection with drugs.

Britain's Olympic swimming authorities said only that the three have been dropped from the Munich contingent "for disciplinary reasons."

The trio includes 19-year-old Ray Terrell, a world-class individual medley swimmer who was one of the few medal hopes on the British squad.

The others are Tyrone (Tarzan) Tozer, an American-based South African who has a British passport and Welshman Rowland Jones, who has lived in Canada for the past year.

A police spokesman said the three were questioned "in connection with drugs or some substance believed to be a drug."

Jones, 19, nominated for the 400 meters medley, swam for Wales in the 1970 Commonwealth Games and has been training in Vancouver for more than a year.

Tozer, from South Africa via the Hurricane University Club of Miami, chosen for the 400 meters freestyle, has never lived in Britain although his father was born here.

Norman Sarsfield, Amateur Swimming Assn. secretary, said that no replacements would be drafted into the British team.

49ers and Browns test artificial turf

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Both the Cleveland Browns and San Francisco 49ers, who meet in an exhibition game Sunday, tested candlestick park's synthetic surface in short but fast-paced drills Saturday.

The Browns were on the field first and the 49ers, who got home from Santa Barbara Friday night, followed them into the stadium.

Coach Nick Skorich of the Browns is counting heavily on his running backs this year, so they were the ones who put in most of the time in Saturday's drill.

For the 49ers, it was a little different. Their attack is built around the passing of John Brodie, so Brodie and the horde of San Francisco wide receivers did most of the tuning up.

Candlestick Park, completely refurbished and enlarged for this season's play in the National Football League, will be a sellout of over 60,000 for the first home game of the year.

Callison's six RBIs help N.Y.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Johnny Callison, who drove in a total of six runs, clouted a grand slam homer that climaxed a five-run seventh inning Saturday as the New York Yankees posted a 10-6 victory over the Milwaukee Brewers with the help of Sparky Lyle, who picked up his 27th save of the season.

Earl Stephenson came on in the seventh for the Brewers and walked Horace Clarke then wild pitched him to second. When Thurmon Munson singled to center and took second on the throw that held Clarke at third, Ken Sanders replaced Stephenson.

After an intentional walk to Bobby Murcer, the bases were loaded. Sanders wild pitched Clarke home and the other runners into scoring position with a two-strike bunt on Roy White. White fled out and Ron Blomberg was intentionally passed to reload the bases. Callison followed by slamming a 3-2 pitch deep into the lower deck for his fifth homer and fifth career grand slam.

Mets tip Cubs on solo homer

CHICAGO (UPI) — Tommy Agee led off the 10th inning with a home run Saturday to lift the New York Mets to a 2-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs behind the six-hit pitching of Tom Seaver and Tug McGraw.

The victory enabled Seaver to become the first Met hurler to reach the 100th complete game plateau.

Agee's homer, his eighth of the year, came off loser, Bert Hooton who went down to his 10th loss against seven wins.

Willie Mays provided the rest of the New York offense with a single, two doubles and his 652nd career homer.

Mays was robbed of another homer in the eighth inning when his long drive into left centerfield in the eyes of the umpires failed to clear the wall although it landed in a basket hanging over the wall.

Summer Guest wins Alabama

SARATOGA SPRINGS (UPI) — Summer Guest took a big step toward the 3-year-old fully championship this year with a popular victory in the $54,400 Alabama Stakes Saturday at Saratoga.

The Rokeby Stable-owned daughter of Native Charger, Cee Zee closed strongly through the stretch under top weight of 121 pounds to catch Light Hearted by nearly a length in the 1 1/4 miles.

The win was the fourth straight stakes victory for Summer Guest, who returned $3.00, $2.40 and $2.20 after stepping the distance in 2:03 2/5. Ron Turcotte rode the winner.

Previously Summer Guest captured the Hempstead Handicap and Coaching Club American Oaks at Belmont Park and in her last start was an easy winner of the rich Monmouth Oaks at Monmouth Park.

Summer Guest earned $32,640 in winning her seventh race in 10 starts this season to push her earnings for the year over the $200,000 mark.

U.S. eagers top Kentucky

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Seven-foot-four Tom Burleson and rugged Jim Brewer sparked the slow-starting U.S. Olympic Basketball team to an 84-71 victory over the Kentucky Pro All-Stars Friday night.

Burleson, who played sparingly in the first half, came off the bench to hit eight points during a three-minute flurry to give the Olympians momentum in the last half after they led only 38-37 at the half.

Brewer hauled down 10 rebounds and scored 10 of his 12 points during the Olympians' first half surge.

Butch Beard of the Cleveland Cavaliers, led all scorers with 18 points for the Pros. Veteran Jim Ligon, a former player for the Kentucky Colonels now with the Virginia Squires, was second high for the Pros with 15 points.

Pirates beat Gibson, Cards

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Vic Davallito keyed a four-run Pittsburgh fifth inning as the Pirates held on to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals Saturday, 6-5.

After Mill May led off with a single in the fifth, Bob Gibson walked—Bob Robertson, and Gene Alley to load the bases. Bob Moose scored May with a sacrifice fly and Vic Davallito tripled home Robertson and Alley. Davallito tallied when Ted Sizemore threw the relay into the Cardinal dugout.

Robertson extended the lead to 6-1 with his seventh homer of the season in the sixth inning which proved to be the game's decisive run.

Connors, Evert gain finals in national clay court meet

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Jimmy Connors and Chris Evert, Uncle Sam's final hopes, Saturday battled into the finals of the $60,000 National Clay Courts championships.

Connors, Belleville, Ill., who last week captured the western open, whipped Japanese Davis Cupper Tashiro Sakai, 7-6, 6-0, to gain the men's singles finals against South Africa's veteran Bob Hewitt, who disposed of countryman Fred McMillan, his doubles partner with whom he shares the Wimbledon crown, 7-5, 6-0.

Connors is seeded fourth,

Hewitt eighth.

Miss Evert, 17, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and a Wimbledon semi-finalist this year, polished off three-time Wimbledon queen Margaret Court of Australia, 6-3, 7-6, and will meet another Aussie, Evonne Goolagong, in Sunday's title round at Woodstock.

Miss Goolagong, last year's Wimbledon winner who was topseded for this tourney despite losing to Mrs. Court in the western title round last week, ousted 1970 Clay courts winner Linda Tuero, Metairie, La., 6-3, 6-2.

Connors needed a tiebreaker in the 13th game of the second set to beat Sakai, No. 2 in his country. He rallied from a 3-1 deficit and finished the match by blasting a passing shot past his opponent.

Hewitt had his hands full before triumphing over McMillan, who Friday upset No. 3 Jan Kodeš of Czechoslovakia in a stormy three-set quarterfinal match. He trailed 3-0 in the first set but won the last three games. McMillan's double fault gave Hewitt a service break and a 6-5 lead and he held service in the next game, finishing off with an ace. But McMillan folded in the second set, failing to win a single game.

Miss Evert, who bested Mrs. Court two weeks ago in the U.S.-Australian series at Cleveland, relied on her patented Southern Idaho Conference principals cemented steps for dissolving ties in football games and reaffirmed their opposition to annual division playoffs when they met in Sun Valley Friday.

The principals voted a go-ahead with the Kansas Plan, under which the competing teams will each have a series of four downs from the 10-yard line at the conclusion of regulation time to break a tie.

They also fixed coaches' recommendations for an annual east-west division playoff, noting it was highly probable that the two leaders had met during the season and the score of that game would replace a playoff. However, they voted to reserve the moniedome at Idaho State University each year in the possibility that a playoff may be needed.

The principals ruled that coaches will be allowed to select football and basketball all-conference teams. However, that will also require an okay from the Idaho Interscholastic Activities Association board of control. It is scheduled to meet in Boise in September. It opened the probability that two all-conference teams will be selected since sports writers-casters in the member cities have handled the chore for years and probably will continue to do so.

The conference will vote a sportsmanship trophy on two occasions, once after football and once after basketball.

Next meeting of the league will be held Nov. 20 in Twin Falls.

baseline barrage to down her more experienced opponent, who rushed the net repeatedly, especially in the second set. But the teenager kept her "cool" and held the upper hand in their tiebreaker to close out the match.

Miss Goolagong, outclassed Miss Tuero, runnerup here last year, with a steady barrage of baseline winners, volleys and overheads. Her meeting with Miss Evert Sunday will be their third in a month. She triumphed in the Wimbledon semis before bowing to the Florida miss at Cleveland.

G. Kindred wins cycle honors

JEROME — Georgia Kindred ran off with the powder puff title in the evening weekly TT motorcycle races.

Richard Bean, Rupert, seconded by Pat Galvin, Wendell, took the motorcycle competition.

Tony Arellano, Jerome, and Mike Zoll, Hailey, went one-two in the 100 cc A main with Glen Clark, Buhl, and Larry Dressel, Paul, finished that way in the B main.

In the 125 A main, Rick Holmes, Burley, was chased home by Garth Williams, Burley, and Dave Pederson, Twin Falls, beat Tom Smith, Twin Falls, in the B main. At 250 cc, Rich Thompson, Twin Falls, won the A main with Holmes second and Larry Hills, Hailey, topped Pederson in the B main.

Gary Olson and Garth Williams went one-two in the A main open with Daryl Ashew, Sun Valley, defeating Jim Rusetto, Sun Valley, in the B main.

Next evening races are set for Aug. 28 at the Jerome course.

Straughn and Rupert win

Rose Rupert and Shirlee Straughn combined for a 59½ net score to win the Twin Falls women's Golf Association's two-woman bestball competition.

Second went to Marya Duncan and Laurena Marshall at 60 while Dot McJannet and Carol Pestotnik had 61 for third. At 62½ and in fourth place were Lois Hansen and Erma Newton.

Women planning to compete in the Twin Falls Invitational Aug. 24 are urged to register as soon as possible.

Western Athletic Conference sketches indicate Arizona State may have tough time repeating DENVER (UPI)—The Western Athletic Conference issued thumbnail sketches of the present status of member teams that hinted at problems this season for Arizona State's football team, 1971 conference champion.

The sizeups included:

"Arizona State: Coach Frank Kush has his offensive guns loaded but will be inexperienced on defense. The guts of the defensive line is gone and the secondary has but two starters and no proven depth. The entire (offensive) backfield of all-WAC Woody Green, Ben Malone, all-WAC Steve Holden and quarterback Dan White returns.

"Arizona: Coach Bob Weber calls his fourth Wildcat team 'the best I've ever had.' Experience, improved size and quickness are the strong points not to mention 34 lettermen and 11 junior college transfers. Individual standouts include all-WAC corner back Jackie Wallace and defensive end Bob Crum.

"Brigham Young: A major strength should be the secondary where all-WAC Dan Hansen and Dave Atkinson had 16 interceptions between them in 1971. Thirteen starters are back among the 31 lettermen listed but Bolden Richards, a first team all-WAC, was sidelined with academic problems.

"Colorado State: Coach Jerry Wampfler will rely on new faces as only eight starters return for 1972. The Rams welcome back Paul Duda injured in 1971, and tackle Gerald Caswell as the only veteran on defense. How fast the newcomers develop will be the key at CSU.

"New Mexico: Coach Rudy Feldman's crew is a two-time

WAC runnerup and will be without three first team all-WAC performers and four off the second team. The offense has tough tackles in all-WAC John Urban and Ron Kohl plus running back Fred Henry. The defense returns seven veterans.

"Texas-El Paso: Coach Bobby Dobbs likes to throw the ball. With Gary Keithley drawing to a host of newcomers, the Miners should keep up their aerial game. Nine starters return, bolstered by over 40 junior college transfers. Just how quickly this crew molds into a solid unit will spell the success for the Miners in 1972.

"Utah: Coach Bill Meek has 34 lettermen and 14 starters returning, including tackle Ron Rydallch, halfback Gene Belczyk plus receivers Leo Gibby and Lance Robbins. Developing a quarterback is a key with Don Van Galder, the top returnee. Meek also will seek help to shore up a defense that allowed 33 points a game over the last half of the (1971) season.

"Wyoming: Coach Fritz Shurmur, in his second season, rebuilt Cowboy fortunes in a hurry.

Packers win as Miami blows late conversion

MIAMI (UPI)—Scott Hunter threw touchdown passes of 79 and 10 yards to Dave Davis Saturday night to give Green Bay a 14-13 win over the Miami Dolphins, who blew a conversion attempt with only 1:55 to play.

Green Bay's victory, its second in a row, came before a sellout crowd of 75,372 Orange Bowl fans who got their first preseason home look at the defending American Football Conference champions. They saw a high snap from center kill the last-minute try for tie.

Hunter and Davis put the Packers ahead on their first offensive play of the game when the wide receiver got behind Miami cornerback Curtis Johnson and hauled in the 79-yard pass unmolested.

Hunter, a second-year quarterback from Alabama, hit Davis with the 10-yard touchdown pass with 8:54 left in the first half to cap an 86-yard drive that was set up by a 44-yard breakaway run by Oregon rookie Leonard Glass.

Miami, which had a game-opening drive stall on the Green Bay 12 when Paul Warfield fumbled, got its first touchdown with 3:06 left in the first half when big Larry Csonka bulldozed into the end zone from a yard out. Csonka's score ended a drive set up by a 43-yard kickoff return by shifty Mercury Morris.

The Dolphins blew their chance to tie the game with 1:55 remaining when a high snap from center Bob DeMarco aborted Garo Yepremian's conversion attempt on a two-yard touchdown run by Hubert Ginn. Ginn's score came at the end of a 47-yard drive that was sparked by a 24-yard run by Charlie Ligh. Both Yepremian and Green Bay's Chester Marcol missed on second-half field goal tries from 35 yards. The loss left Miami with a preseason of 0-2, after last week's defeat by Detroit.

Phillips and Anderson spark Bengals past Detroit 28-20

CINCINNATI (UPI)—Fullback Jess Phillips ran for two touchdowns and quarterback Ken Anderson threw a touchdown pass to lead the Cincinnati Bengals to a 28-20 exhibition victory over the Detroit Lions Saturday night.

Phillips, who carried only six times for 33 yards, capped a 66-yard drive in the second quarter with a one-yard dive into the end zone.

Rookie defensive back Tommy Casanova returned a Herin Weaver punt 58 yards in the third period to the Detroit 12-yard line to set up a three-yard run by Phillips for his second TD.

Anderson opened the Bengals' scoring on the first series of the game, hitting wide receiver Chip Meyers with a five-yard touchdown pass to climax a 76-yard drive.

The Lions scored all their points in the second quarter with quarterback Greg Landry throwing a 69-yard scoring pass to Ron Toste and running back Bill Triplett plunging one yard for a touchdown which capped an 84-yard drive.

Kicker Errol Mann booted field goals of 40 and 20 yards to account for the rest of the Detroit scoring.

Running back Paul Robinson, one of the original Bengals, wrapped up the game for Cincinnati in the fourth quarter with a six-yard touchdown run.

Landry, who called signals in the first half, completed eight of 11 passes for 172 yards.

Anderson, playing three quarters, completed 12 of 18 passes for 110 yards.

Eagle rookie tops New England 29-20

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Quarterback John Reaves, the Eagles' first draft choice from Florida, fired two touchdown passes to flanker Harold Jackson Saturday night to lift Philadelphia over New England 29-20 in an exhibition game.

Reaves hit Jackson with 23 and 27 yards scoring tosses in the second quarter, the first one set up by a fumble recovery on the Patriot 26 yard line by linebacker John Soda-ski.

Sodaski also intercepted a pass by Patriot quarterback Jim Plunkett in the final minutes of the first half, leading to a three yard touch down run by Jim Nance that gave the Eagles a 23-6 half time lead. Sodaski picked off the pass on the Eagles 38 and returned it 30 yards to the Patriots 32.

The Patriots, trailing 26-6 entering the fourth quarter, rallied for touchdowns on one yard plunges by Josh Ashton and Bob Gladiwe but came no closer than 20-26.

Nance, obtained by Eagles in a trade with the Patriots three weeks ago, gained 38 yards on nine carries in the first half and did most of the ball carrying on a 67 yard drive that produced Jackson's second touchdown.

Tom Dempsey kicked field goals of 52 and 40 for Philadelphia. Mike Walker booted a 22 yard for New England, and Charlie Gogolak added a 32 yarder. The Eagles' first points came on a safety when linemen Richard Harris and Gary Pettigrew tackled Plunkett in his end zone.

Reaves, who played only the first half, completed eight of 11 passes for 89 yards.

Steelers shatter Jets 22-3

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI)—The Pittsburgh Steelers rode the passing arm of Terry Bradshaw and the talented toe of Roy Gerela to a 22-3 NFL exhibition victory Saturday over the New York Jets and Joe Namath.

Bradshaw hit Dave Smith with a 26-yard touchdown pass on the third Steeler offensive play of the game. Later in the contest Gerela added five field goals.

Pittsburgh's T.D. followed a 50-yard pass from Bradshaw to Bob Adams and a 13-yard strike from Bradshaw to John Fuqua.

Pittsburgh scored again in the first quarter when Gerela hit a 51-yard field goal. Gerela hit a 32-yard field goal in the second quarter before Bobby Howfield kicked a 42-yard field goal midway in the second quarter for New York's only score.

Gerela later added field goals of 37, 35 and 38 yards. Namath, who played only during the first half, was almost totally ineffective. He hit only three of 15 passes, all to Ed Bell, for 55 yards. Namath also suffered an interception. Bradshaw was six for ten during the first half.

The second half saw both the Jets and the Steelers dip into the reserves heavily. Joe Gilliam quarterbacked the Steelers and Bob Davis was at the helm for New York. The change in quarterbacks produced several mistakes and there were only a total of five first downs by both teams in the second half.

The triumph was the second in a row for the Steelers. Last week they defeated the New York Giants, 28-10.

Chiefs ride interceptions to 24-14 victory over Cardinals

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—Cornerback Jim Marsalis intercepted three passes leading to two touchdowns and rookie Larry Marshall coasted 76 yards with a punt return Saturday night as the Kansas City Chiefs scored all their 24 points in the second quarter and wiped out the St. Louis Cardinals, 24-14, before 78,190 spectators in the dedication game at Arrowhead Stadium.

The victory returned the Governor's Cup to Kansas City after a two-year absence and increased the Chiefs' exhibition record to 3-0. St. Louis is now 1-1.

Numerous dignitaries, including Sen. Thomas P. Eagleton, who was given a standing ovation, helped dedicate the stadium in pre-game ceremonies. The crowd was the largest ever assembled in the state of Missouri.

Marsalis set the Chiefs in motion when he picked off a

Gary Cuozzo pass at the Cardinals' 30 and returned to the 24. Ed Podolak burst 23 yards on first down, then scored from the one with 10:09 remaining before halftime.

The Chiefs held after the ensuing kickoff and Marshall, a 150-round choice from Maryland, fielded Donny Anderson's punt, cut the corner and zoomed 75 yards for another touchdown with 7:46 remaining.

Cuozzo had the ball only one down when Marsalis stepped in front of Walker Gillette and cruised 28 yards for another touchdown with 7:08 remaining.

When Marsalis made his third interception of five Cuozzo passes seconds later, the former Minnesota quarterback was replaced by Pete Benthard.

With 59 seconds left in the half Jan Stenerud completed the onstaight with a 31-yard field goal.

Given the large lead, the Chiefs used reserves most of the second half, including Mike Livingston for Len Dawson at quarterback.

Boston splits with Baltimore

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Ben Oglivie and Bob Montgomery slammed homers in the nightcap as the Boston Red Sox salvaged a doubleheader split with the Baltimore Orioles, 5-3, Saturday night behind the three-hit pitching of Luis Tiant.

Merv Rettenmund drove in two runs with a home run and a ninth-inning game-winning single to give the Orioles a 3-2 victory in the opener.

Wood wins 20th as Sox drop A's to claim division lead

OAKLAND, Calif. (UPI)—Wilbur Wood became the major league's first 20-game winner of the season Saturday when Ed Spiezio hit a two-run, 11th-inning homer and the Chicago White Sox defeated the Oakland A's 3-1 and climbed into first place in the American League West. Wood, in winning his seventh game in the last eight decisions, stopped the A's on just two hits. Brant Alyea singled off second baseman Mike Andrews' glove in the seventh for the first hit and then with two out in the ninth cracked his first homer of the year to tie the score and send the game into extra innings.

In the eleventh, Richie Allen singled for his third hit of the game but was thrown out trying to steal second. Carlos May walked and then Spiezio delivered his game-winning homer, only his second of the season.

The White Sox, who took over first place for the first time since May 20 by two percentage points, broke the scoreless tie with a run in the top of the ninth on a triple by Allen and a sacrifice fly to May.

Wood's record for the year now stands at 20-11.

Indians batter fading Tigers

DETROIT (UPI)—Dick Tidrow halted the faltering Detroit Tigers on nine hits Saturday and Buddy Bell had his second straight four-hit game for 6-1 victory by the Cleveland Indians in the nationally televised game.

Tidrow evened his record at 10-10 with the no-walk, two-strikeout game, the Tigers' fourth straight loss. Detroit has now scored just two runs in its last 35 innings.

Mickey Lolich was denied his 19th victory for the third straight time and handed his ninth loss when Bell and John Brohmmer singled to start the game. Chris Chambliss followed with his first of two sacrifice flies and Graig Nettles singled home the other run Tidrow needed.

A triple by Frank Duffy and Tidrow's perfectly executed suicide squeeze bunt in the second inning made it 3-0.

Tom McCraw hit an inside-the-park home run—a twisting liner which eluded on-charging Mickey Stanley and rolled all the way to the centerfield wall—in the seventh and the Indians added two more runs in the inning on singles by Tidrow and Bell, a double by Brohmmer and Chambliss' second sacrifice fly.

Coaches have passers to play bombs away

NEW YORK (UPI)—I'll be "bombs away" on many a college football field again this fall if the coaches want it that way.

Fifteen of last season's top 24 forward passers are back for another year of collegiate flinging. They have the arms. They'll throw plenty unless their coaches have had a change of heart and offensive systems in the off-season.

Statistically, the leading returner is Dan Strock of Virginia Tech, No. 2 last last year with 17.7 completions per game. Gary Huff of Florida State, No. 1 in total offense and No. 4 in passing percentage, also is back on the collegiate scene, with a shot at edging some of the glamor boys for All-American honors.

Among the more famous names likely to be heard again are Sonny Sixkiller of Washington, Don Fouts of Oregon, and Joe Ferguson of Arkansas.

If you're outside the area in which these kids already are well-known, you may get to know them better as the season goes on: Dennis Morrison of Kansas State, Tony Adams of Utah State, Todd Starks of Tulsa and Gary Danielson of Purdue.

Others expected back from last year's top 24 passing leaders are Carlos Brown of the University of Pacific, Joe Pisarcik of New Mexico State, Doug Shubert of Temple, Eddie McAshin of Georgia Tech, Gary Keithley of the University of Texas at El Paso and Jay Cruze of California.

Only 10 of the top 24 receivers, led by No. 4 Mike Reppond of Arkansas, are expected to return and that may create problems for leading throwers who lost their favorite targets. Still, getting the ball into the air with some degree of accuracy is at least half the battle and it's probable that teams with experienced passers have been grooming replacement receivers.

Oklahoma's Greg Pruitt, No. 3 in rushing a year ago, is the leading ball carrier returning to the campus. He is one of 10 eligibles from last year's top 18 rushers, indicating the 1971 running teams have the legs to keep on running.

Despite the spread of the "wishbone T" and variations featuring pass-run options, the prolific thrower still is with us on many fronts.

Florida State's Huff, though No. 4 in average completions per game, led the nation in passing yardage last season with 2,736 on 184 hits in 327 shots (1.56 average) and led them all with 23 aerial touchdowns. Okay, he lost a few yards on busted pass plays or unsuccessful rushes but he wound up as No. 1 on total offense with 2,653 yards for an average of 241.2 yards per game.

The only passers ahead of Huff in completion average were Brian Sipe of San Diego State (gone), Virginia Tech's Strock, and John Reeves of Florida (gone).

Strock, only one-tenth behind No. 1 Sipe with a 17.7 completion average, connected on 195 of 356 attempts for 2,577 yards. That passing yardage production was second only to Huff and put Strock at No. 3 in total offense.

Nos. 3-6-7 on the 1971 passing list were Pat Sullivan of Auburn, Gary Fox of Wyoming and Don Bunce of Stanford, all gone. But the next eight, starting with No. 8 Ferguson of Arkansas, are expected to return this fall.

Ferguson led the Southwest with 14.5 completions per game on a total of 160 strikes in 271 attempts for 2,203 yards. That, plus a few rushing yards, earned him the No. 7 slot on the total offense list.

On passing only, Kansas State's Morrison was No. 9 followed by Carlos Brown, Joe Pisarcik, Don Fouts, Doug Shubert, Tony Adams and Todd Sparks. Nebraska's Tagge (gone) was No. 16 in passing with Sonny Sixkiller and Eddie McAshin right behind him.

That group of returnees indicates plenty of accurate drins are available in many areas again this fall. They can play "bombs away" any time. It's in the game plan.

Aeros sign NHL player

HOUSTON (UPI)—The Houston Aeros Saturday announced the signing of NHL veteran George Harris to a three-year contract with the World Hockey Association club.

Harris, 30, formerly played with Minnesota and Toronto of the NHL and spent last year with Rochester of the American Hockey League, where he had 27 goals and 38 assists.

Harris, of Sarnia, Ont., is the 13th player signed by the Aeros.

M. Smith gets ace

leads meet

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Marilyn Smith shot a three-under par 69 Saturday, including a hole-in-one on the 172-yard 12th hole, to take the second round lead in the 30,000 Ladies Professional Golfers Association Pabst Classic.

Miss Smith, 43, who turned pro in 1949 after winning the Women's Intercollegiate championship here, shot 34-35 Saturday over the 6,300-yard Riviera Country Club course.

Her 35-hole total of four under par 140 gave her a four-stroke lead over a group of five players, including Beth Stone, the first-round leader who had 67 Saturday. Marge Masters, who tied Miss Smith for the day's best round of 69, Clifford Ann Creed, Judy Rankin and Betty Burfield, all with par 144.

Miss Smith took over the lead on the sixth hole when Miss Stone, who had a 69 Friday, ran into putting trouble and took a double bogey six, three-putting from 10 feet away.

Miss Burfield, who was tied with Miss Smith at the time, bogeyed the hole when she hit into a bunker at the right front of the green and also fell a shot behind.

Miss Smith, a native of Topeka, Kan., now playing out of Jupiter, Fla., widened her lead to four shots during a two-hole stretch early on the backside.

Sparkalark collects sorority

OCEANPORT, N.J. (UPI)—Sparkalark, one of two supplementary entries in a field of 12 two-year-old fillies, came from off the pace to win the $116,195 Sorority at Monmouth Park, the first $100,000 race for juveniles in the East this year.

Front-runner Juke Joint, part of a three-horse Bwanzon Farm entry and favorite of the crowd to 30-1, finished second one length back and three lengths ahead of Bold Memory, who was coupled in another entry with Stolen Date. Chulina Min was fourth.

Chance Hill Farm owner Bertram Firestone of Wilton, Conn., paid $5,000 to make Sparkalark a supplementary to the Sorority after she finished second last week in the Schuylerville at Saratoga behind the "wonder filly" from Canada, La Prevoyante, the investment paid off with $69,717, the winner's share of the Sorority purse.

Study reaty

Thundershowers predicted

Twin Falls, northside, Burley-Rupert area. The forecast was for mostly cloudy skies last night, with a chance of showers or thundershowers developing today, becoming more numerous this afternoon through Monday. Winds, locally strong and gusty, near thundershowers. Probability of precipitation, 40 per cent today and 60 per cent tonight. Cooler temperatures are predicted and overnight lows should be at 40 to 50, with the high today at 85 to 90 and in the low 80s Monday. Camas Prairie, Hailey and lower Wood River Valley. Partly cloudy Saturday night, chance of showers or thundershowers developing this afternoon, becoming more likely tonight and Monday. Slightly cooler temperatures are predicted. Overnight lows should be at 40 to 50, highs today in the mid 80s and Monday in the low 80s. Fairfield should be in the mid 80s today and 40 tonight. Synopsis: High pressure which was over the western states earlier this month has moved eastward and a trough of low pressure aloft extends just off of the northwest coast. A strong surge of moisture is moving across Southern California and Northeastward through Nevada and Utah. It is bringing thundershowers to most sections of Utah and Nevada and southern parts of Idaho. Strong and gusty winds are likely to occur throughout south central and southeastern Idaho Sunday in the vicinity of the thundershowers. Temperatures will be slightly cooler, ranging mostly in the 80s during the daytime.

U of I business aide set

MOSCOW — Lawrence H. Merk has been named acting director of the University of Idaho Center for Business Development. Merk, 33, mayor of Moscow, said the center, funded through an $87,720 grant from the Economic Development Administration, is designed to "improve the economic climate of specific geographical areas."

L. H. MERK

The technical advice is designed to create and maintain a high level of employment in the state. The university is contributing $45,000 in matching monies and support services to fund the center. Olson said Merk would act until a permanent director is chosen and said eventually there would be two persons based on the UI campus and one in Boise in cooperation with the Boise State College School of Business. Merk said the center would work with small businesses in an attempt to "save jobs which might otherwise be eliminated" and help create new jobs.

BOISE — Two area banks are among the 300 largest banks in the United States as of June 30, according to American Banker, daily banking newspaper. Idaho First National Bank is ranked 128th nationally and First Security Bank of Idaho No. 147th. The American Banker said both institutions are ranked among the 500 largest commercial banks in the non-Communist world as of Dec. 31, 1971. The internationally circulated newspaper said this year's annual survey showed that 178 of the 500 largest banks are in the U.S., with 322 outside this country. The newspaper reported a gain of $33.46 billion or 9.8 per cent in the year ending June 30, 1972, for the deposits of the 300 largest U.S. banks.

Rupert man sales agent

RUPERT — Robert E. Holston, Rupert, has been appointed — by National Dynamics Corporation of New York as area distributor of VV-6. The product is a liquid chemical formula which reportedly attacks sulphation, one cause of battery failure and short battery life, he said.

Kellwood firm divides profits

ST. LOUIS — The board of directors of Kellwood Company announced today that the regular quarterly dividend of 8 cents per share of common stock is payable Sept. 5 to shareholders. Headquartered in St. Louis, Kellwood manufactures and merchandises apparel, home fashions and recreation equipment. This is the forty-third consecutive quarterly dividend the company has paid.

Bennett's certified

TWIN FALLS — Bennett's Twin Falls Glass & Door, Twin Falls, has been named a Certified Safety-Seal installer by Libbey-Owens-Ford Company. Under terms of the program, installers of replacement automotive safety glass agree to perform installation workmanship that meets U. S. Department of Transportation standards on all certified installations using the windshield.

Richfield man enters partnership

RICHFIELD — Melvin W. Pelley, formerly of Richfield, has been made a partner in a Phoenix Ariz., accounting firm. The firm is Walmsley, Elken, and Pelley. Pelley is a certified public accountant. A Richfield High School graduate, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pelley, Richfield. He graduated from the College of Idaho in 1966, and was named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. He was a member of Intercollegiate Knights, as well as serving the college as ASCI treasurer for 1963-65.

Defense stealing draws conviction

TYNDALL AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (UPI)—Air Force Master Sgt. Walter T. Perkins was convicted by a military judge today of stealing defense secrets and attempting to pass them to a Soviet agent.

Perkins, 37, faces a maximum possible sentence of 26 years in prison and a dishonorable discharge from the Air Force where he has served for the last 18 years. He took the verdict without visible emotion.

Col. Joe E. Peck, a hawk-faced military judge who heard the week-long trial without a jury, returned the guilty verdict on all five counts at 10:20 a.m. EDT, with these words:

"Master Sergeant Walter T. Perkins, it is my duty to inform you that this court has found you of all specifications and charges, guilty."

Without a word, Perkins and his defense attorney sat down and Peck kept the court in session to make some legal findings on several technical points the defense may use in a possible appeal of the verdict. Peck, a bond, cool and efficient military judge from California's Travis Air Force base, began deliberating Perkins' fate at 10 a.m. Thursday. He recessed the court overnight and returned to the chore at 8 a.m. today.

Perkins waited outside the courtroom while Peck deliberated. When Peck arrived at his decision, the judge personally walked to where Perkins and defense attorney Henry Rothblatt were seated and said: "The court's ready."

The defense did not deny the charges against Perkins. Instead, it contended he was an alcoholic and not responsible for his acts.

After returning the verdicts, Rothblatt asked Peck to make a ruling on what constitutes alcoholism and whether a person's mind must be impaired or destroyed to sustain a plea of not guilty because of temporary insanity—the plea Perkins entered to the charges.

Perkins, the former top non-commissioned officer at Tyndall's Intelligence Section, was specifically charged with stealing national defense information, attempting to deliver that information to an unauthorized person, falsifying reports on the destruction of secret information, falsifying leave records and a general charge of unmilitary conduct.

Head-tax axed

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate has passed a bill to prohibit a "head tax" on passengers arriving and departing at airports. Philadelphia has tried to tax passengers, and some other local jurisdictions have considered a levy.

Although the bill bars the charging of any tax, fee or other charge on air travelers, it would not prevent collection of rental, landing fees, or other services.

The measure passed Thursday on an 83-2 vote. Sens. William D. Spong, D-Va., and Vance Hartke, D-Ind., cast the negative votes.

Vietnam war costly fight

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Pentagon has estimated the cost of the Vietnam war during the fiscal year that started July 1 at $5.8 billion.

A defense spending study issued Thursday predicted the total cost of the war for the United States during the current year would be $7.1 billion. But the report said the "incremental" cost was $5.8 billion, because the other $1.3 billion would be spent anyway on salaries, ammunition and fuel.

The highest cost of the war for a single year was during fiscal 1969 when the incremental cost was $21.5 billion and the total cost $28.8 billion.

The incremental cost of the war from 1965 through mid-1973 is estimated at $107.8 billion, while the total cost is put at $135.5 billion.

Honest look into bugging requested

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., said today two "scrupulously honest" men—former Republican Sen. John J. Williams and former Supreme Court Justice Arthur M. Goldberg—should be appointed to investigate the attempted bugging of Democratic national headquarters.

Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott in turn told Proxmire he might be able to support the idea, if the investigators' findings were withheld until after the November election.

That would "take the issue out of the field of politics," Scott said.

But Proxmire said the investigators should be instructed to report to the American people within 30 days.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, agreed, saying "the American people are entitled to know the facts before they pass judgment on whether this administration should continue in office."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said he had such great confidence in the integrity of Williams—who was often called "the conscience of the Senate"—before his retirement in 1969—that he would be willing to see the commission composed of the former Delaware lawmaker alone.

But Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., said he thought there should be a three-man commission with Williams and Goldberg appointing the third man.

Scott said "Anybody who had done it while I was chairman (of the Republican national committee in the late 1940s) would have been fired."

Mansfield said the situation had become "curiouser and curiouser with the passage of time."

Proxmire said he was proposing that Williams and Goldberg investigate because "these men are scrupulously honest, have a rugged independence of mind and wear no man's collar."

Review song

New TF singing group plans charter show

TWIN FALLS — Magic Valley residents are in for a treat real soon when barbershop harmony, women's style, is presented in a public charter show.

Women from throughout Magic Valley who make up the Twin Falls Sweet Adelines have been working diligently for this charter show which is set for 8 p.m. Aug. 26 at the College of Southern Idaho Fine Arts Center.

One of the prerequisites of chartering a group with the International Sweet Adelines, Inc., is this public show which is chaired by Wanda Dimmick, a member of the regional council.

Featured with the Twin Falls Sweet Adelines will be the group's quartet composed of Marian Nye, lead; Mary Baun, baritone; Betty Armit, tenor, and Maxine Trout, bass, all under the direction of Burt Huish, the only man in the group.

The Sweet Adelines Chorus from Pocatello will also be featured along with its quartet, the Reveries, and the Common-Taters from Buhl. John Crawford, Buhl, will serve as master of ceremonies.

Tickets can be obtained from Judy Freeman, ticket chairman, 733-2034, or from Helen's Record Shop, El Margo's Beauty Shop and Warner's Music Shop, Twin Falls, and Garth's Music Store and Studio and Wood's Music, Burley.

The local group first started to organize in February with the assistance of Andrew (Rip) Gerdes. It now boasts a membership of 32 and will welcome interested new members.

Officers include Virginia Lee, president; Betty McEwen, vice president; Sheila Lozano, corresponding secretary; Marian Nye, recording secretary, and Fanchon Karna, Jerome, treasurer. Marian Gray, Salt Lake City, serves as director of musical activities for region No. 12.

Four-part harmony favorite of many

TWIN FALLS — The American folk art of singing four-part harmony, barbershop style, is a favorite of many.

It's popularity in Magic Valley is growing by leaps and bounds and with the formation of the new group in Twin Falls, it is bound to increase.

The Sweet Adelines, Inc., is an international non-profit organization of women whose purpose is to, teach the art and through performances to encourage a universal appreciation of the music tradition.

Sweet Adelines, Inc., was started in Tulsa, Okla., in 1947, and is now comprised of almost 550 chapters and more than 22,000 members throughout the United States, Canada and the Panama Canal Zone. It is an independent corporation and is not affiliated with any other singing organization.

An international board of directors, which is elected annually by the membership, governs the group. The organization is divided into 15 geographical regions, each governed by an executive committee. Each chapter is a chorus of 20 or more members who meet regularly to sing barbershop harmony. Each chorus is directed by an especially trained chorus director.

Quartets evolve voluntarily from the choruses. Choruses and quartets make themselves available for entertainment at civic and charitable functions and each member strives to promote harmony around her, both musically and spiritually.

All approved Sweet Adeline music is arranged in four-part harmony, barbershop style by organizationally-trained members.

Plan show

SHOW CHAIRMAN, Wanda Dimmick, left, Twin Falls, and Marian Gray, Salt Lake City, director of musical activities for region No. 12, discuss the forthcoming show. John Crawford, Buhl, will serve as master of ceremonies for the show.

Special costume

ADMIRING the costume that will be worn by local members are Vonnio Conn, left, and Sheila Lozano, both Twin Falls. Mrs. Lozano serves as corresponding secretary for the group.

ISU week slated

POCATELLO — Idaho State University's annual orientation week will start Aug. 24 with open house in each of the campus residence halls.

They are scheduled to open at 8 a.m. The week is planned to give new students and parents the opportunity of becoming acquainted with the university at the beginning of the academic year.

The American College Test (ACT) for new students will be a 1 p.m. Aug. 24. Students are asked to report to the lobby of the education building.

Aug. 25 at 8 a.m. all new freshmen will report at the college of liberal arts or college of business building for the English placement exam. Other events of the day include conferences with advisers, Panhellenic rush registration, registration of vocational-technical students in the gymnasium, a 3 p.m. tea and four for new students and a 9 p.m. dance in the student union ballroom.

Aug. 26 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., sessions on how to register will be held at the college of business building. Special orientation for transfer students will be at 10 a.m. Students enrolling in the college of liberal arts will meet in room 208, college of business. Pharmacy students will meet in room 204, Leonard Hall.

Business students will meet in room 135, college of business. Medical arts students will assemble in room 209, nursing building, and college of education students will meet in room 243, education building.

Evening events Aug. 26 will be in the Spud Bowl, beginning with a 5 p.m. picnic. An outdoor concert from 6 p.m. to 9 will be followed by fireworks from Red Hill and a movie under the stars, "2001: A Space Odyssey."

Aug. 27 will feature church services and activities centered at St. John's Newman Center, the LDS Institute and the Ecumenical Ministry.

Panhellenic rush parties will be held from noon to 4 p.m. in the student union building, where a movie will be screened at 7 p.m. Registration in the gymnasium begins Aug. 28 for graduates, seniors and juniors. Registration Aug. 29 will be for sophomores and freshmen.

Classes begin Aug. 30. This year they include an experimental group of courses for credit that are designed to provide information and skills for students beginning university studies.

MR. AND MRS. HARRY SHARP

Golden wedding observance set

TWIN FALLS — Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sharp will be honored guests at an open house from 2 to 5 p.m. Aug. 20 at the Knoll Grange Hall.

The occasion being celebrated is their Golden Wedding Anniversary.

The couple was married Aug. 19, 1922, in Milan, Mo., and moved to Idaho in 1930. They have resided in Twin Falls County since 1930. Sharp is a retired farmer and Mrs. Sharp has managed the Twin Falls Canning Kitchen for the past 11 years.

The event is being hosted by the couple's children, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Sharp and Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Tucker, all Piler; Mr. and Mrs. Gene Sharp, Gooding; Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Sharp, Twin Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Johnson, Ontario.

Pine Tree officers named

TWIN FALLS — Mrs. Darrel L. Wolfe was named president of the Pine Tree Club for the 1977-78 year.

Mrs. Edwin A. Fournier will serve as vice president and Mrs. Donald A. Baird as secretary-treasurer.

The function of the Pine Tree Club is purely social. Members are wives of men employed by the U. S. Forest Service and women who work in the forest service office.

The women meet every third Thursday of the month from September through May.

The first meeting for this year will be a show-me trip through the proposed Sawtooth National Recreation Area, Sept. 23. All forest service women and their husbands are invited. Hostesses are Women of Sawtooth NRA office, Ketchum and Fairfield ranger districts.

All Women will be contacted by respective committee chairwomen prior to the meeting.

OFFICERS FOR the Pine Tree Club include, from left, Mrs. Edwin A. Fournier, vice president; Mrs. Donald A. Baird, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Darrel L. Wolfe, president. The group meets once each month from September through May.

Club leaders

Films slated in Sun Valley

SUN VALLEY — The Sun Valley Creative Arts Center will present "An Experience in Film," a program of short subject films by American and European directors, Aug. 18 through 20.

On Aug. 18 "Animal Farm" plus one short subject will be shown and on Aug. 19 short subjects including "Owl Creek" by Robert Enrico will be shown. Both performances will be at 8 p.m. at the Sun Valley Inn.

Attend meet

GLENNIS FERRY — Mrs. Carl Trail instructed junior and senior girls attending the home economics demonstrations and judging contest on modeling for the style review Thursday.

Gail Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Anderson, Glennis Ferry, received a red ribbon on "Stuffing Foods."

MAYOR John Christoffersen and library board chairman Eugene Stacey look over a book about early Idaho that the mayor will take to Singen, Germany, Twin Falls' sister city, later this month. Behind the men is a painting of the Twin Falls near the city, as well as a silver plaque presented by Singen city leaders to Twin Falls.

TWIN FALLS — Mayor John Christoffersen may have a little less room in his suitcase than he originally planned.

The mayor is leaving later this month for a trip to Europe, and one of his planned stops will be in Singen, Germany, the Twin Falls sister city.

When he gets to Singen near the end of August, he will have several books to present to the city, mostly dealing with local history and folklore.

Library officials picked out some books for Christoffersen to take along, including a volume entitled "The Snake River Country."

Other works include maps of early Idaho, "Diamondfield Jack," and "Buckskin and Smoke," about early Magic Valley settlers, and "Arid Acres," a history of the Kimama - Minidoka home-owners in the first third of this century.

The mayor will leave Aug. 16 for his trip.

Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married for two years and have a new baby. We got along fine, but suddenly we have a problem. My husband makes very good money and says he will buy us a home on one condition—that his mother (a widow) and his unmarried sister, 33, live with us.

Both his mother and sister are working and are well able to support themselves, and they share a house right now, which they plan to sell so they can live with us.

Abby, I have always gotten along well with my mother in law and my sister in law, too, but I don't want to live in one house with them.

Hubby wants relatives to live in

I've tried to explain this to my husband, but he doesn't want to understand. He keeps pointing out the advantages (his mother can baby-sit for us) but I still don't like the idea.

He says before he knew how strongly I felt about this he talked a lot to his mother and sister about the one big house idea, and now if he tells them he's changed his mind, it will cause big trouble. I know if I give in, I'll be sorry.

What do you suggest?

NEEDS ADVICE

DEAR NEEDS: DON'T give in. Tell your husband that you don't mind being the "heavy"—that he can tell his mother and sister that you feel the "one big house" idea won't work out. If it causes trouble, it will be acute and temporary, which is preferable to the endless, chronic problems living together would create.

DEAR ABBY: I have a 5-year-old daughter. My husband has many friends who visit him very often. Don't get me wrong, Abby, they are real nice guys for the most part, but their language is something else! I admit, I swear a little myself, but these men do worse than swear, their talk is downright filthy, and they also tell some pretty lusty stories.

I told my husband I didn't think his friends should talk like that in front of our little girl and he said, "Oh, she'll hear it soon enough anyway." She may, but she's at an age now where she repeats everything she hears, and I don't want her own home to be a bad influence on her. What advice have you for me?

A GOOD MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: If your husband's friends are "nice guys," they should respect a simple request to watch their language in the presence of a 5-year-old. So YOU make that request. And if they aren't as nice as you think they are, keep the child out of hearing range when the men come over.

DEAR ABBY: I am a member of a bridge club and each week we meet at the home of one of the members.

On several occasions I have noticed one woman "peeking" under the china to see what make it was. She examines the silverware very carefully, too. I consider this very nosy.

I am having the meeting next week and I shall have to have this woman in my home. I certainly don't want to buy new china just to make a good impression. So how do I keep this woman from snooping?

NEVER LOOKS

DEAR NEVER: You probably won't be able to. But tell her what your silver and china patterns are before she has a chance to look; that'll settle her hash!

Woman asks license for bullfighting

MADRID (UPI)—Blonde Angela Hernandez has decided to seek the help of Spain's highest labor court to open up bullfighting to women.

The 24-year-old torera, who was gored three times in Latin America where women are allowed to fight bulls, has been vainly trying for six months to get the Spanish bullfighters union to issue her a license to face the bulls with cape and sword.

Her lawyer Jose Briones said Wednesday she had asked Madrid's Central Labor Court to uphold her request on grounds that women should not be discriminated against in any profession.

"If women can play soccer, fly airplanes and act as lawyers why should they be discriminated against in the bullrings?" Angela said in an interview.

Under Spanish law, women can fight the bulls only from horseback, and Angela has already been a rejoneadora, as mounted toreros are called.

Electric chair exhibited

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—The Ohio Historical Society is interested in obtaining the state's electric chair for display in an exhibit "on torture and punishment."

Although state officials have not yet decided whether to discard the chair that has been used to kill 315 persons since 1897 at the Ohio Penitentiary, historical society director Daniel R. Porter said his organization would accept the device.

He said the chair would not be permanently displayed because "it's too grisly," but would be part of a temporary exhibit on torture along with whipping posts.

DOWN TOWN
ON THE MALL

TWIN FALLS — The First Baptist Church, Twin Falls, was the setting for the Aug. 4 wedding of Deborah Rudolph and Daniel Peter Even Jr.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Rudolph, Twin Falls, and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Peter Even, Boise, are parents of the bridegroom.

Father T. J. Lafey performed the double ring ceremony before an altar flanked by baskets of pink gladioli and white mums accented with white satin streamers. Pink gladioli satin bows centered with miniature white wedding bells marked the pews and brass candelabra with white candles were also decorated with pink satin bows and miniature wedding bells. Mrs. Lucille Hankins made the church decorations.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length white organza gown fashioned with a bouffant skirt. The mandarin collar, cuffs and the nylon tulle yoke were all edged with white daisies centered with seed pearls and white daisies with seed pearls cascaded the gores of the skirt. Her illusion net veil was held by a cluster of white daisies and seed pearls with seed pearls and daisies edging a long train.

She carried a cascading bouquet of white, carnations centered with pink miniature roses tied with white satin streamers. The roses were clipped from the bouquet for her going away corsage.

Mrs. Rick White, Ely, Nev., was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Vickie Rick Rudolph and Shannon Rudolph, sisters of the bride. All wore identical gowns fashioned by Mrs. Calvin Hoffman.

Marcel White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rick White, was flower girl and carried a basket of pink and white mums and baby's breath. Ring-bearer was Robbie Groves, son of Robert Groves, Kimberly, and Mrs. Connie Groves, Burley, carried rings on a white satin lace-trimmed pillow.

Candlelighters and ushers were Rodney Rudolph, Kimberly, cousin of the bride, and Jim Bish, Boise, uncle of the bridegroom.

Russ LeMoine, Twin Falls, college friend of the bridegroom, was best man. Groomsmen were Gene Strobel, Kuna, and Allen Even, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Francis Rider played the traditional wedding music preceding the ceremony. The wedding march was played by Dick Chilcoat, who also accompanied Mrs. Rider, soloist.

A buffet style reception honoring the newlyweds was held at the home of the bride's parents immediately after the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a pink satin cloth with an overlay of white organza edged with ruffled white daisy lace.

Round quartet tables, with covers matching the bride's table and centered with daisy bell lanterns surrounded by pink daisies and begonias, were placed in the center of the garden. The tables were encircled with aisle stanchions joined by pink and white garlands, attached to the stanchions by pink satin bows.

Contestants invited to Mackay event

MACKAY — Girls of all ages are invited to participate in the third annual Mackay All-Girl Rodeo Sept. 3.

Entries will be recorded Aug. 30 from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Anyone wishing to participate may call rodeo secretary Eileen Lemmon at 588-3375.

The eight-event show, plus exhibition saddle bronc riding, will feature prizes of $25 in each event plus entry fees and a belt buckle.

On the program are barrel racing, goat tying, steer and decorating, breakaway roping, steer riding, bareback riding, team roping and pole bending.

A rodeo queen contest will be held Sept. 2 for all single girls age 14-21 residing in region I of the High School Rodeo Association. Entry blanks may be obtained from Bea Twitchell, Mackay, or from the Big Lost River Irrigation Office in Mackay.

MR. AND MRS. DANIEL P. EVEN JR.

The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with pink roses and was made by Mrs. Mary Harrell, Burley. The wedding cake was topped with a heart-shaped trellis entwined with roses and centered with miniature bride and bridegroom, and was made by Mrs. Lloyd Kelley, Twin Falls. Punch was served from a crystal punch bowl and crystal mint and nut dishes completed the bride's table.

Mrs. Ivan Otto, Jerome, served the punch. The cake was cut and served by Mrs. Manuel Anduiza, Boise, and Mrs. Fred Rose, Ogden, Utah, aunts of the bridegroom, assisted by Sharon Rudolph, cousin of the bride, and Marilyn Even, sister of the bridegroom.

Teresa Even, sister of the bridegroom, was in charge of the guest book. Mrs. Russ LeMoine, Maria Chigbrow and Debbie Milligan, college friends of the bride, arranged and displayed the gifts. Gift tables were covered with white lace with floor-length ruffled pink satin flounces.

Guests entered the garden through a walkway of aisle stanchions, lighted by hurricane lanterns and garlands to the reception line.

The reception line formed before a white wrought iron archway topped in the center with two large wedding bells and entwined with garlands of pink flowers and berries.

Baskets of pink gladioli and white mums were at each end. Special guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. George Rudolph, grandparents of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Bish, grandparents of the bridegroom.

Guests attended from Pasco, Wash.; Ely, Nev.; Ogden, Utah, and Parma, Filer, Paul, Caldwell, Jerome, Hagerman, Pocatello, Idaho Falls, Meridian, Hailey, Boise, Burley, Kimberly and Twin Falls.

After a wedding trip to Sun Valley, the couple resides in Twin Falls where the bride is employed at Price Hardware and the bridegroom is employed at Warberg's Moving and Storage.

By Oswald & James Jacoby
In his long, distinguished bridge career John Gerber of Houston (inventor of the Gerber convention) has been known as one of the great card players of all time.

In today's hand, taken from the World's championship mixed, we see him at his best in salvaging a six-club contract. Most other pairs arrived at the easy six-hearts after North made a negative double of the two-spade overcall but Johnny does not believe in negative doubles and his partner could find no better bid than three clubs.

Johnny won the spade lead and ran off three rounds of trumps, stopping in dummy. He noted East's discard of a spade.

There was no way to avoid a heart loser; he had to avoid losing a diamond trick.

Open Saturdays

POCATELLO — Several offices at Idaho State University will be open on Saturdays from now until the start of the fall semester.

The hours were changed for the convenience of students who wish to enroll for the 1972-73 academic year.

In addition to regular summer hours of 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday, the office of the registrar and admissions will be open from 8 a.m. to noon Aug. 19 for students who want to apply for admission.

The Curriculum Advising Program Office will also observe Saturday hours, 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Aug. 19.

Jacoby

Should West hold the singleton eight-spot, he could lead the 10 from dummy and pick the eight. A better chance would be to find West with either the singleton queen or jack or possibly the double queen-jack. Johnny decided to investigate the diamonds and did so by playing three rounds of hearts.

West won the third heart and Johnny had a pretty good count on his hand. He looked like a man with 6-3-3-1 distribution. Johnny played his ace of diamonds and dropped West's jack. After that it was a simple matter to go to dummy with the nine of hearts and finesse against East's queen.

Brides must take test

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (UPI)—Brides-to-be must take a test for German measles after October 1 in Illinois.

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie Thursday signed into law a measure requiring the test before wedding licenses are issued to prospective brides.

If a woman is found susceptible to the disease—also known as rubella—the state can force her to be immunized but can't call off her wedding.

If, however, a bride can't produce a physician's affidavit showing she underwent the test for German measles, the county clerk will refuse to give her a wedding license unless she has been immunized against German measles.

TWIN FALLS — There seems to be some confusion about the two types of oven cleaning methods.

Pyrolytic — also known as "self-cleaning," and catalytic — generally called "continuous clean."

Pyrolysis (pyrolytic) is chemical decomposition by heat. A pyrolytic or "self-clean" range has special controls and extra insulation installed to safely raise the internal oven temperatures above normal baking temperatures. A temperature of over 850 degrees is necessary to incinerate the soil within the locked oven cavity.

Catalysis (catalytic): In this cleaning method, panels or the oven lining are coated with a special porcelain containing a catalyst (a substance within a compound which causes or speeds up a chemical reaction without experiencing a change itself).

The oven soil is oxidized from the porcelain interior in a heated environment supplied by "normal oven operating temperatures." Spots are not removed immediately, but disappear gradually, while the oven is heated and used over a period of time.

Catalytic appearance: The catalyst containing porcelain is of a dark color—dark gray, charcoal gray, or flat black. Some preparations are a solid color; some are stippled with white. The surface is matte, rather than shiny. The coating is rough to the touch; applied in this way to increase the surface exposure of the catalyst. Grease splatters appear to spread or enlarge on the coating and have a "wet" look until they disappear.

Pyrolytic appearance: This oven uses a shiny gray porcelain for the oven interior.

Catalytic cleaning performance — Catalytic cleaning is most effective on grease splatters. Sugar-based and protein content boil overs tend to smother the catalyst, rendering it inactive.

The catalytic ranges now being marketed do not use the coating on the door liners or oven bottoms and it cannot be used on oven racks. This necessitates manual cleaning of those areas. Operating the oven from 400-500 degrees for about an hour will increase the effectiveness of soil removal.

Pyrolytic cleaning performance — At the end of the cleaning cycle the oven is sparkling clean (like new), including oven door and racks. In some ranges even the drip pans from beneath the surface units can be cleaned in the oven during the cleaning cycle.

A trace of light ash may remain to be wiped away. The area around the outside of the door heat seal is not cleaned automatically but should be cleaned with sudsy water and, if necessary, a mild abrasive. Cost of electricity for cleaning — about 7 cents per cleaning, finding it is not totally self-cleaning.

Commercial oven cleaners or protective coatings should not be used in either type of oven. Care should be used to avoid scratching or marring the surface of the "continuous clean" oven.

Because it does not cost as much to manufacture, the range with a catalytic oven usually sells at a lower price. If the homemaker does not understand its limitations, she could be disappointed upon model.

Hints

Never stand a broom on its bristles. If broom is not equipped with a ring or string for hanging, store the broom by leaning it against something, bristles up.

Have a hairbrush made of animal bristles. Wash it in warm soapsuds. Rinse and dry it on a towel placed in the shade, bristles down. When it is nearly dry, turn it, bristles up, and place in sun.

Painted furniture is easier to keep clean if it is waxed.

Book Review

Boise State busing as new term nears

ALLEN BENZ
Twin Falls Public Library
"WIN-FALLS" — "The Humanoids" is one of those books that is both intriguing and chilling in its implications.
Charles Bowen and five other renowned researchers have gathered together in one volume over 300 accounts, from around the world, of alleged encounters between humans and other sentient beings.
Reading through the reports, one finds that people in different countries who have no contact with each other report basically the same thing.

The primary question should not be concerned with little green men from outer space, but rather what are these people seeing.

For instance, what caused a Brazilian farmer in 1957, a New England mailman in 1961 and a French farmer in 1965 to describe practically the same thing. None of the three knew of the other's existence. Either they had identical

"hallucinations" — which if true, would revolutionize psychology and psychiatry — or they actually experienced what they reported.

In either case, reports such as these deserve to be treated in an objective, serious manner rather than with outright rejection and ridicule.

"The Humanoids," available at the library, is heartily recommended for your reading enjoyment and enlightenment.

BOISE — The big news at Boise State College this fall concerns people, places and things.

Boise State has a new vice president, two new deans and 27 new faculty and staff, a new school of health sciences, a new food service and a new concept in dormitory living.

The new vice president, Dr.
David Stanton-Taylor, is the vice president of student affairs.

Dr. Taylor, who comes to Boise State from Western

Illinois University, has responsibility of student personnel services, including financial aids, placement, registrar, dean of men, dean of women, counselling and student union programs.

Dr. Victor Duke is the new dean of the school of health sciences. Dr. Duke is a former professor of pharmacology at the University of Montana. Dr.
Duke is responsible for all health occupation and medically-related programs at

Boise State from Western

taught by the vocational-technical division.

The other new dean is Mrs.
Susan Mitchell who was appointed dean of women at Boise State effective Aug. 1. Mrs.
Mitchell earned her B.A. degree at the University of Colorado and M.A. degree at the University of Oregon. Mrs.
Mitchell came to Boise State from the Bank of Idaho, Boise.

Fred Norman has been appointed the student activities director with an office in the responsible for assisting student activity programming and also coordinating all student activities on campus.

Norman is no stranger to Boise State. He was a former instructor in theater arts at the college. He and his wife, Joretta, have two children. July 1 the new school of health sciences came into being with Dr. Victor Duke as its head. Programs covered by the school will include medical record librarian technician, medical secretary, medical technology, registered nursing, radiologic technology, inhalation therapy, pre-dental,

pre-medical, pre-pharmacy,
pre-optometry, pre-osteopathy, pre-podiatry and pre-veterinary medicine.

A.R.A. Slater took over feeding operations Aug. 1 in the college union, replacing SAGA Foods, which had held the contract a number of years.
Slater's contract for the food service calls for lower prices and more flexibility. Students who purchase the regular seven-day, 28-meal ticket can expect to save $45 per year in comparison to last year's cost.

The new food service will provide a steak dinner every Wednesday night during the school year and once a month will arrange a special buffet or other type of festive dinner as a "montony breaker."

All students, living on or off campus, may purchase meal tickets to eat in the union.
Morrison Hall will be run as an experimental coed dormitory for 78 men and women during the 1972-73 school year.

Shawna Stanger, Sievers say vows

HANSEN — Shawna Lyn Stanger became the bride of Don Dunne Sievers in rites July 28 at the Murtaugh LDS Ward Chapel.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Stanger, Hansen. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sievers, Twin Falls.

Bishop William O. Lyda performed the double-ring ceremony before baskets of white gladioli, blue chrysanthemums, baby's breath and greenery accented with blue and white bows.

The bride, escorted by her father, wore a Victorian Bridal Original gown designed with scalloped floral cotton Guipure Venice lace on the empire bodice and outlined the flared flounce that swept to a wattleau chapel train. A satin ribbon encircled the empire waistline to form a bow and long streamers in back.

A Venise flower and satin camelot headpiece held her three-tiered elbow-length veil of nylon illusion. The lace was repeated in all three tiers.

She carried a crescent cascade bouquet of blue carnations, baby's breath and white roses tied with blue ribbon streamers.

Charlene Stout, Provo, Utah, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Doug Werner, Kimberly, and Kim Stanger, sister of the bride. Angela Cushman, cousin of the bridegroom, was flower girl. She was escorted by Craig Sanger, brother of the bride, who served as ringbearer.

Lynn Pearson, Hansen, served as best man. Roger Sievers, brother of the bridegroom, and Darrell Taylor, Jerome, were groomsmen. Ushers were Byron Stanger, brother of the bride, and Ron Mothershead. Burt Hulsh served as soloist, with Mrs. J. Hamilton Smith organist.

The couple was honored at a reception after the ceremony in the cultural hall. The bride's table was covered with white lace flounce over blue satin.

The scalloped, three-tiered chocolate wedding cake was iced in white with blue lilies and green ferns. It was topped with three lace bells.

Guests were seated at quartet tables similar to the bride's table and centered with old fashioned lamps holding blue candles and encircled by blue Fashionettes.

New sleeve looks give sweaters a shot in the arm for fall and winter. Even the undying turtleneck and crew sweaters look fresh with dolman sleeves.

TO BE UGLY.

In the old days it was often true that if you wanted a comfortable chair you had to settle for an ugly chair.

But today's furniture manufacturers have changed that completely.

In furniture history there never has been a time when such a great variety of beautiful and comfortable chairs have been offered to the public as we have now.

You owe it to yourself and your family to see all the new chair ideas.

For the man in your house you may want to look over some new comfortable lounge chairs. You know, someone once said the best manager of all for the tired businessman is a chair he can come home to stretch out on and relax and forget his business problems every day of his life. These chairs are more practical and beautiful than ever before.

And the lady of the house is entitled to a comfortable chair too. She will want a more feminine-type chair, and one that will harmonize with the furnishings in the rest of the room. There's a great variety right now.

If you haven't gone chair shopping recently, this is a good time to see all the new chairs that are both beautiful to look at and comfortable to sit in. We reward a genuine inclination for you to come in.

and lavender flowers. Guests were served by Deann Dalrymple, Mrs. Lynn Pearson, and Debbie Butler.

Reception hostesses were Mrs. Don Arrington, Mrs. Rex Gardner, Mrs. William Pearson, Mrs. Leo Stanger and Mrs. John Stout.

Bonnie Larson was in charge of the guest book. Katie Rasmussen, Mrs. Marshall Schroeder, Sandra Fredrickson and Pam Boulton displayed the gifts. Giftbearers were Bonnie Pearson, Ramona Pearson, and Risa Stanger.

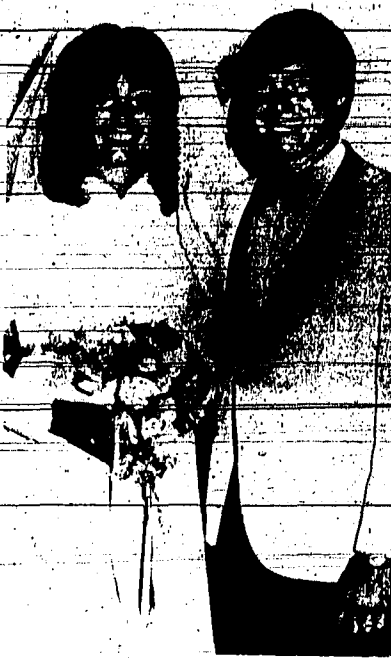

Special guests attending were Mrs. Mary Stanger, Hansen, grandmother of the bride; Mrs. Anna Sievers and Mr. and Mrs. Neil Miller, Twin Falls, grandparents of the bridegroom; Mrs. Tazzie Gross, Jerome, great-aunt of the bridegroom, and Fred Nagler, Piler, great-uncle of the bridegroom.

Guests attended from Washington, Montana, Utah, Nampa, Caldwell, Shoshone, Buhl, Jerome, Flor, Boise, Burley, Murtaugh, Twin Falls, Kimberly and Hansen.

After a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe, Carson City and Reno, the couple reside in Twin Falls where the bride will be attending the College of Southern Idaho and the bridegroom is employed with his father.

The parents of the bridegroom entertained at a rehearsal dinner at their home. Assisting were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bowler, Mrs. William Pearson and Mrs. Darrell Wannamaker.

The bride was honored at a kitchen shower given by Mrs. Dave McKinley, Mrs. Eldon Ethington and Mrs. Richard Luff; a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. William Pearson, Mrs. Bob High, Mrs. Wayne Butler and Mrs. Lynn Pearson and a miscellaneous shower given by Bonnie Larson and Mrs. Doug Werner.

Antique Festival plans Gem return

TWIN FALLS — The Antique Festival Theatre, which has completed 34 of its scheduled 55 performances, will soon be returning to southern Idaho.

Reporting from Spokane, Wash., where the troupe has been engaged by the city parks and recreation department as a demonstration workshop, producing director Aldrich Bowler said the experience was exciting.

"It's wonderful to penetrate a large city with an outfit like this," said Bowler. "Our audience followed us from park to park like we were a carnival. A rather large group of Spokane's black community came to America, I Love You, and seemed to enjoy it. But they walked out on Before the Flood. Just didn't dig it, I guess," Bowler said.

Bowler said northern Idaho town audiences were larger than last season, while at Farragut State Park there were fewer campers than during last year's performances.

A rented school bus carried the company, costumes and effects to perform at the University of Idaho's Kiva Theatre, after the tour bus had clutch and transmission trouble on Whitebird Hill. The bus was towed to Craigmont for repairs.

Orientation events set at U of I

MOSCOW — Orientation and registration events will begin at the University of Idaho Aug. 24, with classes scheduled to begin Aug. 31.

Dr. Jean Hill, dean for student advisory services, said there are several new features this year, including bus tours of the campus for parents, dinner exchanges with sororities, fraternities and independent living groups, and separate orientation for transfer students.

Enrollment for the 1972 fall semester is expected to be about the same as last year, when 6,999 students enrolled for the fall semester.

Persons planning to enroll for the fall semester should make sure everything necessary for admission is in order prior to arrival on campus.

College of law students will follow a slightly different schedule, according to Dr. Albert R. Menard Jr., dean of the college. First year law students will begin registration Aug. 29, and law classes will begin Aug. 28.

Rush for the campus sororities will begin Sunday, Aug. 20, with pledges to be chosen Aug. 28. Fraternities have been conducting informal rush all summer, but formal events begin Aug. 24.

Students will spend their first few days meeting with living groups, conferring with faculty members, taking tests, and finally registering for classes. Social events planned include barbecues, recreation, a theater production, coffee house entertainment, movies and a dance.

Every 45 minutes on Aug. 28 student forums will be presented to outline the full range of student services available, including those for health, housing and food, legal advice, and special interests.

Separate orientation for transfer students will begin Aug. 27 when the transfer students will meet with deans.

Hints

Before washing a girdle, close zipper and be sure the clasps are open.

Wash latex rubber girdles by hand.

Always lift stemware by the stem instead of the cup to lessen chances of breakage.

First aid for expensive crystal goblets chipped at the edges: a good glazier may be able to grind the chipped area, smoothing it out.

TF miss slates recital Aug. 16

Miss Bonnett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Bonnett, Twin Falls, is a student of Helen Allen and Martha Mead.

Selections will include

"Prelude and Fugue Major" by Bach and "Glo Babbino Caro," an aria from the opera, "Gianni Schicchi" by Puccini.

The public is invited to attend. Oklahoma's first school for the blind was opened at Gibson in 1898.

Wheat deals help farmers, push bread price

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The recent unexpected boom in sales of U.S. wheat to Russia may save American taxpayers a lot of money, perhaps over $100 million, in reduced payments to farmers.

It also may put pressure on bread prices if domestic wheat prices remain at current levels. However, the value of wheat in a one-pound loaf of bread has risen less than 0.4 cent because of a 30 cent per bushel jump in raw wheat prices, Agriculture Department economists estimate. The possibility of reduced government farm subsidy costs grows out of the fact that price support payments to wheat farmers are based on the gap between average July-November market prices and the $3.02 a bushel full-parity price of wheat.

Under the support law, the Agriculture Department earlier estimated the market average at the farm level would be $1.31 a bushel, thus leaving a total payment of $1.71. An initial partial payment of $1.28 was made last month, leaving the remaining 43 cents to be paid after the actual July-November average was known.

Under the impact of heavy Russian purchases, however, wheat markets have now risen about 30 cents a bushel. Officials will not predict future price movements or the exact impact on the July-November average, but they say it seems probable that average will be well above the level they originally expected. Assuming this proves correct, the gap between July-November prices and the $3.02 parity level will be smaller than expected, and the remaining installment of the wheat support payment will be less than 43 cents, one official pointed out.

The official said he could not predict how much the final potential payment might come down, but he said a reasonable estimate might be half. Reducing the 43-cent final support payment to 21 cents would cut government subsidy outlays by $117 million.

On top of this, officials said there would be further savings from reduced storage and handling charges on surplus grains. Some of the savings would be offset by increased wheat export subsidy outlays, but officials insisted there could still be a large net saving for the taxpayers.

The Agriculture Department's most recent estimates indicate a one-pound loaf of bread—selling in April for a national average of 24.7 cents—contained 3.6 cents worth of farm products, including 2.6 cents worth of wheat. An economist calculated a 30 cent advance in wheat prices would raise the value of the wheat to 2.07 cents.

Sewage discharge to end

BOISE — A "Zero Discharge" water quality control project has been announced by the J. R. Simplot Company.

James Conrad, President of the company's Food Division, said that a 600 to 800 acre waste irrigation system was being developed at Caldwell on company owned farm ground northwest of the existing treatment facilities. "When finished the complete waste retention system will be one of the largest year round operations of this type in the nation, and will achieve 'Zero Discharge' of the plant's waste water," Conrad said.

Anaerobic ponds, though efficient, occasionally present an odor problem.

Oates noted the project was designed in four separate steps to insure sufficient data was obtained on each phase to determine the requirements and feasibility of the completed project.

Oates said that Phase I of the project was the successful operation of a 12-acre test plot this past winter and spring.

Based on those results the company has decided to go the direction of the land disposal method rather than advanced biological treatment such as installed last year at their Burley-Heyburn operations.

The two principal reasons being the availability of land and the preference by state and federal regulatory agencies of land disposal, he said.

Phase II of the project, which is nearing completion, is the leveling, ditching, diking, and planting of approximately 250 acres of land suitable for year round irrigation.

Starting next spring, the third phase of approximately 350 acres will be developed.

Phase IV will be initiated the following spring, and will include any additional land necessary to accommodate the processing facility's entire primary effluent and any modifications found desirable after two winters of actual operation.

Grass harvested from the project will be fed to cattle, and the manure will be spread back on the land, accomplishing an enclosed system and completely eliminating any wastewater being discharged into the Boise River.

Screened and settleable solids now being removed in the company's primary treatment plant are fed to cattle.

TF Fair poultry rules set

FILER — Doyle Shriver, Buhl, has been named superintendent of the poultry department of the Twin Falls County Fair Sept. 5-9.

Wayne Ill, Hagerman, will serve as department judge. All poultry entries should be made Sept. 4. Judging will begin at 9 a.m., Sept. 5.

Exhibits do not show well if there are too many birds in one coop, according to Shriver. Owing to the limited number of coops and display space, no exhibitor will be allowed to make more than two entries in any one class.

All exhibits will be cared for under the supervision of the superintendent. Birds will be fed and cared for during the time of the fair without cost to exhibitors.

Owners must remove birds at the close of fair. All poultry must be removed by noon, Sept. 10.

Entry blanks may be obtained at the fair secretary's office. All entries must state number of birds, band numbers and exhibitor's name.

A pen consists of four hens or four pullets. A pen of turkeys consists of three hens and a gobble, and a pen of ducks consists of three ducks and a drake.

First and second ribbons and premiums will be awarded chickens, capons, turkey, geese and ducks.

There are 11 classes of chickens, including: White Leghorn, Black Australop, Barred Plymouth Rock, White Plymouth Rock, Rhode Island Red, New Hampshire, Brahma, bantam, cross breeds, light weight cross breeds, heavy weight, and show chickens.

Turkeys include Narragansett, white, bronze and Bourbon. Geese are Toulouse and white Embden; ducks, Mallards, Pekin, Muscovy and Rouen.

Land bank loans rise

SPOKANE — Loans outstanding reached an all-time high for The Federal Land Bank of Spokane at fiscal year-end, June 30, according to President Fred A. Knutsen.

The cooperative lending institution reported long-term mortgage loans totaling more than $755 million.

"This has been the most outstanding year in the land bank's history resulting in more credit services offered to our northwest farmer and rancher borrowers," Knutsen commented.

The new record loan volume represents an increase of nearly $80 million over the previous fiscal year, Knutsen said.

Utah hot, cold

SAIT LAKE CITY (UPI) — According to the National Weather Service records, the coldest temperature recorded in Utah was 50 degrees below zero, reached at Woodruff on Feb. 6, 1899, and Strawberry Tunnel, Jan. 15, 1913. The hottest was 116 degrees at St. George, June 28, 1892.

FORECAST FOR SUNDAY, AUGUST 13, 1972

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You want to unite forces with another person and because of unusual circumstances you will not be able to do so. This situation could be just the nod needed to make you and someone of whom you are very fond closer and with mutual benefits.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You want to improve partnership affairs during your spare time today, so arrange a meeting with associates and do just that. Appreciate bluntness. Find right way to add to your popularity.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Ideal day to do something nice for one who has done favors for you in the past. Follow through with ideas for making your appearance more charming. Avoid a troublemaker.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Accepting an unexpected invitation now could lead to something very interesting. A sudden inspiration will also bring you closer to the one you love. Pay bills early in the day.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Ideal day to make conditions at home more harmonious and happy. Do some entertaining in the evening and graciously ask your friends to bring their friends. Be poised.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Go to that new site with persons who can help you to renew your philosophy of life of the past that proved so satisfying until you changed it. Later show more cooperation with all.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You have fine ideas on how to add to present abundance, so put them in operation quickly. Practical problems can be solved quickly now. Your newspaper can be very helpful to you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You are now able to add to your life that which has been missing and derive greater happiness in the future. Dress fashionably and meet the right people when you go out socially.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Quietly reflecting on your special goals now helps you to reach them in the near future. Your intuition is good now, so follow it. You can find the data you need at the right source.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Being active in the company of good friends could lead to greater advancement for you in the near future. You can now make up for lost time where your social life is concerned.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Be careful today you do nothing to jeopardize your fine reputation, but enhance it instead. You are anxious to add to present prestige and can do so easily.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Ideal day to start a new beginning in personal life and to make the new contacts that can lead to fine friendships. You can plan that trip you feel is necessary. Count the cost well.

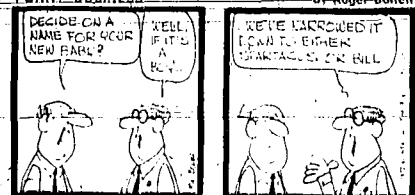

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Some time spent in meditation will help you get ideas now that can make the future much brighter for you. Control your temper and show the charming side of your nature.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will be one of those interesting young people who wants life to flow smoothly, but harsh reality may intervene. Teach early that these are challenges that can be overcome, thereby making your progeny a more capable person than most. Give as fine an education as you can afford. Sports are fine here.

It's the claim of the sewing machine makers that the average home seamstress turns out 27 garments a year. Do you believe that? Sounds high. They insist she stitches up six dresses, one suit, one coat, three blouses; three skirts, and a batch of slacks, lingerie and youngsters' clothes. A noteworthy average, if accurate.

IF THE father is a tense, ambitious, hard-driving man, it's most likely the baby will be a girl. If the mother is a nervous, high-strung, worrying woman, the baby is most apt to be a boy. Or so contend scholars at Iowa State University.

It's reported these researchers conducted numerous "interesting" experiments to find this out.

HALIBUT was the traditional entree on Christian holy days long before turkey or ham, air. In fact, the name halibut comes from the word holy.

AMONG peoples of the British Commonwealth, it's not just a legend but a fact that the Scots are the thriftiest. Bank deposits show the average Scot has $193 socked away while the rest of the British citizenry only averages $127 each.

AM ASKED how many spots around the country turn into ghost towns every year. Can only report the map makers annually drop the names from their charts of about 1,000 people-places. But they also add about 1,000 new names. It should be noted.

AB TO that Caesar Cardini for whom the Caesar salad was named, relatives now report he died in Los Angeles in 1956. And they confirm it was indeed he, none other, who originated that dandy dish.

IT HAS been claimed the great Paul Baudouin was responsible for the salvation of more marriages than anybody else on earth. He invested the first kiss-proof lipstick, that hero.

WHY DID the chicken cross the road? I don't know, but if it did so in Quitman, Ga., it could be arrested. Local law there makes it illegal for chicken to cross roads.

Jerome canvasses votes

News Of Servicemen

Sunday, August 13, 1972 Times-News, Twin Falls, Idaho 39

JEROME — Jerome County commissioners met Thursday night to canvass the votes from Tuesday's primary election. County clerk and auditor Mrs. Virginia Ricketts reported a total of 3,180 votes cast Tuesday, as compared to 2,297 in the 1968, and 2,261 in the 1970 primaries.

Several totals were changed in the official tally, but the outcome was not changed for any of the races. In the U. S. Senate race, Jerome County voters backed Democrat William E. (Bud) Davis and Republican George Hansen.

Davis officially received 176 votes; W. Anthony Park, 119; Rose Bowman, 27, and Byron Johnson, 48. This tally was not changed by the canvass.

On the Republican ticket, Hansen officially received 1,051; James A. McGuire, 821; Glen Wegner, 508, and Robert E. Smylie, 284. The unofficial count showed Hansen with 957, the only difference in the Republican senatorial race. In the bid for Republican nomination for state representative from district 23, Earl C. Greenwalt officially received 1,780 votes, one vote less than the unofficial total. Also running unopposed on the ballot for district 23 was Republican Vernon Ravenscroft, who officially received 1,748, no change from the previous count.

In other Republican voting, in uncontested races, Orval Hansen officially received 2,347, 29 less than the unofficial total, for U.S. Representative. James A. Yost received 2,941 for state senator, district 23. John L. Van Orman received officially 2,186, 18 less than originally reported, for county commissioner, second district.

Virginia Ricketts received 2,240 in the official canvass, 36 less than previous count, for city clerk, auditor and recorder.

Democratic ticket and 274 write-ins on the Republican ballot for county coroner. The Republican vote for sheriff was officially Eliza Hall, 645; Howard Dubois, 487 and increase of 50; Boyd Rydloch, 430, 20 less; Jack Parrott, 304; Dennis Robinson, 257, four more; James R. Laswell, 180; Irving Altman, 127, 24 less.

The only Democratic candidate for sheriff, Foley Asher, received 243 official votes, 10 less. Write-ins Howard Dubois received 17, two more, and Eliza Hall, six, two more.

Anna Louise Robinson received 294 official votes for state representative, district 23, one less than the unofficial vote.

Leo Rice received 40 official write-in votes, 14 more than originally, on the Democratic race for state representatives, incumbent Cleo C. Ambrose, district 23. Sonnich Sonnichson officially received 40 votes, 13 more, as a Democratic write-in candidate for county commissioner, first district.

Dr. Lauren Neher received 16 official write-in votes on the Democratic ticket.

Parked vehicle damaged

TWIN FALLS — A parked car was demolished Thursday when a vehicle driven by Carolyn Lorene Massie, 18, Twin Falls, struck it head on.

The parked car, owned by Robert E. Collins, was properly parked in front of his residence at 908 Washington St., Twin Falls, according to Twin Falls Police.

The vehicle driven by Miss Massie apparently ran off the main roadway, striking the parked car.

She received only slight injuries in the accident. A passenger, Ronald Owen, 17, Twin Falls, also received minor injuries in the mishap. Bart Blumer, 19, Twin Falls, another passenger, was not injured.

Damages to the Massie vehicle were estimated at $1,000. She was cited for driving while her license was suspended.

DEAR POLLY—The dogs and cats were tearing holes in my plastic garbage bags until I started putting just a few drops of household ammonia in the bottom of such a bag and the odor really drives them away.—JANET

DEAR POLLY.—Whenever I purchase a new book and before anyone handles it, I put wide transparent tape all around the edges of the jacket to keep it from tearing. Love the column;—JULIA

DEAR POLLY—Never throw away leftover ice cubes. Use them to water hanging plants, indoors or out. They melt slowly, so there is no danger of spillage or dripping.—ANNA

(Polly's Note—There are two schools of thought on this. Some claim the ice is too cold for plants, but I have seen beautiful plants that friends have told me were always watered with ice cubes.)

DEAR POLLY—When we travel by car I always take along a stalk of freshly washed celery. When anyone gets hungry or thirsty and we don't want to stop because of time, the celery answers either need for the time being.—MRS. A. C. M.

DEAR POLLY—I have a label in each of my suitcases with my name and local address in addition to the label on the outside of the bag. I also use name and address labels on the inside of my purse and inside my eyeglass case just in case they should be lost.—MRS. M. F.

A DOG PANTS IN ORDER TO COOL ITSELF. ON VERY HOT DAYS, WE HUMANS PERSPIRE AS A MEANS OF KEEPING OUR BODIES COOL. BUT A DOG HAS SWEAT GLANDS ONLY ON ITS NOSE AND FOOT PADS, AND IT CAN'T USE OUR METHOD OF KEEPING COOL. WHEN A DOG BECOMES TOO WARM, IT STICKS OUT ITS TONGUE AND BREATHES VERY RAPIDLY. THE EXTRA AIR COOLS THE INSIDE OF THE DOGS BODY.

FOR DR. JOYCE BROTHERS

I always thought George Wallace was ugly, but my girl friend tells me he's very sexy. Can you explain?—J. R., Hayward, Calif.

● A lot of women think of George Wallace as sexy, and there is a good reason. My radio poll of American women showed that very high on their list is a man who knows what he's doing and does it well. Far more important than physical beauty for today's woman is a man's competence, intelligence and self-confidence. But don't forget that every woman is also responding to her own special set of conditioning factors—there may have been a George Wallace kind of person in your girl friend's past, perhaps in her family. There is, however, a feeling of strength in George Wallace, to which many women find it easy to respond.

FOR ENGELBERT HUMPERDINCK

Is it true that when you were a kid, you thought you were funny looking?—L. Carter, Rock Island, Ill.

● True. I thought my nose was too short and my teeth stuck out too far. In my teens, when I went to bed at night, I would constantly pull my nose so it wouldn't look so much like a pug nose, and I buried my face in my pillow so my teeth would get pushed in. I also thought I was too fat and short.

How Quickly Can Emotional Ills Be Cured?

A controversial new approach to psychotherapy that saves time, saves money, and that does not ask you to describe your childhood.

By Alan D. Haas

If you, or someone you know, has tried to call a psychiatrist's office lately, you already may have some understanding of the problem. The doctor is inevitably busy. His appointments are booked up weeks, sometimes months, in advance. The cost of a visit is outrageous, ranging from $20 to $50 an hour. By the time a patient has a chance to discuss what is troubling him, he may already have spent several hundred dollars. And by the time his problem is solved, he might have spent thousands.

The result of all this, as one might predict, is that many people who desperately need psychiatric care, and want it, simply can't afford to have it. They can't afford it financially; they can't afford it in terms of time; they can't afford to find baby-sitters to care for their children while they visit the doctor.

Is the only answer for these people to go without care?

No, says Chicago psychiatrist Dr. Harry Garner, chief of psychiatry and neurology for the Chicago Medical School and Mt. Sinai Hospital. Dr. Garner has developed a new—but still controversial—way to help most troubled people back to normal living, and do it quickly and cheaply.

Dr. Garner's "psychiatric first aid" consists of simply confronting the patient sternly with the problems that are disabling him, prodding him to come up with workable solutions, and making him aware of "the absurdity of his self-image." A session may take as little as ten minutes. There are no long hours spent probing the roots of problems and delving into the patient's early years. No Freudian analysis in which the patient is encouraged to free associate about anything that comes into his mind.

How do Dr. Garner's ten-minute sessions work?

"Unlike conventional therapists," he explains, "we don't encourage patients to feel that the analyst is a God-like person capable of working magic. What we do is apply pressure on the patient to force him to explore and solve his problems. This is called 'confrontation problem-solving.' The key is to face the patient with a prohibitive statement: 'You must never, under any circumstances, do that'; or an expressive or permissive statement: 'It would be better if your husband died'; or an adaptive statement: 'I want you to continue to work at your job.' Then we ask, 'What do you think or feel about what I just told you?'"

"By making such statements, we force the patient to see that the status quo is not acceptable, that a solution must be found by continuous searching. The therapist's words make the patient want to end his behavior and seek a new solution."

As an example of how first-aid therapy works, Dr. Garner relates the case of a married woman in her forties who was depressed and suicidal. "She felt hopeless, incompetent, inadequate. She saw herself as a deprived, unfairly treated daughter. Her older brother was a very successful doctor. She felt that her own success was in being an orderly, neat, effective housewife and mother. Her husband had disregarded her desire not to move to Chicago from a Western state, and had also failed to recognize that when she arrived at her new home—a much less roomy house than she was used to—she found it in a state of sad disorder. She reacted to all this with the feeling that her husband loved his business more than he loved her, and that there was nothing worth living for."

"In her first-aid session, I told her: 'Stop believing that you have nothing worth living for.' Then I said, 'What do you think about what I just said?'"

"Her immediate reaction was to begin exploring all the reasons why

N. Armstrong Roberts

"In her first-aid session, I told her: 'Stop believing that you have nothing worth living for.' Then I said, 'What do you think about what I just said?'"

life was worthwhile. She recognized that her feelings represented a response to a narcissistic hurt that was unwarranted and excessive. She chose to react on the basis of her assets rather than of her wounded pride."

As Dr. Garner explains it, a patient, in his headlong flight from reality, finds himself confronted by the therapist in a way that cuts off his line of retreat. If he still wants to evade reality, he must produce some reasons for wanting to do so. This forces the patient to evaluate his reasons and choose how to behave. These forced evaluations help reduce the patient's anxiety.

Whether Dr. Garner's methods work as well as conventional therapy or not, they at least come to grips with two big problems: (1) the expense of psychiatric treatment (ten-minute sessions are naturally much cheaper than 50-minute ones); and (2) the inability of psychiatrists to handle the swelling number of people who are nowadays seeking help.

One psychiatrist who lauds Dr. Gardner's efforts, at least in theory, is Dr. Wilbert Sykes, of the American Foundation of Religion and Psychiatry in New York. "Provided you accept that the technique is essentially superficial, has limitations, and may require much repetition," asserts Dr. Sykes, "you can't quarrel with it. There are some patients who, despite limitations of time and money, need any help they can get."

Freudians, Dr. Sykes points out, might call it "giving a patient chicken soup," while other, more innovative therapists might say, "Well let's try it.

What we have is not that good." Anything that seems to work, from a pragmatic standpoint, is certainly worth the effort. Nevertheless, Dr. Sykes feels it should be made clear that many patients would probably not respond to this type of treatment.

One psychiatrist who feels that there might actually be more disadvantages than benefits from Dr. Gardner's methods is Dr. Richard Gardner, psychiatrist on the staff of Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons and the William Allison White Institute in New York. "The confrontation technique, which we all use to some degree, enhances the possibility of dependency on the analyst, since the patient is not encouraged to make independent judgments," Dr. Gardner claims.

"There is also the greater chance for error when the analyst does not give the patient time to free associate. Much may lie undiscovered when dealing only with the patient's immediate situation. Underlying motivations remain hidden. Some high, low-bred patients probably can tolerate a 15-minute session, others might even benefit from it, since they are unable to tolerate longer time periods. But a great many patients would probably feel that they are just getting started when their time is up, and this could lead to resentment of the therapist."

"On the whole," concludes Dr. Gardner, "I would say that the limitations outweigh the advantages. I couldn't endorse it. Yet, I would not say that Dr. Garner may not be helping at least some individuals in some cases."

AN EXPERT ANSWERS YOUR QUESTIONS ABOUT MUSCLES

Our files show that thousands of readers like yourself want to build bulging muscles and achieve real physical power like their favorite athletic champions. How to go about it? We decided to ask an expert, Dave Prowse, 3-times British Weightlifting champion and leading fitness expert. Here are his answers.

Q. What does it take to build muscles?

A. Basically, it takes exercise. Almost any exercise will help to develop at least some of your muscles if you keep at it long enough and hard enough.

Q. Isn't there an easier way?

A. Yes. There is one outstandingly effective training method that is also fast and easy—the one I use and recommend—the new Bullworker system.

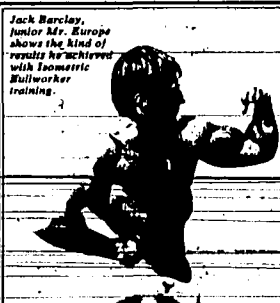

Q. What's that?

A. The Bullworker is a revolutionary new muscle-building exerciser based on isometrics, the science that increases strength up to four times faster than conventional methods. In my opinion, it's the most advanced training system in the world today. Many leading athletes use it: World-famous Heavyweight Boxer Muhammad Ali; World Heavyweight Judo Champion Wim Ruksa; and Cycling Champion Eddy Merckx, to name only a few.

Q. How long does Bullworker training take?

A. Bullworker provides absolutely the fastest kind of exercise possible. In fact, an introduction training program takes only 70 seconds a day. No other system—weightlifting, pulleys, or strenuous calisthenics—can give you results so quickly and easily. On the contrary, many old-fashioned methods take hours of sweaty, boring work each day...and it's often months before you begin to see improvements. Busy professional athletes and champions don't have time for that. Nobody does.

Q. How long does it take before you begin getting results?

Jack Barclay, Junior Mr. Europe shows the kind of results he achieves with Isometric Bullworker training.

Dave Prowse, 3-time British Weightlifting champion demonstrates a super-effective 7-second exercise for building powerful biceps...using the new Bullworker with built-in powermeter.

A. With the Bullworker, you can actually begin to see and measure the positive results right from the very first day. That's because the training device called the Powermeter. After every exercise you just check the reading to see exactly how much your strength has increased from the day before. There's no guesswork involved. Isometric Bullworker training can increase your power at the amazing rate of up to 4% per week! That means a 30% increase in strength in the first three months alone. And I've known many young men who have gone on to double and even triple their strength.

Q. What do those figures mean in visual terms?

A. They mean that in as little as 14 days you can actually begin to see muscle growth in a mirror and verify it with a tape measure. Every week thereafter brings even faster growth.

Q. But to get such impressive results, don't you have to work very hard?

A. Absolutely not. That's the outstanding advantage of isometric training...it's so amazingly easy! Each "Static-power" isometric exercise takes only 7 seconds, and you barely have to move. It's not even necessary to disrobe. The Bullworker is so light and compact, it can be used at home, in the office, anywhere...even while watching TV! It's a great improvement over bulky, expensive weights, bicycle machines, pulleys, etc.

Q. Can Bullworker training even develop bodies which are weak and skinny, or fat and flabby?

A. Definitely! It's been proven by thousands of men of every shape, size and age all over the world. Bullworker training helps transform weak, thin arms into rippling, muscular pillars of strength; build broad, powerful shoulders, turn flat, shallow chests into deep, manly ones, forge loose stomach flaps into steel-hard, well-defined muscle; build flat "V" shape of a real athlete, develop sturdy, contoured thighs and calves... And all this in record time!

What's more, I've known skinny, thin fellows who, after just a few short weeks with Bullworker, turned into real go-getters...every inch a man...bowling girls over with their dynamism, confidence, and new found power! You really have to see the remarkable effects of Bullworker for yourself to believe them!

Q. How can our readers find out more about the Bullworker, perhaps actually try it for themselves?

A. I understand that the Bullworker distributor in the USA is now making it available for on a two-week home-trial basis in order to introduce it to the general public. If your readers are interested in developing their bodies, in building muscles and strength faster than ever before possible, I suggest that they contact the US distributor for full details.

People Quiz

Does Your Name Really Suit Your Personality?

True or False: The most popular children have the most popular names. (See number 4.)

By John E. Gibson

A name is to a person what a label is to a package. Hopefully, ideally, it gives an intimation of what's inside. Sometimes—with people as with packages—it does, and sometimes it doesn't. Whether you're one of the lucky people whose name fits you, or whether you're one of those who have always wished they'd been called something else, you'll have fun taking this True or False quiz.

TRUE OR FALSE?

1. The happier a person is with his name, the happier he is with himself.
2. Men prefer first names that show individuality and are "a cut above the ordinary."
3. Most people name their children after Uncle Whozis or Aunt What's-her-name.
4. The most popular children have the most popular names.
5. Many people never address their in-laws by name—even though they may live in the same house and face each other over the breakfast table every morning.

ANSWERS

1. True. If you're happy with your name, it's an indication that you approve of the kind of person you are, and are on good terms with yourself. People who dislike their names tend to express general dissatisfaction with themselves. In a university study, students who liked their names and those who didn't were interviewed by psychologists and given personality tests. Students who disliked their names gave themselves significantly lower self-ratings than the others, evidencing appreciably less self-esteem.
2. False. Surveys indicate that most men vastly prefer the more common names. Not so with women, however—they show a preference for names that stand out as being distinctive and uncommon, names that have a pleasing sound and suggest that the girl is someone special.

3. True—as indicated by the findings of a University of Chicago study, which surveyed a sample of 347 urban-middle-class mothers and their 951 children. The majority of the children were named for some relative. This practice was found to be even more prevalent with boys than girls—and some extremely oddball names are inherited in this fashion. Indeed, the offspring who has a rich uncle with a name you wouldn't want to be caught dead with, runs the risk of being saddled with it for life.

4. True—according to the findings of a University of Miami study that polled schoolchildren on the degree to which they liked or disliked their classmates. After an interval of 30 days, the boys and girls were again polled on the degree of like or dislike for each of 49 different first names, which occurred among the children. Findings: The most popular children had the most popular names. There was a marked tendency for children with bizarre or unusual names to be regarded as "different" or "peculiar."

5. True. Studies show that many people are in something of a quandary as to what to call their helpmate's mother or father. One form of address may seem too formal, and another may suggest more affection than they are inclined to feel. It's not that they don't want to acknowledge them as human beings exactly. It's that they feel more comfortable keeping them at arm's length—name-wise at least. Since they can't think of anything to call them, they evade the issue by not calling them anything.

The sun's shone on many a carefully tended green garden row this summer. Some morning this month, why not pick some of the produce while the dew is still on it, and start the kitchen aglow with the simmering aromas of spice laced with vinegar? After all, preserving isn't a chore; it's a happy, rewarding experience!

Home canning can be a rewarding and enjoyable experience if one follows the basic rules of standard canning procedures. It is a good idea to go over these rules before starting your preserving this year.

Check over your canning jars and fittings. The sealing edges of jars should not be nicked, cracked or chipped. The sealing compound on the dome lids should be in good condition, if you're using this type of jar. It is a good idea to buy new dome lids every year. The jar bands may be used over if they are in good condition.

Check your steam-pressure and water-bath canners to be sure they are in perfect working order. In our recipes we have used the open-kettle method for the "Elegant Peach Marmalade." It contains a lot of sugar, is made with liquid pectin and can be safely preserved this way. Each hot, sterilized jar is quickly filled and sealed before another one is filled.

The remaining recipes we have given use the water-bath method. A water-bath canner is a large kettle with a cover and a rack or metal basket to keep the jars from resting on the bottom. The kettle must also be deep enough so that the water will cover the tops of the jars for one or two inches without boiling over.

The water-bath method is a way of processing foods at a temperature of 212°F. This method is recommended for high-acid fruits, tomatoes and pickled vegetables.

In warm climates, or if storage conditions are poor, butters, conserves, jams and preserves should be processed at simmering (180°-185°F.) temperature for 10-12 minutes in a water-bath canner.

Before starting to can it is important to wash all fruits and vegetables thoroughly. Discard any that are not perfect. You will not get a quality finished product if you don't use quality produce

Follow directions exactly for each step of the canning process. That includes time and temperature directions.

In our directions we have used canning jars with dome lids and separate bands. After food has been processed, let it cool 12 hours. If the dome (center of lid) is down or stays down when pressed, the jar is properly sealed. Store jars without bands in a cool, dark, dry area. The cooler the storage space, the better your home-canned foods will keep.

If jars are improperly sealed, store in refrigerator. Or, if the recipe permits, reprocess, following all sterilizing, filling and processing steps.

We have not used the steam-pressure method, as we have given recipes for pickles and preserves that use either vinegar or sugar or both. In canning low-acid foods such as beans, corn and meats, the steam-pressure method of a pressure cooker is necessary, as this is the only kitchen utensil that supplies enough heat to destroy the spores of bacteria that cause flat-sour, botulism and other types of spoilage.

QUICK SWEET-DILL STICKS

- 1 jar (2 qts.) 3-4-inch high; quality fresh-pack dill pickles, drained
- 2 cloves garlic

- 1 teaspoon dill seed
- 1½ tablespoons mixed pickling spices
- 4 cups granulated sugar
- 1 cup light-brown sugar, packed
- 2½ cups cider vinegar

1. Cut pickles into quarters lengthwise, place in large bowl. Tie garlic, dill seed and pickling spices in piece of thin cloth.

2. In medium saucepan combine 2 cups granulated sugar, ½ cup light-brown sugar, vinegar and spice bag. Bring to boiling, reduce heat and simmer uncovered 10 minutes. Cool.
3. Pour syrup with spice bag over dill-pickle sticks. Let stand several hours or overnight.
4. Put dill-pickle sticks in hot sterilized jars. Leave ½ inch head space. Add remaining sugars to syrup and bring to boil. Remove spice bag and pour the syrup over pickles. Syrup should cover pickles ¼ inch. 5. Wipe tops and threads of jars with clean, damp cloth. 6. Follow steps 6-8 as in All-Seasons Corn Relish, below.

Makes 4 pints

ALL-SEASONS CORN RELISH

- 6½ cups whole-kernel corn, yellow or white shoe-peg, or 4 cans (12-oz. sizes) corn, drained

- 1½ cups chopped celery
- 1 cup chopped green pepper
- 1 cup chopped white onion
- 1 jar or can (4 ozs.) pimiento, drained and chopped
- 2 teaspoons celery seed
- 2 teaspoons mustard seed
- ½ teaspoon crushed red pepper
- 2 teaspoons pure salt
- 1 large clove garlic
- 2 cups quality white vinegar
- 1½ cups sugar
- 1½ tablespoons ground mustard
- 3½ tablespoons flour
- ¾ cup water

1. Put corn, celery, green pepper, onion, pimiento, celery seed, mustard seed, crushed red pepper, salt, garlic and vinegar in 6-qt. kettle or Dutch oven. Bring to a boil, stirring, then let boil 5 minutes, uncovered.
2. In 1-qt. saucepan blend sugar, mustard and flour, then slowly add ¾ cup water. Heat to boiling over moderate heat, stirring constantly. Stir into corn mixture.
3. Bring corn mixture to boiling and cook, stirring now and then, until celery, green pepper and onion are tender.
4. If mixture becomes too thick, add 2 or 3 tablespoons hot water or vinegar. Mixture should be moist, but not soupy. Taste for seasoning; add sugar, salt or vinegar if necessary.
5. Ladle boiling-hot relish to ¼ inch-of-top-of-hot-sterilized jars; wipe off anything spilled on tops of threads of jars with clean, damp cloth.
6. Put sterilized lids on jars, screw sterilized bands tight. As each jar is filled, stand it on rack in a canner full of hot, not boiling, water. Water should cover jars 1-2 inches.
7. Put cover on canner, bring water to a boil, process jars in boiling-water bath 15 minutes.
8. Remove jars from canner. Let cool for about 12 hours. Remove bands, test for seal. Label. Store without bands in cool place. Makes 4-5 pints

TO STERILIZE JARS

1. Check sealing surfaces of jars for nicks, cracks and sharp edges. Wash jars in hot soapy water. Rinse. Wash and rinse lids and bands.

2. Sterilize jars: Place jars in a very large kettle, cover them with hot water and put kettle on to heat. Bring water to a boil and boil jars for 10 minutes. Boil new dome lids and bands 5 minutes. Allow lids and bands to remain in hot water until ready to use.

3. Just before you are ready to use them, remove the jars, lids and bands from the hot water and let them drain briefly on a clean cloth.

CHICKEN 'N' RICE CAMP-STYLE

Make four 14-inch squares of double-thickness heavy-duty foil. Lightly oil 1 side. Place a chicken breast (¼ lb. each) on each oiled square. Or use chicken leg (approximately ¼ lb. each). Combine 1 can (10½ ozs.) cream of mushroom soup, undiluted, with 1 cup instant rice and ½ teaspoon thyme. Spoon rice mixture over the chicken breasts. Seal the packets with double folds. Place on grill 4 inches from hot gray coals. Cook about 40 minutes, or until done, turning once.

Makes 4 servings

ELEGANT PEACH MARMALADE

- 1 navel orange
- 2 lemons
- 1 cup water
- 2 lbs. ripe peaches
- 1 cup chopped maraschino cherries, optional
- 7 cups sugar
- 1/2 of 8-oz. bottle liquid fruit pectin

1. Cut orange and 1 lemon in quarters, remove seeds. Grind, chop fine or blend in blender. Turn into 2-qt. saucepan.
2. Squeeze juice from second lemon. Measure 2 tablespoons into saucepan with the blended fruit. Add 1 cup water and simmer, covered, 20 minutes.
3. Peel and pit peaches. Chop

- very fine. Combine cooked citrus, peaches and cherries. Measure 4 1/2 cups into a 6-qt. kettle or Dutch oven.
4. Stir in sugar. Place over high heat; bring to a rolling boil (a high boil that cannot be stirred down) and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly.
5. Remove from heat; stir in 1/2

- bottle liquid fruit pectin. Skim off foam with metal spoon.
6. Stir and skim for 7 minutes, to cool slightly and prevent floating fruit.
7. Ladle into hot sterilized jars, filling jars to 1/4 inch from top. Wipe tops and threads of jars with clean, damp cloth.
8. Put sterilized lids on. Screw

- sterilized bands on tight. Invert jars for a few seconds, so hot marmalade can destroy mold or yeast that may have settled on lids. Then stand upright to cool.
9. When jars are cold, test for seal. Label. Store in cool, dry place. If seal is not tight, store in refrigerator. Makes 4 pints Zucchini and onions combine in this delicious recipe for Zucchini Pickles, reminiscent of an old-time pickle.

ZUCCHINI PICKLES

- 1 qt. quality white vinegar
- 2 cups sugar
- 1/4 cup pure salt
- 1/4 teaspoon crushed red pepper
- 2 teaspoons celery seed
- 2 teaspoons ground turmeric
- 1 teaspoon ground mustard
- 5 lbs. (5-8 inches) zucchini, unpeeled, cut into 1/4-inch slices
- 1 qt. thinly sliced onions

1. Combine vinegar, sugar, salt, red pepper, celery seed, turmeric, mustard in 2-qt. saucepan. Bring to boil; stir till sugar dissolves.
2. Place zucchini and onions in 6-qt. Dutch oven, pour vinegar mixture over. Let stand 1 hour, stirring occasionally.
3. Bring zucchini-onion-vinegar combination to boiling, reduce heat and simmer 3 minutes. Stir occasionally.
4. Continue simmering while quickly packing one hot sterilized jar at a time. Fill to within 1/4 inch of top, making sure vinegar solution covers vegetables.
5. Wipe off anything spilled on tops or threads of jars.
6. Follow steps 6-8 as in 'All-Seasons Corn Relish, opposite. If, after testing for seal in step 8, the seal is not tight, open and empty jar. Re-sterilize jar, lid and band; boil contents, refill and reprocess. Makes 6-7 pints

Ursula Andress: "American Dining Is Wonderful... Especially When the Food Is Mexican!"

I adore good food! I really do! I don't mind being called a hedonist because to me that is someone who loves the best things in life: good food, beautiful paintings, wonderful antiques and good music. Perhaps I should have lived in another century. I'm very romantic and sentimental.

I always love to eat the food in the country where I travel. American food is fabulous: New York — steak, mashed potatoes with lots of butter and sour cream inside, or sweet potatoes, corn muffins, pork roast and turkey! I love all the basic American foods, but I prefer the simpler foods the most. What I'm really mad about and can't get in Europe is Mexican food. So whenever I come to America, I just wait for Mexican food: tacos, tamales, chiles rellenos, enchiladas, either beef or chicken. And most of all, guacamole! I acquired my taste for Mexican food when I lived in California.

The presentation of food is so important: how it's served on the plate. You have such beautiful napkins and place settings in America! A table looks so gay with flowers, napkins and the coloring all around.

I love to cook for someone I care for, but I couldn't cook every day. I also like someone to cook for me, too. I like to entertain in small groups, because I love to be with people you know you can talk to. I can cook anything from goulash to pasta with beautiful sauces, especially Bolognese, made with fresh herbs and fresh tomatoes.

My kitchen in my new house on Ibiza [a tiny island off the coast of Spain] is so beautiful! The refrigerator and the stove just went out, and both are brand new. The generator burned them out. But the kitchen still looks gorgeous! It's all-white, with Mediterranean-blue tiles on the floor and counters.

The meat on Ibiza is not too good, but the lamb is fantastic. Though it really hurts me, be-

By Ursula Andress
as told to Helen Dorsey cause you see the lambs every day in front of you alive and wandering all over the place. The chickens are fresh from the farmers, and every day the fisherman brings the freshly caught fish into your house.

I spend a lot of time in the house on Ibiza because it's still being built and there's something going wrong every day. But I love that kitchen with all its copper pans everywhere.

The house is mostly for my family. My father's going to live there, and my sisters and my brother come down often to vacation. We're always cooking indoors or outdoors, whatever you want!

Ursula, whose latest movie is "Red Sun," presently lives on the island of Ibiza. Most of the island's meats get a poor rating, she feels — except for the lamb.

URSULA'S GUACAMOLE CON TOMATE (Avocado Dip with Tomatoes)

- 4 fully ripe California avocados
- 1/4 cup mayonnaise
- 1/4 cup minced onion
- 1 tablespoon salt
- 2 teaspoons chili powder
- 1 teaspoon garlic powder
- 1/2 teaspoon Tabasco
- 3 tablespoons lemon juice
- 2 medium tomatoes, peeled and chopped

1. Halve avocados lengthwise, twisting gently to separate halves. Lift pit out gently with fork. Peel avocado halves; then mash the meat (or blend a few seconds in electric blender).
2. Mix with mayonnaise, onion, seasonings and lemon juice. Chill thoroughly. Garnish with tomato. Makes 12 servings

BEEF TACOS

- 2 pkgs. (15 1/2-oz. size) frozen heat-and-serve beef tacos
 - 2 fully ripe California avocados
 - 1 small head iceberg lettuce, shredded
 - Additional lettuce for garnish
1. Prepare beef tacos according to the package directions for crisp tacos.

Three of Ursula's favorite dishes: guacamole, beef tacos and pork-and-bean pot.

URSULA'S SPAGHETTI WITH BOLOGNESE SAUCE

- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1/4 cup finely minced onion
- 1 lb. boneless sirloin, cut in 1/4-inch cubes
- 1 lb. mushrooms, peeled and chopped
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1 ripe tomato, peeled, diced
- 1/4 cup sherry or cognac
- 1/4 cup Brown sauce (recipe below)
- Salt
- Freshly ground black pepper to taste
- 3 qts. boiling water
- 8 ozs. spaghetti or other pasta of your choosing
- Grated Parmesan cheese

1. Melt butter in large saucepan over low heat; add onion, sauté 5 minutes. Add beef, brown well. Add mushrooms, garlic, tomato, sherry and brown sauce, mixing well.

2. Cook over low heat 35 minutes, or until meat is tender, stirring occasionally. Add salt, pepper to taste.

3. Meanwhile bring water to rolling boil, add 1 tablespoon salt; gradually add spaghetti so that water continues to boil. Cook spaghetti uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

4. Serve immediately with hot Bolognese sauce. If desired, sprinkle liberally with freshly grated Parmesan cheese.

Makes 4 servings

BROWN SAUCE

- 1/4 cup butter
- 2 tablespoons minced white onion
- 2 tablespoons chopped carrots
- 1 tablespoon chopped celery leaves
- 4 sprigs parsley
- Few leaves fresh thyme, cut up
- 1/2 cup all-purpose flour
- 2 cups beef stock or bouillon

1. Melt butter in saucepan over low heat; add minced onion, carrots, celery leaves, parsley and thyme. Cook 5 minutes; add flour, blend.

2. Gradually add beef stock and continue cooking over low heat until thickened, stirring constantly.

3. Strain brown sauce through fine sieve.

2. Meanwhile, halve and peel avocados as directed in recipe for guacamole. Place peeled avocado halves cavity-side down and cut into fairly thick slices.

3. To serve: Open hot beef tacos gently and fill with the avocado slices and shredded lettuce. Arrange on platter and garnish with lettuce.

Makes 4-6 servings

PORK-AND-BEAN POT

- 3 cans (1-lb. size) pork and beans with tomato sauce

1. Add to taste: dark-brown sugar or molasses, lemon juice and good spicy catsup.

2. Place in heavy covered pot in preheated 250° F. oven for 1 hour. Garnish with crumbled bacon.

BEEF ENCHILADAS

- 2 large tomatoes, peeled and chopped
- Dash of sugar
- Small clove garlic, pressed
- 1/4 cup shortening
- 1/4 cup tomato sauce
- 1/4 cup freshly ground black pepper to taste
- 12 tortillas, fresh, frozen or canned
- 1 large onion, minced
- 1 lb. ground lean beef chuck, cooked and crumbly
- 1/4 cup grated mild cheese
- Oregano to taste
- Lettuce wedges
- Tomato slices

1. Combine tomatoes, sugar, garlic; sauté over low flame in 2 tablespoons shortening for 5 minutes. Add salt, pepper.

2. In separate skillet, sauté tortillas in the remaining shortening (add more shortening if you need it), turning tacos to brown on both sides.

3. Drain; place about 1 1/2 teaspoons tomato mixture in center of each tortilla with some minced onion and meat.

4. Roll each tortilla up, jelly-roll fashion; place in greased baking dish.

5. Top with grated cheese, oregano; place in hot oven to melt cheese. Serve with lettuce wedges and tomato slices.

Makes 12 servings

Lemon Breeze

A breeze to make: No baking. Creamy, crunchy and cool. Here's the easy way:

- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/4 cup regular margarine or butter
- 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon (optional)
- 1 cup Kellogg's® Corn Flake Crumbs

- 1 1/2 cup bottled lemon juice
- 1 1/2 tsp. unflavored gelatin
- 2 eggs, separated
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 1 can Borden Eagle® Brand Sweetened Condensed Milk (not evaporated milk)

1. Measure the 1/4 cup sugar, margarine and cinnamon into small saucepan. Cook over medium heat until mixture begins to bubble, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Add Corn Flake Crumbs; mix well. Reserve 2 tablespoons for topping. With back of tablespoon press crumbs mixture evenly and firmly in bottom and around sides of 9-inch pie pan to form crust. Chill.

2. In small saucepan, combine lemon juice and gelatin. Place over low heat and stir until gelatin is dissolved; cool.

3. In mixing bowl, beat egg whites until foamy; gradually add the 3 tablespoons sugar. Beat until stiff and glossy. Set aside.

4. Beat egg yolks in mixing bowl until thick and lemon colored. Stir in Sweetened Condensed Milk and gelatin mixture. Gently fold in egg white mixture. Spread evenly in Corn Flake Crumbs crust. Sprinkle top with reserved crumbs. Refrigerate 2 hours or until firm. Cut into wedges. Yield: 8 servings.

TOMATO MARMALADE

- 5 cups (1½ lbs.) ¼-½-inch pieces firm, red peeled tomatoes
 - 1 large navel orange
 - 3½ cups sugar
 - ¼ teaspoon pure salt
 - ½ teaspoon ground ginger
 - ½ teaspoon ground nutmeg
 - 1 stick cinnamon
1. Wash, scald, peel and chop tomatoes into ¼-½-inch pieces before measuring.
 2. Slice orange into very thin slices. Cut slices into fourths.
 3. Combine tomatoes and orange in 6-qt. kettle or Dutch oven. Cook over low heat until tomato juice runs freely; then increase heat and boil, uncovered, until orange peel is fork-tender. Takes 8-10 minutes.
 4. Add lemon juice, sugar, salt, ginger, nutmeg and cinnamon stick and boil rapidly, stirring often, until liquid spreads very little when spoonful of hot marmalade is dropped onto a chilled saucer.
 5. Begin testing after mixture has boiled 15 minutes. Do not overcook; 15-17 minutes should do it.
 6. Quickly skim off foam and ladle boiling-hot marmalade to ¼ inch of top of hot sterilized jars. Wipe off anything spilled on tops or threads of jars.
 7. Put sterilized dome lids on jars; screw sterilized bands tight. As each jar is filled, stand it on rack in canner of hot, not boiling, water. Water should cover jars 1-2 inches.
 8. Put cover on canner, bring water to a boil. Reduce heat and process jars 10 minutes in simmering (180°F. to 185°F.) water bath.
 9. Remove jars from canner. Let cool for about 12 hours. Remove bands. Test for seal. Label. Store without bands in cool place.

Makes 2 pints or four ½ pints

HODGEPODGE RELISH*

- 2 cups washed, 1½-inch-thick sliced cucumbers
- 1 cup washed, trimmed, 1½-inch pieces green beans
- 1 cup washed, peeled, 1½-inch carrot sticks
- 1 cup washed, 1½-inch celery sticks
- 1 cup washed, quartered, small green tomatoes
- 2 cups washed, 2-inch cauliflowerets
- 2 cups chopped onions
- 2 cups coarsely chopped red peppers

- 1 hot red pepper
 - 1 cup pure salt
 - Water
 - 3 tablespoons mustard seed
 - 2 tablespoons celery seed
 - 1 teaspoon ground mustard
 - 1 teaspoon ground ginger
 - 2 cups sugar
 - 5 cups quality white vinegar
1. Turn vegetables into non-metal bowl. Add salt, mix well and cover with ice-cold water (takes about 4 qts.). Let stand 12-18 hours; refrigerated. Stir several times during first hour, or two to be sure salt hasn't settled at bottom of bowl.

2. Drain vegetables. If too salty, rinse in cold water and drain again. Set aside.
3. Put all remaining ingredients into large kettle. Heat, stirring, for 3 minutes.

4. Add the drained vegetables; simmer vegetables until heated through. If more liquid is necessary, add mixture of boiling ½ vinegar and ½ water.
5. Spoon hot relish to ¼ inch of top of sterilized jars. Wipe tops and threads of jars with clean, damp cloth.

6. Put sterilized lids on jars; screw sterilized bands tight. As each jar is filled, stand it on rack in a canner full of hot, not boiling, water. Water should cover jars 1-2 inches.
7. Put cover on canner, bring water to a boil, and process jars in boiling-water bath for 15 minutes.
8. Remove jars from canner. Let cool for about 12 hours. Remove bands, test for seal. Label. Store without bands in cool place. — Makes 5-7 pints

APPLE CHUTNEY

- 2 qts. peeled, sliced, tart, hard-ripe apples
- 1 cup grated or finely chopped onion
- ¼ cup chopped crystallized ginger
- ½ cup chopped candied orange or grapefruit peel
- 1 pod chili pepper, seeded and chopped, or ½ teaspoon crushed red pepper
- 3 large cloves garlic, finely chopped
- 3 cups sugar
- ½ teaspoon ground ginger
- ½ teaspoon ground allspice
- 2 cups red wine vinegar or cider vinegar
- ¼ cup Worcestershire sauce
- 2 teaspoons pure salt
- 1½ cups raisins
- 1½ cups lime juice

1. Cut apple slices into 2 or 3 crosswise pieces. Drop apples into a nonmetallic container of brine made by dissolving 3 tablespoons salt in 2½ qts. cool water. Cover container and refrigerate for 2 days. Apples will discolor and shrivel a bit.
2. Put all ingredients except brined apples into a large kettle. Bring to boiling and boil rapidly uncovered, stirring often, for 20 minutes.
3. Add well-drained apples and boil gently, uncovered, until mixture thickens; stir occasionally. Mixture should be neither dry nor soupy. Taste for seasoning, add sugar or salt if desired.
4. Keep chutney boiling as you fill hot sterilized jars. Pour boiling chutney to ¼ inch of top of sterilized jars.
5. Wipe off anything that is spilled on tops or threads of jars with a clean, damp cloth.
6. Follow steps 6-8 as in Hodgepodge Relish, above. If, after testing for seal in step 8, seal is not tight, open and empty jar. Resterilize jar, lid and band; boil contents, refill and reprocess.

Makes 3 pints

Collectors' Classic

Vichyssoise, The Queen of Cold Soups

Vichyssoise originated from the creative hand of master chef Louis Diat. This recipe uses an up-to-date method of preparation, but retains the French nuances of flavor.

HINTS FOR SUCCESSFUL VICHYSOISE

1. Slit side of leeks with point of knife and rinse under running water to remove all sand.

2. Cooking leeks, onions and potatoes in chicken broth improves the flavor.

3. Use fresh, cold cream and milk.

4. Refrigerate immediately after making.

5. Chilling thickens the soup. Be judicious when adding milk at the end, so soup remains on the thick side.

6. Always serve in chilled bowls.

7. The traditional garnish of chives adds a colorful, fresh flavor accent.

VICHYSOISE

4 tablespoons butter or margarine
4 leeks, white part and 1 inch of green, washed and sliced

1 medium onion, sliced

5 medium-sized Idaho potatoes
(6 cups peeled and sliced)

3 cans (13 3/4-oz. size) chicken broth

Salt

Ground white pepper

2 cups heavy cream

Chopped chives

1. In 6-qt. Dutch oven, heat butter until melted. Add leeks and onion, and sauté over medium heat, stirring frequently, for 10 minutes.

2. Add potatoes, chicken broth, 1 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon white pepper. Bring to boiling, cover. Reduce heat slightly and allow to boil about 20 minutes, until potatoes are very tender.

3. Puree leek-potato broth mixture 2 cups at a time in blender until very smooth. Pour into 3-qt. bowl.

4. Stir in milk and cream, and heat with wire whisk. Cover, refrigerate several hours or overnight, until thoroughly chilled.

5. Beat with wire whisk just before serving. If too thick, beat in 1/4-1 cup cold milk. Taste for seasoning; add additional salt and white pepper if desired.

6. Ladle into chilled bowls. Sprinkle each serving with 2 teaspoons chopped chives. Serve cold.

Makes about 2 1/2 qts.

"Daddy, What Sport Can I Play And Remain a Lady?"

By Barry Abramson

Elegant French dessert. Easy American recipe. Secret Hawaiian ingredient.

Brown sugar makes the difference. You'll find that chocolate becomes super-chocolate when its flavor is deepened and enhanced with pure cane brown sugar from C&H. That's the secret of this super recipe for CHOCOLATE MOUSSE.

1 pkg. (6 oz.) semi-sweet chocolate bits
½ cup C&H Golden Brown Sugar, firmly packed
4 eggs, separated
1 teaspoon vanilla
Brown Sugar Cream
Sliced almonds

Combine chocolate, water and sugar in top of double boiler. Heat over simmering water till chocolate is melted. Beat till smooth. Cool. Beat egg yolks with vanilla; stir into chocolate mixture. Beat egg whites till stiff. Fold chocolate mixture into egg whites. Spoon into individual serving dishes. Chill 3 hours. Serve topped with Brown Sugar Cream sprinkled with almonds. Makes 6 servings, ½ cup each.

Brown Sugar Cream.
Whip 1 cup of whipping cream with 2-tablespoons of C&H Golden Brown Sugar until stiff.

Billie Jean: "This sport needs more pizzazz."

Wimbledon champion Billie Jean King is known as the organizer of the "Women's Lib Movement." The outspoken, controversial, bespectacled Mrs. King had long criticized the moguls of U.S. tennis for downgrading the female matches in tennis tournaments and for awarding the women champions a much smaller share of the prize money than the men got. Largely as a result of her efforts, the women organized their own pro tour (under the sponsorship of Virginia Slims), and last year, Billie became the first female athlete to earn over $100,000 in a single year. She considers herself the world's best player and is frankly critical of any sportswriters' poll that gives the honor to anyone else.

At 28, she kiddingly refers to herself as "The Old Lady of Tennis," but proved there's still life in those "old veins" by defeating both Chris Evert and Evonne Goellagong, the two youngsters who have challenged her reign, in the recent Dallas tournament. She defeated Miss Goellagong again at Wimbledon.

Daughter of a Long Beach, Calif., fireman, Billie Jean grew up as a tomboy who could outrun and outthrow every boy in her grammar school. At 11, she asked her dad what sport she could play and still remain a lady. He told her to try tennis, and she learned the game on the public courts. She won her first tournament six months later and was soon on her way to world acclaim as U.S. champion at Forest Hills and as seven times finalist at Wimbledon.

As a graduate of the public courts, she has criticized the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association for stressing the country-club atmosphere in tennis and has been a leading force in "democratizing" the game. She's also called for more spectator displays in the sport. "We should encourage fans to scream or boo if they like, just like in baseball and football," she says. "This sport has had too much stuffiness and protocol. It needs more pizzazz."

Billie Jean helped put her husband, Larry, through law school and saw him only infrequently when he was at school and she traveled the world. He now accompanies her often, however, as attorney for the women's tour group and attorney for Tennis America. She and Larry are active in a program to set up free clinics for young tennis players in low-income areas. "They don't have to play in fancy shorts," she says. "Let them come in old jeans, but let them play and enjoy!"

ARTHRITIS

Plain Talk about a Painful Subject!

YOU undoubtedly have heard of many so-called "cures" for the pains, tenderness, and stiffness of arthritis and rheumatism. The plain truth is there is yet no known cure!

But now, there is something you can do to help you better live with your problem.

What Is Arthritis?

Whether it's called "arthritis" or "rheumatism," it means practically the same thing... "inflammation of joints or surrounding muscles and tendons."

Inflammation which can give you an aching back, stiff neck, sore knees, painful elbows, hands, or fingers; that can make it more difficult for you to move around freely, comfortably... that can interfere with your work, your sleep, your life.

Anyone can get arthritis; regardless of age or sex. It can strike early in life; or later. It Often Hurts! occurs among rich and poor. Among all races. In every climate. In all sorts of weather.

There are many types of arthritis and rheumatism; ranging from the mild aches and pains of "Fibrositis" to the more difficult "Rheumatoid-Arthritis" and "Osteo-Arthritis." The symptoms of each kind are different. The treatment for each must be different, too.

What To Do About It?

Only a doctor can diagnose your specific arthritic or rheumatic condition; as well as the proper treatment to control it. In certain cases, he may prescribe powerful drugs. For less acute cases, he usually recommends the regular use of simple analgesics (like aspirin).

But, for extra relief and soothing comfort, many doctors today recommend an external rub to supplement your regular internal medications. So, that you can lessen your feeling of pain; increase your range of motion.

Until recently all well-known liniment, ointment, and cream rubs contained merely an anti-inflammatory ingredient (like Methyl Salicylate) to help reduce the pains and discomforts resulting from tender, inflamed joints. These were all right as far as they went. But, they didn't go far enough!

Great News!

For years, science sought to develop an external rub that would not only help relieve pains caused by inflamed arthritic joints; but would also temporarily desensitize tender nerve endings that transmit pain. What's more, one that would be absorbed more effectively through the 7 layers of skin.

Finally, such a remarkable formula was created! A deep-penetrating spray-foam combining "Methyl Salicylate," the best known external pain reliever; together with "Benzocaine" the quick-acting, medically-approved anesthetic. A famous New York hospital tested this formula... proved it most effective for 4 out of 5 who tried it!

Now, you can get this very same medicated foam formula. And you need no prescription.

It's called "EXOCAINE!"

In most cases, this remarkable extra-action medicated foam gives fast, dependable relief from discomforting muscular stiffness, and its cruel, nagging pains - up to hours at a time!

Relief At Your Fingertips

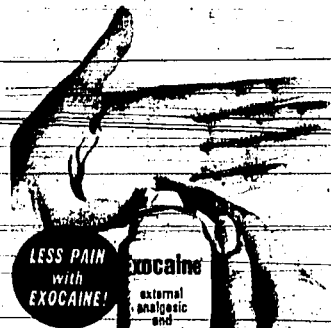

Painful Hands?

Today, thousands of grateful men and women agree that living with their arthritic flare-ups is no longer such a painful experience; that EXOCAINE's combined analgesic and anesthetic action gives them the extra relief and comfort needed to move around more freely, more comfortably; to work better, sleep better, feel better!

EXOCAINE is not a smelly liniment! Not a greasy cream! Not a messy ointment! Not a watery spray! But a greaseless, stainless, and fragrant aerosol foam. Convenient and easy-to-use Day or night!

For fast "on-the-spot" relief, just spray and rub in EXOCAINE where it hurts. That's all! While there is still no cure for painful joint inflammation of arthritis, EXOCAINE (together with your usual medications) can do a great deal to lessen your arthritis discomforts and pains... to increase your comfort and freedom of movement.

Of course, no medication works perfectly for all who use it. But in 4 out of 5 cases, EXOCAINE has proved its remarkable effectiveness in providing welcome relief and extra comfort for the transitory stiffness and pains caused by tender inflamed joints.

"What A Relief"

Everywhere EXOCAINE has been introduced, reports are enthusiastic... "Thanks to EXOCAINE, my husband and I now get hours of extra relief - move around more comfortably." "EXOCAINE sure is different than any ointment or lotion rub I ever used. What a joy!" "I've been taking aspirin for years, as my doctor told me. But now I find by also rubbing in EXOCAINE, whenever I get a flare-up, my shoulder pains start to subside much more quickly." Knees?

With such public acclaim and unsolicited testimonials, why let the discomforts and minor pains of arthritis joint inflammation needlessly interfere with your work, your sleep, your life.

IRINA MARKISH

The eternal triangle, 1970's-style

The story's beginning to have a familiar ring: Boy meets girl; boy falls in love with girl; callous Russian officials step in and do their darndest to mess things up. First it was Debbie Bruckman and Valerie Kreniniov, the American girl and her Russian husband who, after months of separation, were finally reunited and are now living on Long Island. Then followed a series of only slightly less celebrated "love stories"—including that of Irina Markish and her Russian husband David. Irina and David tried to get a visa to move to Israel. Russian officials gave Irina an okay, but refused to let David join her. Seven times they refused. Finally, after firing off a number of letters of appeal, including one to Mrs. Richard Nixon, Irina set up residence on the sidewalk outside London's Soviet Embassy. When last seen, she was still convinced that love could conquer all—even Communist bureaucracy.

If you think male pantyhose are a running joke, maybe you'd better take a closer look. One manufacturer who turned them out in quantity says they sold in a trice—women bought them for their husbands. (No one knows whether the men wore them.) They are a must, insists the manufacturer, because the new fall men's knit suits—marvelous for their good looks and for keeping their shape—let the breezes through. Conservative males may prefer old-fashioned long johns under knit trousers, to combat the cool, but pantyhose provide all the warmth with half the weight. Would it help you shy fellows if they renamed them he-hose?

REP. PAUL McCLOSKEY

"He looked honest and sincere"

"There is apathy in our democratic process, and ignorance. My most dismaying revelation came as a result of a poll we took after... the 1967 congressional election in San Mateo County, Calif. Of the cross section of some 52,000 souls who voted for me, the response indicated that five percent voted for me because of their agreement on issues; 11 percent disagreed with me on issues but voted for me because of personal friendship, my background, or persuasion by their friends; and 84 percent didn't know what my positions on issues were, or what my background was. When queried as to why they had voted for me, they responded either 'He had the best chance against Shirley Temple-Black' or 'He looked honest and sincere on television.'" From "Truth and Untruth: Political Deceit in America" by Rep. Paul McCloskey, Jr. (Simon & Schuster, $2.95).

ARMOUR'S ARMOURY

By Richard Armour

I note, as I turn through our scrapbook,
To the end from the very beginning,
That all of us seem to be cheerful,
And mostly we're clowning and grinning.

Yes, everyone's friendly and happy,
Contented and nicely adjusted.
Not once does a face have a frown on
Or a look that is pained or disgusted.

We all seem to love one another,
There's never an ill-tempered lapse.
It's a scrapbook—and yet not a photo
To help us remember our scraps.

Said the old pro to the two lady club members who approached him on the practice tee: "Do you want to learn to play golf, ladies?"
"She does," replied one of them. "I learned yesterday."

READ FULL DETAILS OF THIS LOW COST FAMILY PROTECTION ON THE FOLLOWING PAGES ►

Now you can insure yourself and your wife with a policy guaranteed renewable up to age 70...and even your children ages 15 days to 23 years can be covered and guaranteed the right to convert up to $20,000 coverage when age 23. But you must send in application within 30 days

The Family Life Insurance Plan is so good and so inexpensive for the amount of coverage you get, that you probably have some questions. We've put all the answers down here in black and white... for Family Weekly readers so you won't miss the enrollment deadline. (See especially the Questions and Answers on pages 6 and 7 of this booklet.)

The Family Life Insurance Plan is a low cost, high protection insurance plan offered up to now only to association members and employees to add to their regular group life insurance... but you can apply now without joining a group. This plan was designed to fill one and only one insurance need: to provide low cost, high benefit protection for your loved ones. Up to $20,000 of insurance to be purchased by you, the breadwinner of the family, to provide money for your survivors, not for yourself. The Family Life Insurance Plan does just this while it also allows you to insure your wife for up to $20,000 — and all your eligible children for $1,000 each, no matter how many, for one low premium. All of this protection at rates so low that you can't afford not to cover the whole family.

Why Term Insurance is Best For You!

It provides maximum coverage and the lowest possible cost to do the primary job that life insurance is intended to perform... protection for your loved ones in the event of the untimely passing of the primary family provider.

The Family Plan is Term Life Insurance so straightforward in concept and explained so fully in this booklet that it is the only type of life insurance we recommend buying this easy, low cost way, through the United States mail. And you can apply right from this Family Weekly booklet, but you must mail the application within 30 days. Better yet, do it today!

10 DAY NO-RISK MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE

When your Family Life Insurance policy arrives, examine it in your home. Show it to one of your trusted advisors. And if for any reason you change your mind, just return your policy to us within 10 days and we'll refund your money at once.

During this limited enrollment period you the readers of Family Weekly can apply for yourself and all eligible members of your family. All you need to do is completely fill in and mail the short application with your first month's coverage before the 30 day deadline. It's that simple. And, there's no risk with our 10-day Money Back Guarantee! When you receive your policy, you'll find it direct and easy to understand. Your own coverage is then in effect: your family's coverage will begin 31 days after yours if the premium notice you'll receive is paid by then.

You're Eligible to Enroll Up to Age 60!

You and your wife under age 60 are eligible to apply for up to $20,000 life insurance each. $10,000—$15,000—$20,000 for yourself. $5,000—$10,000—$15,000—$20,000 for your wife. Plus you can add coverage for all of your eligible children. All your children from 15 days to 23 years old — no matter how many — can be included for one low additional premium of only 60¢ a month for $1,000 coverage; $1.20 for $2,000 coverage. When child coverage is in force, future children are covered automatically when they reach 15 days old at no increase in premium.

Guaranteed Convertible Without Proof Of Insurability!

You and your wife, anytime up to age 65, can convert your Family Life Insurance Plan coverage to the same or smaller amount of Ordinary Life Insurance, without any proof of insurability whatsoever. Your children are guaranteed the right at age 23 to convert their coverage to Ordinary Life Insurance for as much as 10 times their coverage under the Family Life Plan regardless of their health or occupation and without any physical examination or proof of insurability ($10,000 if they have $1,000 coverage.)

Policy Cannot Be Cancelled Except by You

Once issued to you, your policy can never be cancelled except by you and your premium schedule can never be changed. However, to keep your policy in force, you must pay your premiums promptly when due. And you can continue to renew your policy until you're 70 years old without any proof of continued good health.

Only One Exclusion

Even the one exclusion, suicide, is temporary and is covered only two years* after each person's coverage begins.

Here's All You Do to Apply

If you're under age 60, just complete the short, easy Application Form on the back page of this booklet and mail it within 30 days. We'll process your application just as quickly as possible and issue the policy covering your own life as soon as your Application is approved.

How Can Rates Be So Low?

The answer is simple. The Family Life Insurance Plan was created for association members and employees to supplement their regular group life insurance. But now National-Ben Franklin is offering the same plan for mass enrollment of Family Weekly readers throughout the United States. Through mass enrollments, costs are kept very low and you get the most protection for the lowest possible rate.

NOW—JUST ASK YOURSELF THESE QUESTIONS

1. If you're self-employed, do you provide as much life insurance protection for yourself as you would expect if you worked for someone else? Your family protection needs may be even greater because of your higher standard of living. You can use our plan to provide this added protection.

2. Will you still have your present coverage if you change jobs?

You need to be sure you and your family are protected at all times. Our plan does not depend on where you are employed—it continues when you change jobs.

3. Have you increased your life insurance in the past two years?

Prices of everything (as well as your standard of living) keep rising, and coverage adequate a few years ago, just may not be enough today.

4. Does your group life or other insurance also cover your wife?

Money can't replace the love she gives to the family, of course, but money can help care for the children and your home if she isn't there.

5. Does your group life insurance also cover your children? Are you making sure your children will be able to get life insurance when they start out on their own?

Conditions of health could change so that your children are no longer insurable. This way they're guaranteed protection up to $20,000 each when they are age 23!

If you answered "NO" to any of these questions, you and your family may need the low-cost, high benefit protection of the Family Life Insurance Plan that covers you and, if you wish, your wife and your children for one low monthly premium. To get these low family rates for your wife and children, however, you must also be insured under the plan.

You Risk Nothing

Even if you change your mind after you receive your Family Life Insurance Plan, just return your policy to us within 10 days of the time you receive it, and NBF Life will promptly refund the money you've paid.

So you risk nothing by applying today. But if you delay, your health conditions (or a family member's) could change suddently and make it difficult or impossible to get life insurance anywhere, at any price.

Mail Application Today

Please mail your application today so your protection can begin just as soon as possible.

When you receive your policy, you'll see that it is simple, direct and easy to understand. Read it carefully and show it to a trusted advisor to make sure it's exactly what you've wanted and needed. If you change your mind for any reason whatsoever, simply return the policy within 10 days of receipt and your money will be refunded promptly.

PLEASE REMEMBER: This is a Special Enrollment—the Company may open other enrollment periods at a later date but we can only accept this application form if it is postmarked within the 30 day deadline. Please don't wait until the last moment. The sooner we receive your application form, the sooner you and your family can be protected by The Family Life Insurance Plan. With our money-back guarantee, you risk nothing by mailing your application today.

1. Who is eligible to apply?

Anyone between 18 and 60 years of age who's in ordinary good health. Wives under age 60 and children from 15 days to 23 years can also be included for very little additional cost. New additions to the family are covered automatically when they're 15 days old at no additional premium when child coverage is in force. However, you must be insured in order to cover your wife or children.

2. How much can I apply for? My wife? My children?

You can apply for up to $20,000 life insurance on yourself (the minimum is $10,000 but you can choose $15,000 or $20,000). You can add coverage for your wife in the amount of $5,000; $10,000; $15,000; or $20,000. And you can add $1,000 protection for each of your eligible children — no matter how many — for one low premium.

3. Why such low rates?

By mass enrollment throughout the country, sales costs are held to the barest minimum with savings passed along to you in lower premiums.

4. Is there any red tape?

None at all. Just answer each of the simple questions on the Application on the back page of this booklet and mail it with your first month's coverage before the deadline. That's all there is to it.

5. Can I convert to Ordinary Life Insurance?

Yes — Ordinary life insurance accumulates cash value, but of course has higher premium costs. You may convert to the same or smaller amount of your coverage anytime up to age 65 without proof of insurability.

6. Can my wife convert her coverage?

Yes — Anytime regardless of her health or occupation and without any physical examination, up to her age 65.

7. Can my children convert their coverage?

Yes — Your children are guaranteed the right at age 23 to convert their coverage to an amount up to 10 times coverage under the Family Life Plan. This can mean $10,000 or $20,000 of Ordinary Life Insurance regardless of their health or occupation and without any physical examination.

8. Can my insurance policy ever be cancelled?

No — However, to keep your policy in force you must pay premiums when due. NBF Life guarantees renewability up to age 70 without any proof of continued good health.

9. Can my rates be changed?

No — Renewal rates will always be those shown on the chart on page 5 and in your policy.

10. Why do I need this coverage if I have other insurance?

Ordinary life, annuity or other plans providing for retirement income are fine depending on what you want your insurance to accomplish. For pure protection however, this is the buy for you! And if your present insurance is group coverage, it probably doesn't cover your wife and children. Plus the fact that if you should lose your present job, your family might be caught without protection until you could join a new group plan in your new position.

The Family Life Insurance Plan rates are so low! to cover your wife and only 60¢ a month more to cover all your eligible children, that you can't afford not to insure them as well.

11. How much do I pay each month?

You pay only what is listed on the monthly rate chart on page 5 for your age and the coverage you want, for your wife's age and coverage desired and for the children's coverage. There is also a small payment fee of 50¢ for any payment plan other than annual.

12. Is acceptance guaranteed?

To keep rates low, anyone age 60 or over or with a serious health condition cannot be accepted. Nor can anyone answering "yes" to Question 7 on the application, regarding replacement of existing insurance. Also your children age 23 or over cannot be covered under the children's coverage, but may fill out an application of their own.

13. Will my beneficiaries receive their money promptly?

Yes — We act promptly, many are paid by return mail.

14. Will the money be all theirs? What about taxes?

All theirs! Lump sum life insurance death payments are not subject to income tax.

15. How do I apply?

It's very simple. Just complete the Application Form on the back page of this booklet and mail it by the deadline with your first month's premium — only $1 for your own personal coverage. We'll process your application as quickly as possible and the policy on your own life will go into effect as soon as it is approved and issued. Your family's coverage will begin 31 days after yours if the premium notice you'll receive is paid by then.

16. Why should I apply now?

Because The Family Life Insurance Plan is only offered to the general public during limited mass enrollments. And this is your opportunity to get the additional protection you need at these low monthly rates previously offered only to association members and employees. Besides, your health or the health of someone in your family could change without warning and make it impossible for you to get all the protection you need and want.

Since there's a full money-back guarantee if you change your mind within 10 days after you get your policy, you risk nothing by applying now. And your protection and your family's protection can begin as soon as possible.

17. Why should I select National Ben Franklin for my Family Life Insurance Plan?

Because National Ben Franklin, a 120-year old company, is licensed in your own state, regulated by your own state's insurance department and carries full legal reserves for the protection of all insureds. It is a member of The Continental Corporation, one of the world's largest and most respected insurance groups.

18. What one exclusion is there?

Only suicide, and even this is covered only two years* after each person's coverage begins.

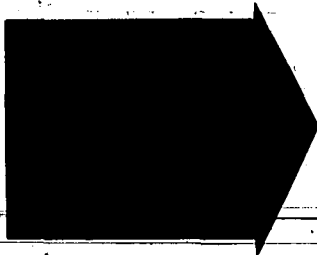

19. Who should I list on the application form?

We recommend you include every eligible member of your family, you and your spouse under age 60 and your children ages 15 days to 23 years of age. The premium for family coverage is so low you can't afford not to have the added protection.

*One year in Colorado, North Dakota & Louisiana.

Presidents' Message:

We extend to all our publics a sincere thanks for your role in the development of the College of Southern Idaho.

The phenomenal growth of the institution attests to the genuine need for educational and vocational experiences beyond the high school. We have attempted and we feel successfully, to provide a stimulating array of educational experiences. The courses and programs offered include not only self-education and job improvement areas, but also those designed to enable a person to more fully enjoy his leisure time. The expanding use of the physical facilities truly make the College the center for all kinds of cultural and educational activities for the people of Magic Valley.

The latest addition to our physical plant is the completion of a Career Education Building. An open house is planned for this facility in the early fall. It will initially house the following curricula; Agri-Business, Peace Officer Training, Distributive Education, Consumer Education and Food Service Technology.

We extend to all of you a sincere welcome to your College, THE COLLEGE OF SOUTHERN IDAHO.

Sincerely,

James L. Taylor

CSI PHILOSOPHY AND PURPOSE

The College of Southern Idaho endeavors through academic, vocational-technical and adult education programs to provide every person in the Magic Valley an opportunity to develop skills, attitudes and understanding necessary for effective living in a democratic society.

Magic Valley is most fortunate to have the College of Southern Idaho located in the area. This fine institution has added so many things to the field of education, as well as to the cultural aspects of Southern Idaho.
Opportunities are provided by the College of Southern Idaho for young people and adults to increase their knowledge in many subjects as well as in arts, crafts and vocations.

The constant growth and expansion of the college is almost unbelievable and is definite proof of the need for a Comprehensive Community College in the Magic Valley.

We recommend the board of Trustees, the President Dr. James L. Taylor and the entire faculty and staff for a most outstanding job.

Ray Rostron, Manager

Right At Home . . .

COLLEGE OF SOUTHERN IDAHO

Has the Facilities, The Curriculum, And the Faculty

To enable a student to prepare his or her future without leaving Magic Valley

Preparation, that's the word.
The student can do just that right here at home, And the best part of all is that the money saved by enrolling at C.S.I. will enable a student to have the money needed to complete his education at some other institution of higher learning.

PCA financing IS modern farm financing

Production Credit — through your local PRODUCTION CREDIT ASSOCIATION — is a system of financing designed to provide the American farmer with exactly the kind of credit he needs for all his farm operations — all his short and intermediate term credit needs.

Instead of just a "loan", PCA provides you with a complete "package" designed to give you the money you need — at a cost that is both reasonable and realistic — together with the benefits of a vast amount of knowhow based on a continuing program of agricultural financing research. You enjoy the advantages of skilled, trained counsel from people who know both farming and financing — a versatile loan program tailored to your specific needs based on a study of those needs to assure you that you will receive enough money to see it through to a successful conclusion. In addition, PCA is set up to provide you with whatever financial assistance you need as your single source of short and intermediate term credit.

THE COST Regardless of the amount of money you require, PCA uses the lowest-cost way of computing interest. This means the cost of your PCA loan is as low or lower than the prevailing cost of money in your area for such purposes.

THE "PACKAGE" Following your applying for a loan, a PCA representative will visit you at your farm and sit down with you and go over your needs. Together you will work out the best possible approach to solving your problem, or meeting your requirements. Working together in this way, you receive the benefit of the experience, knowledge and training of a farm agricultural specialist. He will not "dictate" terms or methods to you or attempt to tell you how to run your farming operations. What he will do is to offer you the benefit of his knowledge to help assure maximum benefit from your loan and maximum profits for you.

THE PROGRAM PCA offers you a variety of loan programs — SHORT TERM — INTERMEDIATE TERM — PRODUCTION LOANS — BUDGETED LOANS and others, each set up for a specific purpose and designed to do a specific job.

EVERYONE'S TALKING ABOUT IT! ... WE'RE DOING SOMETHING ABOUT IT! Check the "Wind Chill Chart" below. Extra copies are available at your PRODUCTION CREDIT ASSOCIATION office.

You "feel the cold" more and can be injured by it more when the wind is blowing. This chart shows the equivalent temperatures resulting from increased wind velocities. Find the current temperature on the top line. Move down the line to point opposite the present wind velocity. This is the equivalent temperature under such wind conditions.

GREAT OLYMPIC MOMENTS

A brilliant collection of 17 medals capturing great moments in Olympic history. An exclusive offer from Bottlers of Coca-Cola.

Berlin, Germany, 1936. The Olympic Games with 120,000 people in the stadium. Jesse Owens, a young athlete from Ohio State, wins the 100-meter dash, the first of four gold medals he was to win in the 1936 Olympic games. It is a Great Olympic Moment!

The history of the Olympic Games is filled with such moments—Bob Mathias, Don Schollander, Johnny Weissmuller, Peggy Fleming, and many more. And now many of these moments have been captured in a distinctive collection of 17 commemorative medals offered by Bottlers of Coca-Cola.

Limited Offer

Each of the 17 medals is a beautiful, enduring commemoration of an Olympic triumph. Struck by The Franklin Mint, the world's foremost private mint, in your choice of aluminum...solid bronze...or solid sterling silver.

The aluminum medals are struck with an excellent mint-quality finish and come ready for mounting on a special die-cut board suitable for framing. The bronze and silver medals are struck with softly frosted relief against a mirror-like background. The bronze medals come with a protective, transparent display case complete with walnut base for table top display, while silver medals come with a handsome walnut collector's chest complete with plastic cover to protect the medals from dust and tarnish.

With every set of medals you will receive a colorful booklet giving historical details, facts, figures and photographs of the great athletes featured on the medals.

Your family will treasure this collection for generations. But, to acquire it, you must act now. This offer is good for a limited time only and the dies for the designs of these medals will be destroyed after this offer expires.

Bottled under the authority of The Coca-Cola Company by:

Net Proceeds go to the United States Olympic Fund to Help Send Our Athletes to the 1972 Olympic Games. It's the real thing. Coke.
